Pinch Being Felt As GM Strike In Fourth Day

Michigan Hardest Hit but Other Units Of UAW Are Laid Off

DETROIT (AP) —The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

More Layoffs

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,99 8 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the strike, almost 16 per cent of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufacture parts vital to other automakers. However, since G M is its own parts plants' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production.

Welfare authorities in Oakland County, just north of Detroit, announced they are setting up a special office to deal with strike-related hardship cases. In Pontiac, the county seat with a population of 83,000, there are 27,000 GM employes on strike.

Use of Troops Is Promised

MADISON (AP) — National Guard Troops will be mobilized, if necessary, to insure that the University of Wisconsin campus remains open this fall, top-level state, local and school administrators have resolved.

"We have spelled out a master plan to cope with any eventuality," said a spokseman for acting Gov. Jack Olson, who held two closed door meetings on university security measures Thursday.

Ready for Trouble

"If trouble comes, we're more prepared than ever before," the spokesman told the Associated Press. "We've learned a lot the hard way in the past."

Olson called Chancellor Edwin Young, Madison Police Chief Wilbur Emery, UW Campus Police Chief Ralph Hanson and National Guard personnel into meetings to discuss steps that would be taken should trouble arise before or on the opening of the fall term Monday.

Knowles Hunting

Olson is acting governor in the absence of Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who left Wisconsin Thursday to hunt antelope in Wyoming.

It was agreed at the meeting that Chief Emery would once again be in charge of law enforcement personnel on or off campus.

National Guardsmen have been mobilized three times in the past two years to help maintain order on the Wisconsin campus or at the nearby state Capitol.

'Purely Anticipating"

The spokesman for Olson said the meetings Thursday were "purely anticipatory" of possible trouble.

"We have no reason to believe or suspect that there will be an attempt to disrupt at this time," he said. "That's because the SDS Students for a Democratic Society, Mother Jones and the weathermen haven't had time to shake down the student body yet."

New Proposal Looks Familiar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Cong's "new" eight-point peace plan has a familiar and unacceptable look to Washington officials.

Under the enemy offer, presented in Paris Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Nguyen Thi Binh, Saigon's Thieu-Ky government would be replaced and the United States would have to promise to get its troops out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

In return, the Viet Cong would refrain from attacking the withdrawing allied troops and would discuss future peace arrangements including release of prisoners.

U.S. authorities here and in Paris have agreed to scan the Binh proposal carefully for any possible new openings. But in general, they said, it appears to be a retread of past offers.

Although a Viet Cong spokesman said the plan contains new points, the text received here showed Mrs. Binh herself described the material only as an elaboration of the Viet Cong's previous 10-point proposal.

Officials here noted the enemy already had proposed a time limit for U.S. withdrawals. Last December the enemy offered a six-month limit.

The 10-point plan and other North Vietnamese-Viet Cong proposals have provided for negotiating a prisoner release after the fighting ends. And ouster of the Thieu-Ky regime is standard fare in enemy demands.

U.S. officials said the American ambassador at the Paris peace talks, David K. E. Bruce, is willing to talk with Hanoi-Viet Cong envoys about any point they may put forward as part of unconditional discussions.

But the United States, they said, will not accept such demands as conditions for the beginning of serious peace negotiations.

Thus, the prospect for progress toward a negotiated end to the Vietnam war does not appear any brighter now than when the Paris talks began 2½ years ago.

Cease-Fire Order Given In Jordan

Temporary Halt Intended to Let Rebels Surrender

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Field Marshal Habis Majali ordered the Jordanian army to observe a temporary cease-fire today to give guerrilla forces an opportunity to surrender without further bloodshed.

Majali's statement was broadcast by Jordan's official radio from Amman, the capital.

The cease-fire order came in the second day of sharp fighting in Jordan. It spread into northern Jordan near the Syrian border during the day. The army claimed it was in control in Amman and the former guerrilla stronghold of Zarqa, 15 miles northeast of Amman.

A military communique said King Hussein's forces controlled 16 Amman districts and were carrying out mopping up operations.

There remained no word about the Wahdat area in the outskirts where 54 hostages from last week's air hijackings are believed held. Neither side has mentioned the hostages in the past two days.

The wording of Marshal Majali's cease-fire order made it clear he was not prepared now to negotiate with the guerrillas on the terms he had offered them on Thursday. King Hussein named Majali to head the Jordanian government on Wednesday. Fighting broke out shortly afterward.

The top guerrilla command rejected Majali's cease-fire offer on Thursday. The terms included acceptance by the guerrillas of an army safe conduct to the front line with Israel, where they could fight "the common enemy."

The broadcast did not state the time limit for the cease-fire.

Guerrilla communiques broadcast by radio stations in Syria and Iraq claimed fighting continued in Amman and elsewhere. Bloody clashes were reported during the night.

Local Cuts, Not Aid Boost Best Curb to Tax Hike

MADISON (AP)—Reduced local government spending, not more state aid, is the best way to curb soaring property taxes, the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin said Thursday.

The survey, a nonpolitcal taxpayers' organization, said state money payments to local governments has "virtually kept pace with property tax collection growth" in Wisconsin.

Since direct property tax relief was instituted six years ago, the survey said, "state aids and shared taxes went up 72 per cent with property taxes rising 76 per cent."

Local officials should curb their own agencies' spending rather than go to the legislature for more state assistance.

"Since the expenditures are the cause of taxes and the degree of the tax burden reflects the rate of spending," the survey said.

Libeled Sheriff Given $20,000

JEFFERSON (AP) — A Circuit Court jury extended a $20,000 damages awarded Thursday to Sheriff Roger Reineil concerning his libel suit against a Fort Atkinson publisher.

The sheriff, citing items published in April, 1969, had requested $20.000 personal damages and and $50.000 punitive damages from John H. Louis, publisher of the Writer Tablet of the Rock River Valley.

The jury ended a three-day trial by awarding Reinel $10.000 personal damages and $10.000 punitive damages.

Policeman Dies in Toledo Shooting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A policeman was shot to death at point-blank range in his patrol car early today and the slaying touched off a six-hour siege by police against snipers in a building housing a Black Panther headquarters.

Teen

One armed teenager was critically wounded in the ensuing exchange of gunfire as he fled the building, police said. Others who fled fired on police from nearby buildings.

One man was arrested and charged with the policeman's death.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier distrubance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner. Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead was Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro innercity area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car, said. "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officer's head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscarmon.

In the ensuing gunfire, several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

They found the building empty.

Officers identified the wounded youth as Troy Montgomery, 16. They said he came out of the building with a rifle in his hand and a bandilio of ammunition over his shoulder.

Police were uncertain how many persons had been in the building and fled during the siege.

John Melvin McClellan, 26, of Toledo, was arrested nearby and charged with murder of Miscannon.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects those firing took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said. "I have a little reason to believe that, but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Release Sought

Shortly before midnight Wednesday about 20 Negroes wearing Black Panther emblems turned up at police headquarters demanding the release of James Dotson.

Police said Dotson was jailed Wednesday night for resisting arrest when traffic warrants were served on him.

Police started to arrest a woman in the group for using abusive language when a fist-fight broke out. Four adults and two juveniles were arrested and the others fled.

Police reported the Panthers had threatened to bomb the police station earlier in the day unless Dotson was released.

Chief Bosch, however, said he did not believe the Dotson incident prompted Miscannon's shooting.

Plea for Big Four Hand In Mideast Expected at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann is expected to urge more Big Four guidance on the Middle East in a speech set for delivery today at the 25th U.N. General Assembly.

Later, the assembly will consider a recommendation approved unanimously by its steering committee Thursday night that it debate the Middle East situation in urgent plenary meetings.

Advance indications were that Schumann would ask the other Big Four nations—the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union—to join France in giving U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring suggestions to pass along to the Arabs and Israelis on how to end the Middle East conflict.

Jarring began indirect peace talks Aug. 25 in New York with Egyptian, Jordanian and Israeli delegates. Israel withdrew from the negotiations on Sept. 6, charging that Egypt had violated an accompanying cease-fire agreement by setting up new antiaircraft emplacements along the Suez Canal.

The United States initiated the talks and is trying to get them started again. The U.N. delegates of the Big Four nations have long been discussing the Middle East situation at private meetings in New York, but emphasis shifted to Jarring's mission after Egypt, Israel and Jordan accepted the U.S. peace-talks initiative.

The last Big Four meeting was held Monday and the next is scheduled Sept. 30.

Diplomatic sources said that at the last meeting, all four diplomats expressed anxiety over the state of the cease-fire, the delay in launching substantive talks through Jarring, and the general Middle East situation, including Palestinian hijackings of airliners.

But mainly, the sources said, the delagates worked on providing guidance for Jarring.

The proposal that the assembly debate the Middle East situation was made by Iraqi Ambassador Talib Al Shabib at the reqeust of Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed Hassan El Zayyat, who is not a steering committee member.

Al Shabib blamed Israel for the worsening situation in the Middle East and said the rights of the Palestinians have been trampled on. He made no reference to the fighting in Jordan between the army and Palestinian guerillas.

The situation in the Middle East has been on the assembly's agenda at every annual session since the 1967 war.

BBC Will Pair Russian Dancers

LONDON (AP) — Natalia Makarova, the Soviet ballerina who defected to Britain this month, will renew her partnership with Rudolf Nureyeve, the British Broadcasting Corp. said today.

Friends said the initiative came from Nureyev, who defected from Leningrad's Kirov ballet nine years ago.

The BBC said negotiations had opened for the two dancer's to appear on a television program later this year. Arrangements have not been completed, but Makarova, and Nureyev are expected to include the Pas De Deux adagio from Swan Lake.

Train Is Derailed In Portage County

ALMOND, Wis. (AP) — Sixteen cars of a Chicago and North Western freight train derailed Thursday night near Almond in Portage County's southern tip.

Authorities said nobody was injured, but railroad traffic was blocked and crews and equipment from Appleton would be called to clear the wreckage.

There was no immediate damage estimate and officials said they did not know what caused the derailment.

Israel May Get New Aid Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Premier Golda Meir conferred with President Nixon today on Israel's developing need for more U.S. support in its conflict with the Arab states—and on the possibilities of starting active peace negotiations with Egypt.

Nixon was prepared to assure the Israeli leader of extensive new U.S. economic assistance and continuing military help. He was also prepared to urge her to get into active peace talks promptly.

Mrs. Meir went to the White House after meeting for almost two hours with Secretary of State William P. Rogers at the State Department.

Seated in gold-colored chairs in the President's office, the two chiefs and two aides on each side posed briefly for photographers as they got into their discussions.

Arab ambassadors in Washington asked and got an appointment with Rogers later in the day.

Although officials said they did not know what the ambassadors want, the assumption is that they want to be briefed on Mrs. Meir's visit.

U.S. officials hoped Nixon's fresh assurance of support would be sufficient to offset Mrs. Meir's concern that Israel had been placed at a severe military disadvantage on the Suez front since the cease-fire went into effect Aug. 8. She has refused to let her representatives engage in preliminary peace exchanges with Arab envoys at the United Nations because of the missile issue.

Charges Backed

The United States has backed Israel's charge that Egypt has violated the military - standstill accord which is part of the cease-fire agreement. Washington has called on Egypt and Russia, which supplies the antiaircraft missiles, to "rectify" the deployment.

But the Nixon administration has refused to say what "rectification" means, and officials here see no prospect that the new antiaircraft emplacements will be pulled back from the cease-fire zone.

Diplomats report Israeli leaders feel they have been let down by the United States.

No Final Decision

The Nixon administration is designing an Israeli aid package, reported to total $400 million to $500 million, but officials say no final decision on exactly what the package will contain has been made. The aid would be given over several years.

It is understood that Israel, which has been under growing economic pressures because of the costs of war, sent the United States some time ago a shopping list of things it needs. The cost: $1 billion over five years.

Substantial American economic assistance to Israel stopped about eight years ago. The United States has supplied military armaments in considerable quantities since that time but they have been sold—not given—to Israel.

Following the 1967 Israeli-Arab war—the six-day war which Israel won—there was a period of quiet until about 18 months ago when Egypt denounced the cease-fire then in existence. Until the new truce went into effect the two countries had been engaged in almost continuous conflict. The cost created a severe drain on Israel's economy.

Charges Rejected

In spite of Egypt's missile deployments in the cease-fire zone —Cairo has rejected charges its activities violated the stand-still agreement—U.S. officials say privately that Israel still has over-all military superiority.

Overshadowing Mrs. Meir's meeting with the President was the new eruption of warfare in Jordan between King Hussein's army and Palestinian guerrilla forces, which, in Washington's view, has a direct bearing on the future of U.S. peace efforts. The Palestinians are opposed to the American peace plan, backed by Hussein, and have declared their determination to smash it. The guerrillas demonstrated their power to defy his authority and to disrupt order by hijacking American, Swiss and British jetliners, forcing them to land in Jordan and making hostages of crew members and passengers.

Over-all, Washington authorities see little hope of a successful Israeli-Arab peace negotiation involving Jordan unless a responsible government in Amman can assert its authority over the Palestinians.

The official view here in advance of Mrs. Meir's arrival was that Israel could not be expected to make a peace agreement with any government unable to enforce it.

Distaffers Show Happiness With Smiles

Tzippora Moraine, 8, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Reuven Moraine, shows her relief at being back in Illinois. The girl had been returned from Amman, Jordan.

Big smiles reflect the joy felt by two girls who this week had special reasons to be happy. One, only 8 years old, is back home in Illinois after a harrowing experience; the other was chosen to reign as Miss America 1971 over 49 other lovely candidates.

Tzippora Moraine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Reuven Moraine, (her father is a research chemical engineer for the U. S. Department of Agricultural in Peoria, Ill.) was delighted to be back home after being returned from Amman, Jordan, where she had been one of the hostages aboard a hijacked plane held by the Palestinian guerillas.

The new Miss America, Phyllis George, was chosen Saturday evening during the 50th anniversary pageant at Atlantic City She began her national reign with a trip to New York City where she was busy making arrangements for her wardrobe as well as making personal appearances on national television programs.

Another woman who had reason to smile was Mrs. George Scott of Rockford, Ill., who is 100 years young. She entered a hospital for the first time in her life last week to have a Pacemaker implanted in her chest to speed up her heart beat. Already back home, she told her doctor she feels 90 once more.

Monday evening the Metropolitan Opera opened its 86th season at New York's Lincoln Center. The cast, who performed Verdi's "Ernani," featured soprano Martina Arroyo, tenor Carlo Bergonzi and baritone Sherrill Miles.

The queen of mystery writers, Agatha Christie, celebrated her 80th birthday in London Tuesday with the publication of her 80th book. The subject the hijacking of four airliners. Written months ago, she called it, "Passenger to Frankfurt."

Phyllis Shantz, Rome, N. Y., took an oath in Washington Tuesday making her the first woman member of the newly - established Executive Protection Service. The uniformed force is supervised by the Secret Service and is charged with protection of the White House, the President members of his family and diplomatic missions in the capital.

Although the rain we had in the Fox Valley Tuesday dampened many plans, members of the Appleton chapter of Sweet Adelines who had planned to join the some 500 choruses across the United States and Canada in dedicating their services to their respective communities simply changed the location for their potluck picnic. Instead of meeting at Sunset Park, Kimberly, they gathered in the basement at Northern State Bank. Later, they joined in song and harmony to complete their evening of dedication.

Predicted Resistance to Midi A Reality Here in Appleton

The hemline controversy rages on here in Appleton, where many retailers are offering to slash skirts to suit their customers' taste.

Mrs. Robert G. Schultz, whose husband is manager of Feminine Apparel Arts, reports that the shop has already shortened 10 midi dresses and plans to continue alterations as long as women register the "Yechh! It's horrible!" reaction.

From a large nationally known department store on College Avenue come similar reports. According to a spokeswoman for the women's wear division, six hems have been shortened, a sizeable figure for the time of year Midi dresses, in general, have not been moving from the racks, she added

For the report from New York in the aftermath of recent fashion showings, see the accompanying article

Even if the midi edges out the mini in cosmopolitan cities this fall, on Mainstreet U S. A hemlines will drop gradually—if at all

At least, that the consensus of leading fashion editors from all over the United States and Canada, following designer showings held in New York recently. Their reactions to the mid-calf midi look were mixed Opinions ranged from the claim that women over 40 look ten years older for every inch below the knee, to that of Margaret Ness, Canadian newspaper woman who is "delighted to see skirts go down."

Oklahoma may be pivotal in deciding the success of the midi. Pat Shockey, fashion coordinator for WKY-TV in Oklahoma City, said that women in the heartland of America are fashion conscious but are also imbued with a spirit of independence. "A greater segment of the public has occasion to wear fashionable clothes, the homes to wear them in and the money to spend on clothes." If the designs are "good" and "appealing," they'll sell. "You are always going to buy what's good." But according to this fashion expert, the showings left her cold. "I have not seen anything that makes me say 'I would like to buy that, or wear it or talk about it.'"

Generally, the fashion experts agreed that the mini "had gone as far as it could go" (one went so far as to label the micro-mini "almost obscene") but they also felt the reversal to mid-calf was too sudden and drastic. Priscilla Parker of WINQ-Radio in Tampa, Fla., believes women will wear the glamorous midi for after-five social occasions, but "for general wear I still think that length is rather long." The comments of Milda J. Sandstrom of WIBW-TV in Topeka, Kans., were even less flattering to the midi. She called it "dowdy ... and aging" and said mature women were "quite satisfied with the freedom of the shorter skirt."

Dorothy Dale, radio commentator of WBET in Brockton, Mass., sees the new length as inevitable. "We're going to have to drop the hemlines whether we like it or not," she said. She added that the midi will probably revive the popularity of millinery as a flattering accessory to the new length.

But in the towns of Pennsylvania the midi will probably be adopted with mini adjustments. Margaret Minning, editor with the Standard-Speaker in Hazelton, said her community has "never been too terribly mini." But she predicts that the "new look" in Hazelton this fall will be about two inches below the knee.

In agreement is newspaperwoman Margaret Ness of Toronto, who states: "I think a lot of the middle-aged women ... are rather pleased with the mid-calf length." Her appraisal of the new fashion ranges from "comfortable" to "flattering."

But perhaps Pat Shockey of Oklahoma voices the indecisions and complaints of many mature women. She states flatly that the new length is much too uncomfortable for the suburbanite who does a good deal of driving. As for the success of the new length, she adopts a wait-and-see attitude. "If you walk through the mark-down racks of any stores in October, you are going to know that the choice has been."

Embryo Transplants May be Next

Babies as well as hearts may be transplants in the future, according to experts in the field of human reproduction.

Research being conducted at the nonprofit New York Fertility Research Foundation and by biologists at Washington State University indicate:

— some babies of the future may come from the womb of a surrogate carrier instead of the natural mother.

— a woman with implanted ovaries may be able to give birth, the biological mother being the donor of the ovaries.

— a woman with tubular damage but normal egg cells can have her own eggs removed, artificially inseminated and then implanted in her uterus.

These innovations may go against current trends to halt the population explosion, but Dr. Martin J. Cluman of the Research Foundation, in an article in the October issue of Good Housekeeping stated, "These previously infertile people should not be denied the right to have children simply because others have too many."

An estimated 3.5000.000 couples in the United States are unable to conceive; another 2,500,000 couples have a female partner who has difficulty carrying a child to term.

It is even possible that embryo implants may become commonplace for the woman with irreparably damaged Fallopian tubes. Dr. Clyman said. These women could have an egg removed, fertilized and then implanted in another woman, who would carry the baby and relinquish the infant at birth.

Some medical experts, including Dr. Kurt Hirschhorn, chief of the Division of Medical Genetics at New York's Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, fear some healthy women may use this technique to avoid the rigors of pregnancy. However, this method will allow the woman who can conceive but not carry a baby because of health reasons the chance to have her own child.

Your Problems

Friend Swears Her Tales of 'Cures' True

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a friend who knows everything. Yesterday she announced at our card club that any illness can be cured by eating certain foods. She went into great detail about "earth remedies" which have baffled medical science for centuries. Her grandmother, she said handed down many such cures. Among the examples, she cited an aunt who was bedridden throwing out all her medicine and eating only leche nuts for two months she returned to her career of teaching ballroom dancing. Her sister, she said, cured herself of cancer by drinking cucumber juice and sleeping in the backyard on an ant hill. Then there was a cousin who got rid of a goiter by wearing a necklace of pennies soaked in olive oil. I could go on but I think you get the idea.

I know this sounds crazy but my friend took an oath on the family Bible that it is all true. What do you make of it? — Can't Figure It

Dear Can't: Nearly every person you talk to can relate at least one story about a "cure" for which there is no medical explanation. I have no objection to anything that works, provided the sick person goes to a legitimate doctor first and steers clear of phonies. Over two billion dollars a year is spent on fake cures. Medical quackery is one of the most lucrative rackets going. My advice is this: If doctors can't help you, try the gimmicks — providing your doc says it can't hurt you. But don't put out any money.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: No lecutures, please. I've lectured myself enough. What I need now is some sound advice — and I don't trust my own judgment.

I entered college at 16 — a super-brainy whiz kid, but dumb as a dodo in the ways of the world. I did the four years in three, graduated in June — with honors. Sounds beautiful so far, doesn't it? Hold the phone. I am five and a half months pregnant. The man is married — age 24, a graduate student whose wife is putting him through. She's the quiet, mousey type with a double set of adrenalins — works two eight-hour jobs.

It's too late for an abortion — so I'm left with two choices: A home for unwed mothers or a Mexican divorce and a quick marriage.

I'm sure I could get my sweetheart to marry me if I turned on the heat. What do you say? — Genius Who Couldn't Count

Dear Genius: Leave the heat alone. Sounds as if you've turned it up too high already.

If you break up this man's marriage you'll regret it. He needs a woman with a triple set of adrenalins — two to put him through school and one to keep him home nights.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 17-year-old son wants to give his 16-year-old girl friend a $50 dress for her birthday. He is working as a life-guard and has his own money. We feel such a gift is inappropriate. He claims we are old-fashioned. For some reason he thinks you "groove" and know where it's at. He assured us if we wrote to Ann Landers she'd agree with him and we would have to eat our words. We have our forks ready. How about it? — Creepy Ma and Pa

Dear Creepy: Hand the silverware to your son. Sorry to disappoint him but I don't agree that a dress is a proper gift from a 17-year-old boy to his 16-year-old girl friend.

Erma Says Greatness Takes Planning

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I have just finished reading "Zelda," the love story of the F. Scott Fitzgeralds. Not only is it the first book I've finished since "Ma and Pa Kettle Visit a Dude Ranch" but it proves an old theory of mine. People plan greatness.

Take ordinary people like you and me. Do we keep daily diaries? Do we hang onto old social calendars? First drafts of our books? Old love letters? Notes to old lovers? Old lovers,for that matter?

The Fitzgeralds left a trail of memoirs that make Hansel and Gretel look like Triple A drop-outs. Authoress Nancy Milford lists 27 pages of resource material.

They left warm, personal love letters deploring their moments apart. (I found a V-Mail in the attic from my husband which read, "Save your fat. It could sink an Axis ship. Ha, ha. Bill.")

They left diaries recording their "holidays with the Hemingways." (I once saw Imogene Coca's feet under a restroom door in Cleveland and couldn't sleep for a week.)

There are scraps and pieces of Scott's books ("The Great Gatsby," "Tender Is The Night," etc.) that were blocked out in orderly from that cried to be saved for posterity. (When I wrote my first book, I outlined it on paper plates because it was the only scrap of paper in the house that hadn't been crayoned on.)

"It's not too late," I said to my husband, "to start assembling little mementos. Who knows? Some biographer someday may want to record the Bombeck love story."

"The book will be smaller than the Wit and Humor of Richard M. Nixon," he snapped.

"I could put in all those funny notes I write to the milkman, and the letters I wrote to the kids when they went to camp, and that classic note you wrote me in psych class just before you asked me to marry you."

"What note? What did it say?"

"It said, 'Got any paper I can borrow?' "

"Oh for crying out loud."

"People like the Fitzgeralds don't just happen," I said. "They're made to happen. From here on in, we throw away nothing. Give me your old orthopedic stocking, your sabin vaccine record, your dental appointment notice, your expired driver's license, your ticket stubs from the ballgame, your old report card, and if you have anything to say that would sound good in a best seller, write me one original letter and two carbons."

Safe Sitting -- It's A Skill

NEW YORK — As summer wanes and dusk descends on carefree vacation and camp days, a mother's thoughts once again turn to baby sitters, and teen-age thoughts once again turn to baby sitting.

Baby sitting may be a part-time occupation for teenagers, but it should be a skilled one. And the mother, can help make it one, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The firm's health and welfare division has some suggestions for moms and dads to give to their baby sitters. By following these reasonable rules and standards, parents and sitters can increase the safety and well-being of children. And a night out can be a less tense, more pleasurable experience for parents, sitter and most importantly the child.

As a parent, a primary concern is finding the right person to care for your child. Know your sitter's qualifications. Has she baby-sat before? Does she have younger brothers or sisters?

Experience Helps

Obviously a youngster familiar with children in her own everybday environment is apt to have more skill and confidence in handling someone else's child.

Once a sitter has been decided upon and if she is unfamiliar to your child, have her visit with him on one or two occasions so that they become acquainted. Both the child's and the sitter's friendliness toward each other will thus be increased manifold.

On a teenager's first sitting experience for you, give her a brief tour of your home, pointing out where to find items of importance . . . your child's clothing, his bedding, first-aid supplies, fire exits, and the like.

Next, fill her in on your child's habits and what instructions she should follow regarding his feeding schedule, bedtime, TV-watching. Your child's needs are different from every other child's, so even if the sitter has watched over dozens of children, tell her what his needs generally are if he wakes up at night, or cries, or appears discontented. Is he hungry? Does he simply want to be rocked back to sleep? Must he be changed? Does he want a light on in his room.?

Age Makes a Difference

Each age of a child represents a different stage in his development. Caring for a five-month old is a far cry from caring for a five-year-old. An infant should be looked in on frequently to see that he is warm enough, covered properly, not burying his head in covers and clothes.

A five year old, on the other hand, will tell what he wants, but his boundless energy and curiosity requires constant attention to avoid his getting into scrapes. No one knows a child better than his parents, so it is up to them to alert a sitter to their child's own particular needs.

Always leave your sitter a phone number where you can be reached. Should you change your whereabouts, call her and let her know. Be certain that phone numbers of your physician, nearest relative or neighbor, police department, fire department, poison control center, if there is one, are always left by the phone should there be an emergency. And remember . . . tell her where the phone is.

Rules should be written out for your sitter in case of emergencies. And never underestimate the importance of repeating to her the necessity for following these rules.

— In case of an accident or apparent illness, have her call you immediately. If you cannot be reached, have her call your physician.

— In case of fire or smoke in the house, the sitter's primary concern is to get the child out of there — fast . . . without even bothering to dress him. First he should be taken to the nearest neighbor. Then the fire department should be alerted. And then you should be called.

— Be certain that your sitter knows never to open the door to strangers. If she hears a strange sound she cannot identify, she should call the police first and you second.

— Make sure your sitter understands never to leave your child alone — even for a moment—no matter what the circumstance. This may seem obvious, but not taking it for granted could prevent an accident or even save your child's life.

Following these simple procedures will make the hours away from home more relaxing, and will give a sitter a sense of confidence in her ability to handle any situation. But most important, it will insure that when a parent returns home he will find his child as comfortable, as at ease and as safe as when he left him.

Our Polluted World and Your Child

Part 2 of 2-Part Series

Last summer my wife, my two youngest children and I escaped urban pollution by emigrating temporarily from the city to a secluded New England lake. The chronic respiratory ailments my children had suffered all winter caused by urban pollution vanished overnight. We had a cottage deep in rural America, where tousle-haired boys dressed in faded blue-jeans still dangle bent hooks tied to a line into swimming holes. Here the rolling hills are sheathed in tall pines and in leafy maples. The valleys are carpeted with lush corn fields. The cattle low contentedly as they amble from the milk shed.

This is the America we remember from our childhood. We want our children to know, to love and to enjoy it. But unless all of us intervene now, before it is too late, it may no longer exist when our children reach adulthood.

The lake near which we lived, serene on the surface, was ringed with sudsy detergents when a summer thunder storm whipped up the water into wavelets. The ground water is polluted. The fish in many lakes are inedible as a result of the mercury with which they are saturated. The sleek cattle in the fields are fattened with bio-chemicals that cause immunities in children against drugs that might help them survive illness. The fruit and vegetables on the vine, on trees and on stalks are doused with DDT and other chemical sprays that increase the yield per acre. But they are also absorbed by our children. We are concentrating poisons in the soil, in the water and in the air, in our wild life, in domestic animals and in children, at a rate faster than nature can dissolve them.

We are answering the problems created by technology and by industrialization by a haphazard use of more technology, instead of conserving what we have and using our resources for human betterment. When I was discharged from the army at the end of World War II I knew about the hazards of DDT. I never allowed its use in my house or garden. My friends accused me of being an alarmist and of resisting progress. That was 25 years ago. Today many of these same friends are resisting new disclosures of threats to our environment. But they have accepted the fact that DDT is dangerous. We don't have another 25 years in which to wait until they awaken to what is now known.

I have never deluded myself that my refusal to use DDT has protected me or my family from its effects. We get it in our milk, meat and vegetables. But I know that I haven't put it there and that, at least to a tiny extent, I have not added to this form of pollution.

We are beginning to hear of cholera and plagues, of drug resistant VD and other scourges that ravage the world once more. We are not immune in the United States. The terror of public health authorities of such epidemics breaking out in the U. S. was illustrated by their concern last summer when a boy scout died of puzzling symptoms at a New Mexico Jamboree.

Your concern for the environment, for keeping America beautiful, will enable your child to live to enjoy it. If you are willing to recognize the threat to your child and if you are interested in his future, you should join existing groups and organizations that are now working to preserve the environment and fight pollution in all its forms. The Audubon Society, the Sierra Club and a host of other small and large associations are dedicated to these ends in the interest of all life on earth and especially on behalf of children. Seek them out. Read their literature and discuss it with your friends and neighbors. You cannot leave it to others to save our country and our world for your child. The crunch is on and the buck stops with you.

THE ACES — ON BRIDGE

by IRA G. CORN JR. TEAM CAPTAIN

The play of a suit that gives declarer a ruff and discard is avoided by average players and hunted by the expert. This is because the ruff and discard is a bad play in the vast majority of cases. On those rare occasions where the ruff and discard is the winning play the expert looks forward to basking in his private shaft of sunlight.

More often than recognized a ruff and discard is the winning play when declarer has no side suit losers to discard and the play results in a trump promotion position for the defenders.

Today's hand demonstrates how partnership co-operation and technique resulted in a trump promotion position.

Opening lead: King of clubs.

West opening lead of the club king was unusually aggressive. This is particularly true since he has a nice conservative lead of the heart queen. However, if we had a conservative West in today's hand, you wouldn't be reading about ruffs and discards.

West continued clubs and East cashed his ace and queen. On the third club West discarded the queen of hearts.

The play of the queen in this type of defensive situation carries a definite message. It denies the king but promises a good enough heart holding to afford the discard of the queen (Q-J-10, Q-J-9).

It was now time for East to put on his thinking cap. The defense had taken three club tricks and would probably take another trick with the diamond king. Two more tricks were required to defeat the contract. West's play in hearts excluded the possibility of any tricks in that suit. What else was left?

The trump suit! Since there was no way to manufacture any trump tricks by leading trumps ( if the defenders had natural trump tricks coming, they would get them in time, a trump promotion position might be possible by leading another club. This hope would be fulfilled if West's spade holding included the queen and provided South hed at least three diamonds (else he would simply discard his diamond loser, while West ruffed).

With everything to gain and nothing to lose, East led the fourth round of clubs, rendering South helpless. West ruffed the club with his trump queen. West now either had to score the queen or promote East's J-10-9 of trumps if North overruffed with the ace. The defense took two spades, one diamond, and three clubs to defeat the contract one trick. Note that if East-West do not defend in precisely his manner, South will have time to insure the contract by playing the ace and king of trumps.

National Hadassah Leader To Open Chapter Season

Mrs. Edward H. Lewis

Mrs. Edward H. Lewis, longtime volunteer leader of Hadassah on the local, regional and national levels, will be guest speaker Tuesday, when the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah opens its 1970-71 season with a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. at Moses Montefiore Synagogue.

Mrs. Lewis was elected a national vice president in 1968 and has just been appointed national fund-raising chairman for the Hadassah Medical Organization, which annually raises $6 million for its projects in Israel.

As national education chairman, Mrs. Lewis won the commendations of President Zalman Shazar and former Prime Minister David Ben Gurion in 1965, when she initiated the idea of Hadassan Bible Tours of Israel.

Under her direction, Hadassah produced a new series of study guides that today are used by many organizations and universities all over the world, as well as Hadassah.

Personally familiar with Israel, Mrs. Lewis first visited the country as a member of the Hadassah Leaders Tour and laid the cornerstone of the Anne Frank Haven Beersheba. Since 1959, she has traveled to Israel five times, once in 1958, to attend the first Hadassah Mid-Winter Conference held there.

Mrs. Lewis' appearance will mark the chapter's first program under the presidency of Mrs. Sumner Richman. Assisting her will be Mrs. Don Garelick, vice president; Mrs. Jack Weiner, treasurer; Mrs. Ronald Agronin, secretary, and Mrs. Keith Fry, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Stanley Hamilton, past chapter president and immediate past president of the Great Lakes Region, has been elected to the National Board of Hadassah to serve on the National Service Committee.

Re-Sew Buttons to Survive Tough Life

Re-sew buttons on new school clothes so they can't be easily pulled off by the children or in the laundry. Use regular cotton mercerized thread, doubled. Make a strong thread shank or stem by leaving about a fourth of an inch space between the underside of the button and the garment. Finish by winding the thread tightly around these strands.

Thousands in Valley Sign POW Petitions

Chambers Collect Signatures

Petitions carrying thousands of names of Fox Cities residents are being collected by chambers of commerce today as the state organizes for a united plea to Hanoi in behalf of American prisoners of war

The chambers received word Thursday from the Greater Wisconsin Foundation, the administrator of the petition drive, that the Sept. 18 deadline for collections is being extended through next week, Wonderful Wisconsin Week.

However, chambers are collecting petitions from banks, businesses and individuals. They reported this morning that they had several hundred names and were expecting thousands more

The Kaukauna Chamber of Commerce, which has a "special interest in this campaign" because of Eugene DeBruin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeBruin, route 4, Kaukauna, missing since he was captured in Laos in 1963, had over 500 names counted in the office about 10 a m "It appears we may have over 3,000" still to count, Mrs. Harold Frank, chamber secretary, said.

957 Signatures

Appleton's chamber had counted 957 signatures at 11:30 a.m. but still had to collect a few petitions from businesses and other places in the city

At Neenah - Menasha, "we have about 100 in now in round figures but we hope for thousands," said Miss Mary Margaret De Clercq, executive assistant. She said the chamber would collect until Friday, Sept. 25

The petitions were to be returned to the local newspaper, radio or television station, or chamber by this morning These agencies were to report to the governor's office on the number of state residents who have signed.

The petitions say the signers urge the North Vietnamese government to free all American prisoners of war and, in the meantime, treat them humane, release their names, allow them to write and receive mail and permit inspection of prison camps by appropriate international agencies.

Appleton High School-East band members revealed their concern for their environment as well as their expertise as musicians Saturday night at the Green Bay Packers - Buffalo Bills preseason game. The 200-member band offered a look at pollution as they performed during halftime. The drum section, above, waits for its signal while the pretty girls display the appropriate signs. # Interstate System Cost Outagamie $1.37 Million in '69

From the standpoint of car owners in Outagamie County and in the three neighboring counties, how costly an undertaking has the 42,500-mile Interstate Highway System become?

How much are they contributing at the present time to the construction costs through gasoline taxes and other auto-use taxes?

During the past year, based upon the latest figures, those in Outagamie County forked up no less than $1,373,000 Those in Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago counties paid a total of $2 283,000

That is the amount that went to the federal government It is exclusive of the auto taxes collected by the state

The revenue went into the Highway Trust Fund, which takes care of 90 per cent of the cost of construction. The states pay the other 10 per cent

The heightened interest in the highway program is due to the battle now going on in Washington over moves to divert some of the money to such needs as railroad passenger service, urban mass transit and other transport problems.

Some Congressmen feel that the nation's priorities no longer call for the spending of the $5 billion or so collected each year solely for new highways.

Under the current federal tax on gasoline (4 cents a gallon) and the special taxes on tires, tubes and accessories, the average Outagamie County car owner is paying about $30 a year into the trust fund.

That is the amount incurred for a car that travels 10,000 miles a year and gets 14 miles to the gallon.

The overall cost for the 45,750 passenger cars in operation in Outagamie comes to $1,373,000 a year

One of the matters before Congress at this time is the future of the highway program, which is due to expire in 1972. Originally begun in 1956 at an estimated cost of $41 billion, it now is expected to reach $75 billion or more and to require at least six years more to complete

Bigger Program

Far from agreeing to a slowdown or limitation of the work, state highway officials and others are urging that an even bigger program be embarked upon They are asking for more attention to the development of local road systems

If Congress extends the life of the program, as presently constituted, for another six years, Outagamie car operators will be contributing an additional $8.235,000.

A breakdown of costs from other Valley counties reveals that Calumet, with 10,210 cars paid $306,000 in 1969 and by time the Interstate System is completed, this will climb to $1 8 million.

Waupaca County paid $470.000 in 1969 with 15,650 cars on the road. The total project cost will be $2 8 when completed.

Winnebago County has many more automobiles in operation, 50,220, and much greater cost in 1969, amounting to $1.5 million The additional cost to completion of the proposed system will be $9 million.

Local Firms To Appraise Courthouse

Outagamie County officials have decided that local appraisers will, after all, be acceptable to appraise the courthouse and annex

A $12,000 estimate from two out-of-county firms to do the job was a clinching argument in that decision

The appraisals had been ordered by the County Board to establish a price as a basis for negotiations in the county's attempt to sell the courthouse to the city.

Ouside appraisers were suggested to eliminate any potential complaint of local bias on the part of resident appraisers.

County officials originally estimated it would take about three days to do an adequate appraisal at $100 per day for each of two appraisers

No date has yet been set for a meeting between the two governmental bodies although Appleton city officials have indicated the earliest they could meet would be Oct. 5.

On the courthouse sale issue rests the county's latest plans for building a new courthouse complex at the county farm, a decision arrived at last month after the board again changed its mind on the safety building

Drug Session Planned for Kaukauna Freshmen, Faculty

KAUKAUNA — The faculty and freshmen of Kaukauna High School will explore the legal, medical and social aspects of drug use in sessions next week

According to Program Coordinator Robert Pfister, faculty members will meet from 8 to 11 a m Monday in three one-hour sessions Students will report for classes at 11 a m that day Wednesday, freshmen will report at the regular time, to attend seminars until 12 30 p m.

Pat Kelly, representative of Alcoholism Services of Neenah, Menasha, at Theda Clark Hospital, will speak the first faculty hour He will treat alcohol as an abused drug

Lt Dean Ball, Kaukauna police department and former city juvenile officer will speak the second hour and show a film film.

Legal aspects of drugs, and their implications for teachers, will be discussed by District Attorney James Long, or a representative from his office, during the third hour of the program

This session is aimed at helping teachers know their rights and responsibilities when students drug users confide in them

Authorities, according to Pfister, think a first step in dealing with school drug abuse is educating the teachers, to make them aware of the problem and what can be done about it "Although the three-hour seminar will not answer all questions or solve all problems, it can be an important first step," said Pfister.

The freshmen seminar will be divided into seven 36-minute periods, each featuring a different aspect of drugs. Freshmen in groups of 60 or 70 will advance through all seven sessions in round-robin style

Films will be shown and questions answered in sessions. Legal aspects of drug abuse will be discussed by Sheriff Calvin Spice, a representative of the district attorney's office, and a representative of the local police department in another session.

Members of the school guidance department will discuss the school's role in drug abuse and Dr. George Behnke, city health officer, and Lyle Vandenberg, local pharmacist, will moderate a panel on medical aspects of drug use. Freshmen have each already submitted three questions which were compiled and given to all moderators to answer at the session.

Official hope, according to Pfister, that the seminars will provide students the information needed to make decisions involving drugs.

Faculty members assisting with the program are Larry Otto and Bernard Hupperts, instructors', Fred Barribeau, Jerry Kroll, Mrs. Betty Nigl and Mrs Jane Haynes, guidance, and Principal Walter Schmidt and Assistant Principal Marion Leisering

Theft Ring Cracked With 3 Arrests

Multi-State Operation Included Fox Valley Area, Police Reveal

Police agencies have cracked a theft ring believed responsible for the theft of merchandise valued at $100,000 from Outagamie County, 15 other Wisconsin counties and several other states in the past several years

Sheriff Calvin L. Spice this morning termed it "the largest theft ring that has operated in this area to my knowledge since I've been in law enforcement" (Spice has been in police work 23 years)

The sheriff's department, in connection with Appleton police and the district attorney's office, have taken three individuals into custody already, with more arrests to be made in the next several days

Authorities would not divulge where the suspects are being held this morning, though it is possible that one of them may be arraigned late this afternoon in Outagamie County Court

Spice said this morning search warrants for the stolen merchandise, including furniture, snowmobiles, camper trailors, school property and motor vehicles, were issued on Wednesday.

Items Recovered

Several thousand dollars worth of the material has been recovered already, the sheriff said, with more expected to be discovered shortly.

Arrest warrants reportedly have been issued for several individuals here and in other states, it was learned.

"Our police did a very good job in a tedious, difficult investigation," Dist Atty James R Long said today

Spice said that it was in the process of investigating many theft complaints that the ring was uncovered. "As a result," he said, "theft and robbery complaints dating back several years have been cleared

"We expect court appearances on several individuals involved within the next several days, in our county and several others," he said.

Criminal charges sought against the various individuals involved includes, besides theft, armed robbery and concealing stolen property.

Authorities refused to mention names and places, but this information is expected to be given out as the investigation, already in progress for several months, continues.

Is City Garage Place for Dogs?

Whether to continue allowing dog shows to be held in the Appleton Municipal Garage has become a bone of contention on the City Council

Ald. George Reynolds (7th) referred back to the Streets and Sanitation Committee Wednesday the committee's recommendation to permit one more Winnegamie Dog Club regional show next year, then end the practice Reynolds believes the show should go on in future years

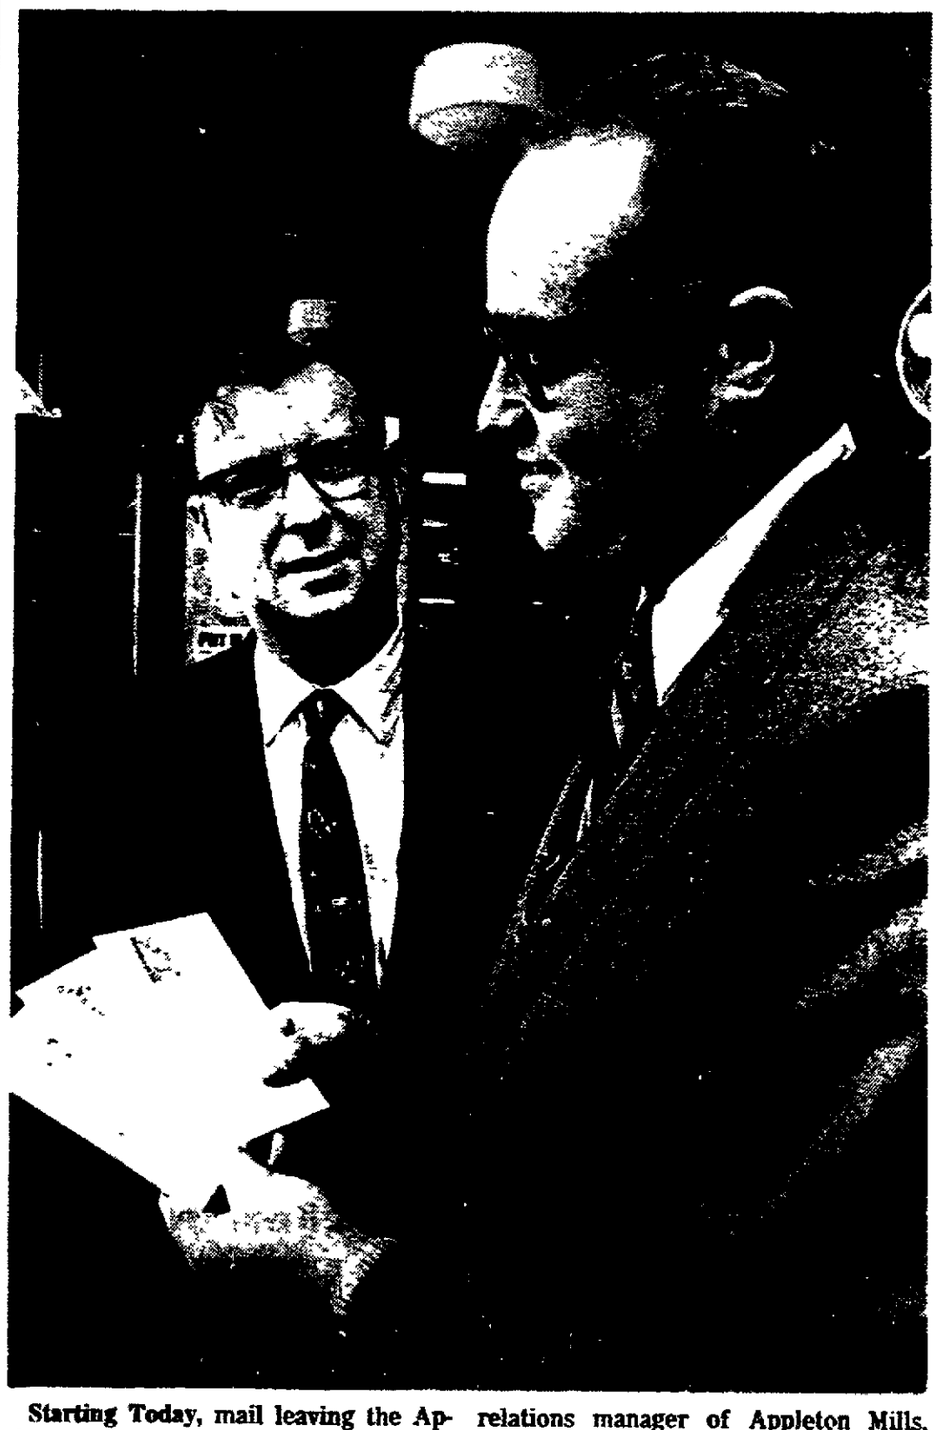

Public Works Director Robert Miller disapproves even the 1971 show, saying his department loses two day's work moving equipment out and back into the garage and giving up the building on at least one working day.

The club offered to pay city employes at time-and-one-half to work Sunday putting equipment back in, but Miller said the money won't buy back the lost time He added that last year city equipment couldn't get off the grounds if an emergency had arisen, because of cars parked surrounding the garage for the show.

The club has held its last two annual shows in the Appleton facility, after outgrowing the Menasha City Garage where the events were previously held for several years.

Club officers and some aldermen consider the event a benefit in prestige and economic returns for Appleton. Miller didn't disagree but told the committee that fails to explain why his department should be host.

The issue points to the area's need for some sort of convention center or arena, he said, after club officers said they have searched with success for another show site with adequate space and facilities.

No Formal Applications

Written Housing Inquiries Welcome

The Appleton Housing Authority Thursday called upon elderly residents of the city to write to the Authority if they are interested in living in the city's low-rent apartments when the $2 3 million project is completed next spring

Authority President Leon Jensen said either elderly residents themselves or their friends or relatives should direct letters to the Appleton Housing Authority, Morgan School Administration Building, 120 E Harris St., Appleton, 54911

Letters or postcards should list the names and addresses of persons interested in applying, Jensen said

The Housing Authority will file the names and next April will mail formal applications.

Rough Guidelines

At present, the Authority is unable to take formal requests because rules that will determine what persons are eligible to occupy the building haven't been worked out with the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

As a rough guideline, the Authority has been told persons having $10,000 to $12,000 or less in assets and having yearly income of $3,000 in the case of individuals and $3,500 in the case of couples will probably be eligible The minimum age is likely to be 62 years for individual applicants, and for the head of the household in the case of couples

It is emphasized that the personal assets, income and age figures are only tentative, and actual limits must be set in the coming conference between Housing Authority and HUD officials They expect to meet in late anuary or early February, Jensen said It will be April before formal application forms are mailed out however

Ready June 1

The 10-story apartment building at Oneida and Pacific streets is expected to be complete about June 1 It contains apartments for single occupants and for couples

The Authority has received numerous inquiries about the project, and there has been considerable confusion among elderly citizens, many of whom have reportedly been led to believe applications already have been taken.

Authority members stressed that so far there haven't been any applications accepted, and that the letters now being requested are only to give the authority an indication of the number and identity of applicants to expect next April.

Housing Unit To Prepare Ordinance

Neenah Authority Emphasizes Need For Council Backing

NEENAH — The first step to get the show on the road for a low rent housing project must be the city council's acceptance that there is a need for the housing plus authority by the council to proceed in planning, members of the city's housing authority pointed out Thursday night.

Leo Pfister, who was named chairman of the authority during the group's organizational meeting, said that this action by the council is one of the stipulations for obtaining federal aid for housing.

Sept. 30

However, members of the group decided to look at the resolution during its next meeting on Sept. 30 before it is presented to the council.

The housing authority, which has been dormant for two years, was reactivated in August when Mayor Roman Hauser made new appointments to the group. Thursday was the first meeting.

Named vice chairman was Walter Chrapla who questioned putting a resolution before the council when all the facts in support of a low rent housing would not have been collected.

Hauser pointed out that the resolution would be very broad, and would not be committing anyone to low rent housing, but it is a necessary step.

Work on the housing has been done during the past year by the city's community relations — social development commission, headed by Pfister.

Full-Time Man

The commission had recommended last June that the city hire a full-time executive to coordinate and handle the plans and applications for low-rent housing. But action on this was delayed because of the reactivation of the housing authority.

Hauser said last night that the housing authority group should do a lot of "field work" before coming up with the recommendations to the council.

However, Hauser pointed out, the group should be thinking of what expenses they will have during the 1971 year in order for the costs to be included in the budget. This means that the group should know about possible expenses in October when the budget is worked on.

Realtor of the Year for 1970 named by the Appleton Board of Realtors is Norman R. De Broux, center, sales manager for Steinberg-Robertson Agency. His selection was announced at the Realtors' annual meeting Thursday. With him are Prof. George Smalley, left, of Lawrence University, dinner speaker, and Herman C. Rodencal, president of the board. # Oshkosh Bus Drivers Back As Council Approves Subsidy OSHKOSH — City transit line buses were back in operation here today after a mid-afternoon walk-out of drivers Thursday. And a city subsidy for bus operation next year was promised by councilmen who voted 4-2 for the measure last night.

Action by the council was subject to a professional audit of the bus company books to establish the necessity for financial assistance.

Councilmen and A. G. Oswald, bus company president, deplored the action of bus drivers. It left a load of deaf children in downtown Oshkosh. Jacob Kaufmann, president, Independent Transportation Employes Association, said stranding of the children was inadvertent. They were dismissed a half hour earlier than the rest of the 2,000 children the transit line hauls five days a week.

Councilmen approved a resolution indicating they are prepared to include a subsidy of up to $12,000 in the 1971 budget. Funds would be used to make up any deficit to $6.25 an hour for six buses the company operates. The hourly figure is the amount the bus company requires to stay in business, according to company officials. The resolution provides for payments upon receipt of monthly statements.

As adopted, the resolution was amended from a $20,000 maximum proposed. Councilman Robert Moser said the total will be subject to review at budget time, together with the results of the audit.

Oswald has advised the council that the company has been losing money for the past several years. He had requested assistance this year but was advised earlier that no funds were available.

Kaufmann reminded the council that a resolution of intent will still require a vote of five councilmen to include funds for the subsidy in the 1971 budget. The drivers need those jobs, he said.

Councilmen who supported the subsidy resolution said they consider bus transportation a prime necessity for the city.

Councilmen Hugh Carver and Valeria Sitter, who voted against the measure, advised the company to raise its rates and meet its own revenue needs.

"Being against the subsidy means I'm against stealing," Carver declared. "This is a private business operating to make a profit." He called the subsidy "a travesty of justice."

Mrs. Sitter suggested that Oswald organize a cooperative company to fund the continued operation.

Other business at the lengthy session included a decision to retain the city's small Menominee Park animal display despite efforts by an organized group to phase out the caged animal section.

Taxes, Laws, Confuse Planning of Terminal

OSHKOSH — The decision before the aviation committee — build the new terminal building with the conventional general contractor method or use the construction management system — has opened two bags of cats.

One is the question of municipal exemption from state sales taxes; the other is whether the construction management system conforms to state statutes requiring competitive bidding.

Sales Taxes

The state Association of General Contractors (AGC) stoutly maintains that the construction management system does not conform to statutes and that sales taxes can't be avoided under either system.

Construction management goes to subcontractors directly rather than through a general contractor. Thus, it avoids paying the general contractor's profit. Job supervision is handled by a specialist in construction management. and he is hired like a consultant.

The committee has a proposal from Charles Meyer to manage the construction of the $1 million terminal for $50.000. Meyer claims the method will save about 5 per cent of the cost.

The AGC is fighting the spread of the management system generally and Meyer specifically. Representatives of the AFC and its point of view appeared before the committee Wednesday, and will appear again Monday.

According to corporation counsel Gerald Engeldinger, the 4 per cent sales tax could be saved, but it is the method that gives problems. The state department of revenue has ruled that the tax is on the purchaser of materials.

If that is a municipality, no tax. Neither Neenah nor Menasha pays sales tax on materials and equipment they buy in normal business. For special projects, such as the airport, there is a hassle.

Bill Contractor

If the municiaplity buys the material, it has to handle the paper work and then bill the contractor. Engeldinger is considering a method which would have bidders list all materials, the margin of profit and then the sales tax. Low bidder would be in the best position to get the work.

The municipality would buy the materials and take a credit against the contractor for the purchase plus sales tax. Engeldinger was in favor of legislative acion to make clear municipal exemption.

Bid Statutes

On the question of conformance to bidding statutes, Engeldinger said that he had not yet made a formal recommendation but he has told the committee to decide the merits of construction management vs. general contractor on non-legal factors.

"It is more important for the committee to decide which way to proceed and then allow me to come up for an opinion. Whatever they decide I'll fight for it."

He thinks either path is possible. legally. And he said. "Precisely," when asked if the legal considerations were peripheral matters in the decision.

NM Worker's Pay Rate Third Highest

NEENAH-MENASHA — Twin City workers in manufacturing earned the third highest wages in the state during August. According to figures released by the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations, area workers' average weekly earnings were $154.55 in August.

This was down from $157.16 of August, 1969, and down from $162.14 from July.

Leader in the state was Dane County with a weekly average wage of $166.42. Milwaukee was second with $155.69; then Neenah-Menasha, and Fond du Lac was fourth with $154.16.

The average number of hours worked here per week dropped from 44.2 in July to 42.3 in August.

Oshkosh Sewer Funds Tied to Regional Planning System

OSHKOSH — Help with financing of an expanded sanitary sewer system here moved a step forward Thursday with a report to the city that its "north side interceptor project" as proposed will qualify for state and federal grants when its function as part of a "regional or metropolitan" system is established.

A letter from Duane Hinderman, chief, grants in aid section, Department of Natural Resources, advised the city that the proposed sewer, force main, and three pumping stations proposed meets qualifications for an interceptor under provisions of the federal water pollution control act.

Acting City Mgr. Jack Schneider said state and federal funding of the project, which is designed to provide service into the adjoining Town of Oshkosh, could amount to some 80 per cent of the cost of the project.

Grant applications have so far not been filed by the city. Funding will be considered only when grant applications, final aproved project plans, and interim regional sewerage plans have been approved by DNR.

Hinderman advised that there are adequate state grant funds for eligible projects. If FWPCA funds aren't available, he advised, the state grant may be increased to 50 per cent.

He added that grant processing is also dependant upon the City of Oshkosh providing adequate treatment at its existing plant in accordance with the Lake Michigan Enforcement Conference recommendations and time schedule

The Oshkosh area master sewerage plan calls for upgrading and enlarging the present treatment plant for processing of sewage from areas north, south, and west of the city as required by the conference.

Committee to Meet

Officials to Discuss Planning Overlap

A meeting of Outagamie and Winnebago county officials to discuss correcting overlap and conflict between the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) and Northeastern Regional Planning Commission has been called for next Friday at 9 a.m at the Outagamie County Courthouse.

State Rep. David O. Martin, R-Neenah, organizer of the special committee of city, county and town officials, confirmed the date of the meeting in letters to committeemen Thursday.

Martin said the agenda will be distributed prior to the meeting.

Members of the committee include County Board chairmen Russell DeLaHunt, Outagamie County, and Orrin King, Winnebago; mayors James Adams, Menasha, George Buckley, Appleton, and R. V. Hauser, Neenah; Oshkosh City Council President Byron Murken and Grand Chute Town Chairman Ira Livingston Jr.

In addition, Martin has suggested two private citizens might be added to the list if the other committee members so choose.

In his initial invitation asking the officials to serve, Martin said, "Our goal will be to eliminate overlap and duplication and obtain the best quality regional planning at the least public cost."

Northeastern provides planning and related services to nine adjoining counties, and COG serves 14 Fox Valley communities from Oshkosh to Sherwood, all of which lie in counties also served by Northeastern.

Proxmire Calls For More U.S. Oil Production

Senator Says That Companies Control Supplies, Prices

WASHINGTON — Instead of allowing states to limit crude oil production, Senator William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Monday, the Administration should recommend increasing production "to head off power and fuel shortages, price hikes, and aid the fight against smog."

He said in a letter written last Friday to Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors and of the Energy Committee of the Domestic Council, that federal government policies give "oil companies control over supply and demand and therefore prices."

These companies, he said, hold back low sulphur content oil supplies, which "are needed to fight air pollution." A fuel shortage, according to Proxmire is probable and greater crude oil production and its accompaning natural gas production would "go a long way in solving it."

He asked McCracken, if the Domestic Council was prepared to advise an oil production increase. Proxmire recommended 400,000 barrels a day.

OSHKOSH — In remarks on the nation's health crisis Thursday John Erickson, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, placed the root of the problem in the abundance of specialists "treating ailments that the general practitioner handled very nicely 30 years ago."

Speaking to the Medical Credit Institute, Erickson suggested a federal grant program to medical students who would agree to practice three to five years as general practitioner in areas where physicians are scarce.

He also urged hospitals to spend money for equipment on the basis of area need rather than their own gaps, which he said led to competition between hospitals.

In conclusion, Erickson hit national health insurance programs that have been proposed to meet spiraling health care costs, because he said, they would turn out to be "fronts for a Washington bureaucracy."

Earlier Erickson criticized his opponent, Senator William Proxmire at Platteville State University for voting for every Kennedy-Johnson military appropriation, but "slashing a Nixon defense budget $7 billion below the Johnson Budget."

A Taste of Genuine Wisconsin cheese is given John F. Schweitzer, president of Acme Press, Inc., by Alice in Dairyland, Susan Masters of Janesville. The occasion was a cheese and wine tasting party given Thursday by the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture for 300 chamber members and area wholesale and retail food dealers.

PSC Asks More Data on Bus Fare Increase Request

More data may be needed before the Public Service Commission (PSC) grants an increase in fares to the Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc.

The line offers transportation of passengers and luggage by motor bus between Green Bay, Seymour, Appleton, Waupaca, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Tomah and intermediate points.

At a PSC hearing in Appleton Thursday, G. F. Huettl, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the transportation company, was told that his firm may need to supply more information on general transportation costs, particularly labor costs, before a requested 10 per cent increase in fares will be allowed by the PSC. That increase was proposed to go into effect Aug. 21, 1970.

Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc., had applied to the commission in August for a 10 per cent increase in passenger fares in order to try to "come clear" in the profit and loss statement. Information as to the exact need for such an increase was scant, however, according to Lester L. Dietrich of the transportation division of PSC.

"We can't grant an increase just because you send in a tariff saying an increase is needed," Dietrich told Huettl.

Operating Ratio

Huettl pointed out that his firm had a 99.8 operating ratio for the six-month period ending June 30, 1970. This is an approximate .2 return on the firm's investment in the transportation business. He'd like to see an operating ratio of 94, he said.

"We're not losing money," Huettl said, "but we're not exactly making any either." An income statement for the same six-month period showed a return of $43 on the three busses the company operates.

He reported that his firm has supplied the drivers of its three busses with "better than a 30 per cent increase' in wages. The rate of pay a year ago for drivers was $2.50. The present rate is $3.25.

An increase in fares would assure his firm of "a little bit over and above" the expenses on the statement, Huettl said.

Round-Trip Fares

Dietrich pointed out that most bus lines operate with a 190 per cent figure for round-trip fares; that is, the cost of a one-way fare multiplied by 190. The Seymour firm is using a 180 per cent figure and wants to increase the rates to the 190 per cent figure.

Rate increases previously had been requested by the firm in telephone conversations with PSC representatives who tried to figure out and justify the increases. But now that a formal request has been made, more information is needed, Dietrich said.

James G. Lawrence presided at the hearing.

Police & Fire Beat

COMBINED LOCKS — Volunteer firemen were called to Combined Paper Mills about 9:30 a.m. Thursday to extinguish a small fire on No. 6 paper machine. Mill fire fighters had the fire out before volunteers arrived.

Only minor damage resulted, according to Fire Chief Arthur Vander Heiden.

WAUPACA — A Neenah man charged with driving his car while under the influence of an intoxicant entered a plea of no-contest in County Court Branch 2 Thursday.

Francis A. Rice, 40, of 1011 Sterling St., when arrested at 11:30 a.m., Aug. 22, in the Town of Mukwa, refused to take the breathalizer test.

Judge Nathan Wiese fined him $200, plus $9 cost, and revoked his driver's license for six months.

CHILTON — Roy Fields, Chicago, was fined $100 and ordered to pay $70 in attorney's fees when he appeared before Calumet County Judge D. H. Sebora Thursday.

Fields was found guilty of a charge of taking stereo speakers, tapes and recorder valued at $95 and an auto battery taken from the Calumet County Fairground on Sept. 6. The goods were recovered.

Gilbert J. Morreira, Greenleaf, also implicated with Fields was placed on one year on probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services.

WAUPACA — A motion date for 2 p.m., Sept. 29 was set for Milton L. Hatton, 44, and Lilla Hatton, route 2, Kaukauna, charged with possession of a rifle in a deer area and transporting an uncased gun in an automobile; and hunting deer during a closed season and carrying a gun in an auto, "not unloaded and within a carrying case," respectively.

Conservation wardens arrested the pair on separate days at separate sites. Hatton was arrested on Sept. 7 at 11:30 p.m. in the Town of St. Lawrence. Lilla Hatton was apprehended on Sept. 5 at 8 p.m. in the Town of Iola.

Two Injured in One-Car Crash

Two Appleton residents were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital early today after their auto left the Lake Park Road east of Appleton, near Outagamie County Trunk KK.

County police said the driver, David R. Pritzl, 17, 3036 N. Meade St., received cuts to his head and face, while a passenger, Michael P. Fuller, 1836 E. Lindbergh St., sustained a head bump.

Authorities said Pritzl was going north on the Lake Park Road attempting to make a left turn onto KK, when he lost control of the car after failing to stop for a sign, and skidded sideways into the ditch, clipping off a telephone pole.

The 1965 automobile he was driving was demolished.

Appointment Announced At Lawrence

As financial aid director, Nisson will recommend the university's financial aid budget, allocate financial aid packages to students, and seek out federal funds available to the university for student loan programs.

As assistant dean of men, Nisson will assist Dean Crockett in advising students and carrying out programs in the university's residence halls and fraternity houses.

Nisson received his bachelor of arts degree from Providence College, Providence, Rhode Island, in 1966. He earned his master of arts degree in history from the same college in 1967, and was employed by Dominican College for three years.

Appleton Youth in Up With People High

Tom Kieffer in National Cast as Senior Student, School Work Not Easy Matter

Young Tom Kieffer, 17, traveling son of the Clyde Kieffer's, 1327 S. Lawe St., is having a unique experience that's both exciting and hard work.

He's one of the members of the national Up with People High School, studying and singing his way across country. Right now, Tow's in mid-Missouri, taking time out from song with all the other members of the cast. They are cracking the books before traveling on.

Tom reports the Up with People singers will be giving a concert in Aurora, Ill., sometime in mid-October. He'll be sending the exact dates and times later.

It was on Aug. 6 that the Appleton high school senior (he was a student at Appleton-East) took off for Tulsa, Okla., by bus. He spent his first month doing high school work under the teachers who travel right along with the company. This was the trial period for Tom and the other Sing-Out high schoolers; if it didn't work out, he would have had to come home because getting an education is a serious business with the group.

No grades — no sing, is their motto. If all goes well, Tom will be an accredited graduate of his hometown school next June. And, of course, this mobile kind of school demands attention to studies.

What the cast does is study hard, then rehearse just as hard to make its concert dates a success. The responsibility of education is up to each individual, but there are constant evaluation sessions between teacher and student.

December will bring Tom home for a vacation for two weeks, then back he goes with the cast until June.

Tom also was an active member of the Sole Singers when he was home as well as the Sing Out, Fox Cities. He got the chance to join the national Up with People high school cast through an interview last summer. He was attending a conference at Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio. His grades, his credits and interest in the youth program all were scrutinized before he made it, but finally he received word he was accepted.

Tom has a fine background for this experience. He's been in Scouting since he was 8, and was active in Explorer Post 405 in Appleton, was awarded the Eagle Scout rank when he was 14, and was taken into the Order of the Arrow.

He was a wrestler, member of the German Club and played the cornet in AHS-East band during his high school year in Appleton. Now he's one of the young people in the accredited but experimental high school of Up with People.

It's not easy to stay with the Up with People schedule. It's demanding and could become a grind if it weren't the world the cast members really want. There's school from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., then rehearsal until 10 p.m. as a production cast. In between there are places to go and shows to give.

The 'Great One' In Florida for Leisurely Winter

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A slimmer Jackie Gleason and his Independence Day bride Beverly McKittrick, arrived from England aboard a cruise liner Monday and were met by a Dixieland band.

The vacation in Europe lasted six months and the winter may be just as leisurely, at an annual $100,000 salary.

Gleason's show on CBS was not renewed nor has Jackie reached agreement with the network on a series of specials he was to do this season.

"I've had offers from the other networks," Gleason said, "but I can't accept anything else. My contract with CBS runs four more years at $100,000 a year."

The "Great One," who weighed 270 before starting a diet in the spring, was down to 207 when he stepped onto the dock Monday from the liner Canberra.

GOP Committee To Meet Sept. 24

The Outagamie County Republican Party statutory committee, consisting of precinct committeemen elected in the recent primary, will hold its organizational meeting Thursday, Sept. 24 at The Outagamie Bank.

Charles E. Wussow, Appleton, acting statutory party chairman, announced the meeting. He explained the main purpose of the statutory committee is to appoint poll workers in the county's voting precincts during the next two years of the committeemen's terms.

The committee also will appoint precinct committeemen in wards and town and village precincts where candidates failed to have their names placed on the ballots in time for the primary.

The organizational meeting will include a discussion of nominees for those jobs, as well as election of officers for the county unit.

Artists Reception At Bergstrom Sunday

The Friends of Bergstrom Art Center will hold a reception for artists Milton K. Gardner and John Hitesman from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The reception, open to the public, is in honor of the current show by the two artists. Mr. Gardner has a one-man show of sculpture in the Mahler Gallery at the Art Center on Park Avenue, Neenah.

Appleton artist John Hitesman has 35 drawings in the Terrace Gallery.

Mrs. E.M. Coller and Mrs. C. F. Hedges are the Friends hostesses for Sunday afternoon.

Two Shows On Drug Use Well Handled

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8 Channels 2-7 — Two competing shows deal with drug use, and they are both handled well, despite over-familiarity with the material. First is Headmaster, the series which returns Andy Griffith to television. He plays the title role, working in a private school in Los Angeles.

7:30-8 Channels 2-7 — The Name of the Game is also about drug use, set in Washington where Dan Farrell attends a government seminar. Robert Finch, a presidential advisor, appears as himself in a scene. Plot elements include a rehabilitation center for addicts, run by ex-junkie Julie Harris; an article Farrell has written for his magazine, using the kids in the center, and a Senate hearing on narcotics which subpoenas him and tells him to name names.

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — They're a fun-loving group, The Interns, chasing women and laughing it up in the hospital. Oh, they get serious once in a while, like the intern (Chris Stone) who pays a lot of attention to the go-go girl with the injured and shapely leg, or the black intern (Hal Frederick) who doesn't like the cloistered monk (Torin Thatcher) who is prejudiced, or the intern Stephen Brooks) whose former girl friend (Diane Baker) pleads with him to perform a mercy killing of her dying husband (Bert Convy).

8-10:10 Channels 2-7 — "Casino Royale" on the Friday Night Movies is not to be taken seriously or sensibly. It's a James Bond epic to end all James Bond epics. David Niven plays Sir James, who must make a team of the world's other Bonds (including Woody Allen and Joanna Pettet) to defeat the forces of villainy and rottenness as Maxwell Smart might have said.

9-10 Channel 5 — Bracken's World opens its second season with Bracken in the person of Leslie Nielsen and a good, realistic script. Nielsen, Peter Haskell and briefly, Elizabeth Allen, are the only regulars to appear. Forrest Tucker and Tony Bill are the guests. They are conned into co-starring in an epic Western, and they clash on all issues: acting, motivation and political ideals.

6:30-7 Channel 11-9 — The Ghost and Mrs. Muir has its last episode with Shirley Booth, who is not seen often enough on TV, playing a medium. She comes to Gull Cottage to be interviewed by Hope Lang and stays, at the instigation of Charles Nelson Reilly, to exorcise the captain. If the captain goes, greedy Reilly can sell Gull Cottage to a realtor who wants to wreck it and build a motel. (R)

8-9 Channels 11-9 — Here Come the Brides. Jeremy is accused of murder, with the one witness who can help him an old Indian who refuses to talk. (R)

9-10 Channel 11-9 — Love, American Style deals with such tasteful topics as a honeymooner who accidentally gets locked into a chastity belt; a man who discovers his favorite restaurant has gone topless and his wife has turned crusader; and a man stuck in a girl's apartment because a burglar has stolen his suit. Monte Markham, Tony Randall, Julie Newmar, Dorothy Provine, Shelley Berman and Kaye Ballard are among the involved. (R)

Bailey Given Court Censure After Talks

BOSTON (AP) — A Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court justice ordered Wednesday that nationally known trial lawyer F. Lee Bailey be censured.

The action resulted from information filed against Bailey by the Boston Bar Association which protested that Bailey discussed on radio and television cases in which he was counsel.

Justice Paul G. Kirk ordered that court records contain a notation that Bailey was censured by the court "as of Sept. 16, 1970."

"All things considered, disbarment as a disciplinary measure would not be essentially wrong, but it would close the doors to possible reconsideration of values and standards by one who is still young in the profession," Justice Kirk wrote in his order.

"Censure, on the other hand, may prove to be of doubtful efficacy. It is for the respondent to resolve that uncertainty by his future conduct." Justice Kirk also ordered that the entry of the censure on the roll of lawyers be stayed until Oct. 16 to allow Bailey to seek a review of the case by the full bench.

Orioles Lose But Celebrate Division Title

Birds Blanked Again; McDowell's 20th Win Ousts Yankees, 5-4

By DICK COUCH

Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game.

At Cleveland, Sudden Sam McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league season, then took one quick sip of champagne to accomodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games; Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

Idle Mets Gain Ground as Cubs, Pirates Are Beaten

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets have discovered the knack of gaining ground in the topsy, turvy National League East race. They simply don't play.

The Mets took the day off Thursday and consequently couldn't lose. The same couldn't be said of first place Pittsburgh and third place Chicago. The Pirates and Cubs foolishly showed up for their games and lost, allowing the Mets to gain ground on both of them.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 3-2, cutting the Pirates' lead to 1½ games over New York. The Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-2 and remained two games behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, San Francisco nipped San Diego 4-3 and Houston whipped Los Angeles 10-5, eliminating the Dodgers and clinching the West Division race for idle Cincinnati.

Traditionally, pennant races are described in terms of the "all-important loss column." If you're a traditionalist, the Pirates have a two-game edge there. But in this race, it seems that it's the all-important won column. The NL East contenders find it's easy to lose. But winning. Ah, winning has become quite a job for them.

Over the last nine games, for example, first place Pittsburgh is 4-5 — the same as second place New York. Chicago has charged into contention with a 5-4 mark over the same period.

Fall Period

The Pirates fell victim to a suicide squeeze bunt against the Phillies, spoiling the comeback of Dock Ellis, who made his first start in seven weeks.

Ellis was leading 2-1 when he was lifted after six innings of work. Don Money walked with one out against reliever John Lamb and then scooted home with the tying run on Ron Stone's triple.

Pinch hitter Terry Harmon followed with the squeeze bunt as Stone carried the winning run home.

The Pirates threatened in the eighth when Gene Clines opened with a double, his third hit of the game, and Jose Pagan followed with a single. But Clines

Packer 'Green' Machine' Gets First Major Test Sunday

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — How good, Willie Wood was asked, is the Green Machine? Sunday's National Football League opener against the Detroit Lions, he thoughtfully replied, will tell.

The "Green Machine," of course, is the Packers' revamped defensive unit, so dubbed by Packer buffs as the result of its heartening artistry during the just concluded pre-season grind.

"We've never really been put to a test as far as top competition is concerned," Wood candidly observed while pondering the matter following Tuesday's practice. "Sunday's game will be a good test for us.

"I feel right now that we have a very fine defense," said the Packers new co-captain, who has been affiliated with some of the finest defensive platoons in NFL history during an 11-year pro career. "And we could have a really great one, if we can mold this defense into a unit."

The pre-season record, certainly, is impressive. Wood and his curmudgeonly colleagues, electrifying on occasion, permitted the enemy a lone touchdown in their last three exhibition appearances against the Oakland Raiders, Cincinnati Bengals and Buffalo Bills.

And that "slip" came after the Packers had charged to a 14-0 lead against the talented Raiders, rated a strong championship contender.

Over the pre-season route, the Green Machine filched 16 passes, due in no small measure to increased pressure from a realigned front four of Bob Brown, Rich Moore, Lionel Aldridge and that awesome rookie, Mike McCoy.

Just for the sake of comparison, the Detroit defense closed out its grapefruit league schedule with eight interceptions and the Lions, it should be noted, finished second in the NFL defensively a year ago.

Positive Approach

Taking the positive approach in his analysis, Wood points out, "We have learned to overcome a lot of things, and this is a great sign.

"For example, we'd go out after an interception against us, or after somebody getting beat on a deep pass, and do a real fine job. We were able to shake off those things and play well."

Pausing momentarily, Willie said, "I'm quite optimistic about it. We have some new men, like Mike McCoy, who are going to help us. Mike is going to be a real fine football player.

"And Ken Ellis (a rookie) at cornerback is going to be an asset. They, together with some of the new fellows from last

Season Opens With Key Tilt

Lawrence, St. Olaf Clash

BY JIM HARP

Followers of Midwest Conference football will get a quick look at the title picture as Saturday's opening program sends two of the favorites, Lawrence University and St. Olaf College against each other.

The Vikes and Oles wil clash at 1:30 p.m. at Manitou Field in Northfield, Minn.

St. Olaf is the defending conference champion, and word from the Northfield camp is that the Oles are bent on revenge for last year's 22-8 loss to Lawrence. It was the only blemish on the St. Olaf record.

Lawrence was in the thick of the conference battle all the way last year, but missed out due to three losses which were suffered by a combined total of only four points.

Other Games

In other games this Saturday, Carleton will be at Cornel, Coe visits Grinnel, Knox will be at Ripon and Monmouth goes to Beloit.

Monmouth is rated as one of the top challengers to the crown, along with the Vikes, but the Scots' game at Beloit will not figure in the conference standings. Due to a small turnout, Beloit has been given permission by the league to use freshmen for this season, but the games will not figure in the standings.

St. Olaf will feature a strong offensive attack built around halfback Ole Gunderson, the top rusher and scorer in the conference last season. Gunderson also ranked high in the NCAA College Division rushing statistics throughout the campaign and is considered as a hot pro football prospect.

3 Regulars Back

The Oles, like the Vikes were hit hard by graduation of offensive and defensive linemen. St. Olaf has three regulars back on offense including top pass receiver Kent Johnson at end, Mike Holmquist at guard and Gunderson.

Doug Johnson, last year's second string quarterback, has inherited the job this season and the other backs will be sophomores Gary Jacobson at fullback and Al Montgomery at wingback.

Coach Ron Roberts has done some shuffling around in his backfield of late and it now appears that sophomore Mark Cebulski may get the nod at the quarterback spot. Junior Clarence Rixter had been working at the signal-calling spot in preseason drills, but now has been shifted to a halfback spot.

Bill Oberg, who has been running in the backfield, now has been shifted to the line in an effort to take full advantage of his 230 pounds. The addition of Rixter at a halfback gives the Vikes much-needed speed in the backfield and he is always a threat on the option play.

Steve Rechner and Lance Alwin, two of the top runners in Lawrence football history, will be at the other backfield spots. Alwin set a school rushing record last season with 957 yards and a 5.9 average per carry. The bruising halfback scored 11 touchdowns for the Vikes to tie for second in the scoring race.

Rechner gained 880 yards last season as he also topped the former school record. Steve has added a little weight and is up to 224 pounds to go with his fine speed. Rechner had seven touchdowns last season and recorded the longest run from scrimmage in Lawrence history with a 72-yard jaunt.

Roberts is hoping that the Lawrence defense, which was the pace-setter in the conference last season, will be able to handle the potent St. Olaf scoring attack. Last season, the Oles had a nation-leading average of 45.8 points per game, and Gunderson piled up 132 markers.

Duel Set Saturday

FVL to Entertain Onalaska Luther

BY RON WITT

Fox Valley Lutheran's football team goes in search of a third straight victory over Onalaska Luther when the Foxes entertain the Cadets Saturday afternoon on at the FVL field.

Kickoff for the contest is slated for 1:30 p.m.

Heading into the fifth game of the series between the two schools, FVL holds a 3-1 edge and has won clashes the last two seasons in a row. In 1969, the Foxes broke loose in the fourth quarter at Onalaska to post a 20-6 triumph.

Coach Dave Unus' Foxes enter the battle with a 1-0 mark after spilling Little Chute, 20-12, in their opener on the road last week. The Cadets, meanwhile, under fourth-year mentor Larry Erbe, are possessors of a 2-1 mark to date but will be trying to recover from being decked in their last start, 45-0, by Alma.

Onalaska Luther had beaten Onalaska Public High, 7-0, in its first outing of the campaign and then knocked off Trempeleau, 26-12.

The Cadets have suffered

Bucks Obtain Boozer, Allen

Milwaukee Sends Forward Don Smith To Supersonics '5'

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP) — The Seattle Supersonics of the National Basketball Association traded Bob Boozer and Lucius Allen to the Milwaukee Bucks Thursday for Don Smith and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Boozer, a 10-year veteran of the NBA, had not reported to the Sonics training camp here in a contract dispute. Allen, a second-year player, was the Sonics' first draft choice last year.

Bob Houbregs, Sonics general manager, said Smith, a 6-9 forward, was obtained for his rebound ability. Smith, who played for Iowa State, was the first draft choice of Cincinnati in 1968.

Royals Edged in 13th, 4-3

Muffed Foul Aids Brewers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The front-office bookkeepers report Ted Kubiak has played more for Milwaukee than any other Brewer. His overtime endurance helped his club win a 13-inning decision over Kansas City Thursday night.

With the score tied in the 13th frame, and with two outs, Kubiak popped an easy-catch foul. But Royals shortstop Rich Severson dropped the catch. Kubiak had another chance on a 3-and-2 count, and hit a bases-loaded single to give Milwaukee a 4-3 decision.

"I should have had the ball," Severson moaned. "I had a long run, and I guess I just overran the ball."

Kubiak's hit off reliever Ted Abernathy spelled sweet revenge for Milwaukee. Abernathy has recorded two of his victories and four saves off the Brewers this season. He came on in the 13th with bases loaded, and Royals manager Bob Lemon said it was a mean twist of fate.

Missed Play

"Abby had a tough spot, but he should have never been in that position," Lemon said. "If we make the plays, we're not up there with a 3-2 count and the bases loaded."

The three-hour, 15-minute duel moved Milwaukee to within two games of Kansas City in the tussle for fourth place in the league's West Division.

Kubiak has missed but five of 149 Brewer games, and had been batting only .146 against Kansas City pitching.

The Brewers and Royals were tied 2-2 in the ninth when Milwaukee loaded the bases with one out, a sacrifice by Ted Savage having helped advance runners. A double play killed the threat however.

Paul Schaal's lead-off home run in the 10th gave Kansas City a 3-2 lead. But Milwaukee came back in its end of the inning on Bob Burda's pinch single and Mike Hegan's run-scoring single.

Another Savage sacrifice helped set up the Brewer victory in the 13th.

"We got good bunting on our sacrifices," Brewer manager Dave Bristol said. "In a close game, it's the little things that can make a difference."

Dave May's two-run homer gave Milwaukee a first-inning lead. A homer in the second by Lou Piniella, and Ed Kirkpat-

Sooners Ready

Thompson Doubtful; Badgers, Jardine Open at Oklahoma

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's Badgers held their last preseason football workout Thursday, reviewing plays and defenses they plan to throw against the Oklahoma Sooners in the season opener Saturday.

"We'll try to get as much rest as possible," said Coach John Jardine. "There's nothing more we can do."

Fullback Alan "A-Train" Thompson is still a question mark. Jardine said the swelling is gone from his bruised thigh, and he was running Thursday.

"He wants to play," Jardine said, "but if he plays he will have to be 100 per cent, and timing will be important."

Either Thompson or John Krugman could start at fullback, Jardine said.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football coach Chuck Fairbanks is faced with a familiar problem this week as he prepares his Sooners for Saturday's invasion by Wisconsin.

How do you write a scouting report on a team that hasn't played a game?

Fairbanks and his staff cleared that hurdle successfully Saturday night with a 28-11 season-opening victory over Southern Methodist.

But the Wisconsin puzzle is more tricky.

Says Chiefs Will Win

Elinor Picks Lions To Down Packers

BY ELINOR KAINE

Los Angeles Rams 20 — St. Louis Cardinals 10

Rams are favored by two TDs but L. A. often finds it difficult to score two TD.S. Still, it's a tough opener for Cards, whose optimistic running game gets severe test.

Saturday Night

New York Giants 21 — Chicago Bears 14

Gale Sayers has yet to make his 1970 debut at the outside;

Elinor Kaine

vs. Vikes, Gale stayed up the middle. Mediocre Giant defense should be able to contain limited Bear attack. With Joe Taylor injured, Tarkenton can pass aplenty.

Sunday

Detroit Lions 17 — Green Bay Packers 14

Lions think this is their year but playing in Packerland makes debut a big problem. Still, if they're going anywhere, Lions have to get started. They might pick on cornerback Ken Ellis, who replaces Adderley.

Miami Dolphins 28 — Boston Patriots 10

Dolphins' notices are overrated but Boston has been bugged with little nagging injuries. Maybe Miami can stay hot for a few weeks but watch for a big mid-season swoon.

Denver Broncos 24 — Buffalo Bills 6

Bills have to show me something. Sure, O. J. will probably score a TD but that extra point isn't as sure as death and taxes.

Dallas Cowboys 20 — Philadelphia Eagles 3

The Cowboys are horrible and I would pick the Eagles (who are 0-5, you remember) except that Norm Snead wasn't telling until the game whether he was going to wear his new contact lenses. Would you believe that Snead has been throwing blind all these years: I would. The doctor said his bad eye made it hard for Norman to judge distances, like how far it was to the receiver!! Snead has been trying his lenses out, but never in a game. If he wears them Sunday the score could be 20-20; the Eagles might even win.

Houston Oilers 21 — Pittsburgh Steelers 20

Pittsburgh is picked by a TD because of home opener in brand new stadium and Terry Bradshaw's rave reviews. But Oiler defense is tough and I expect George Webster and his pals will be hard on the baby QB. Houston's problem, as per usual, is the not-so-baby quarterback, Charley Johnson, but I expect a tremendous game from Ye Olde Charley.

Oakland Raiders 21 — Cincinnati Bengals 10

Raiders are horrible but should bomb for a few lucky points. Bengal's QB throws aidearm, Big Ben will be happy to hear.

Atlanta Falcons 24 — New Orleans Saints 17

Kansas City Chiefs 17 — Minnesota Vikings 14

Vikes can't run on Chiefs, so Gary Cuozzo will have to pass on those linebackers. I don't envy him. Chiefs never score much, but will intercept a lot. Vikings were favored by 11 points last January in New Orleans. Here at home Sunday they are favored by only a field goal.

Baltimore Colts 21 — San Diego Chargers 7

Colts should have a big year. All they need is John Unitas with an arm.

Washington Redskins 42 — San Francisco 49ers 28

Sonny Jurgensen can't pass against Jim Johnson, but 49er secondary misses Kermit Alexander. Washington needn't worry. They don't have to beat San Francisco. The 49ers are always finding new ways to beat themselves.

Monday Night

New York Jets 20 — Cleveland Browns 13

Jets are just too fast for Cleveland. Wait and see. They've got terrific team speed and Art Modell, after a taste of Broadway Joe, will wish he'd stayed in the easy NFL.

Rich Bassett Cards 65 for Robinson Lead

Former Duke Golf Star Has Backing Of Gleason, Philbin

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP)—When you have sponsors like Jackie Gleason and TV producer Jack Philbin there's not too much to worry about, says slender Rich Bassett, surprise first round leader of the $100,000 Robinson Golf Classic.

Bassett, 29, former Duke University player, is a non-winner since joining the PGA tourney trial in 1967. He collected only $4,879 last year and so far this season his earnings are $1,012.

Bassett birdied eight of the first 12 holes of the par 35-36—71 Crawford Country Club Thursday and finished with a sizzling 30-35—65.

"If I'm lucky enough to win the $20,000 first prize, I'll just about be even with my sponsors," he said. "I've been practicing hard, mainly on chipping and putting, and maybe it will start paying off."

Bassett, of Miami, Fla., said the Gleason-Philbin combine has been backing him on the tour for the last 3½ years. He met them while working at Shawnee Inn in Pennsylvania.

Only a stroke behind as the tourney enters the second round Friday is Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion and winner three weeks ago of golf's biggest jackpot — $60,000 in the Dow Jones Open. Nichols had seven one-putt greens in building a pair of 33's for 66.

Nearly one-third of the field of 147 broke par. But favorite Frank Beard and defending champion Bob Goalby had to settle for 73 and 72, respectively, as they finished in the rain.

Another favorite, young Larry Hinson, deuced the short last hole for a 67 to join 10 others in that bracket — veterans Charlie Sifford, George Archer and George Knudson, and lesser-lights Bob Stone, Hale Irwin, Gene Ferrell, Bob Erickson, Jerry Hatfield, Grier Jones and Bob Payne.

8 Negroes at Syracuse Ask Reinstatement

Sign Agreement to Abide by Football Team's Regulations

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Eight black football players suspended from the Syracuse University team during a racially-tinged dispute earlier this month asked Thursday for reinstatement.

The players relented to a university edict and signed a statement agreeing to abide by all team regulations, but there was no immediate word from university officials or Coach Ben Schwartzwalder about whether their suspensions would be lifted.

The eight were suspended for the season three weeks ago after refusing to sign an agreement to abide by all team regulations. The players had been protesting alleged discrimination by the university and athletic staff against black football players.

The eight include the team's leading rusher in 1969, Al Newton, and Greg Allen, second in rushing to Newton and the team's leading punt returner.

They and the six other blacks agreed Thursday to accept the university code for athletes, to have a cooperative attitude in drills and other assignments and to play any position assigned by the coaching staff.

Patriots Sign Bake Turner

BOSTON (AP) — Bake Turner, a nine-year pro veteran who was released recently by the New York Jets, was signed Thursday by the Boston Patriots of the National Football League.

Turner, a former Texas Tech star originally signed by the Baltimore Colts, was picked up by the Patriots as a free agent. The Patriots will have to cut a player to activate Turner on the 40-player roster.

Rainout Prevents Cubs From Setting Attendance Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — A closing day crowd of 16,605 attending the Chicago Cubs 9-2 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday gave the Cubs a season Wrigley Field attendance total of 1,642,705.

Hurt by a rainout of last Sunday's scheduled game with the New York Mets with a sellout 40,000 on hand, the Cubs missed last season's all-time record attendance by 32,288.

The 1969 total was 1,674,993.

Wisconsin OUTDOORS

MADISON — This week's reports indicate that hunters should do well in Wisconsin outdoors this year.

Brush is generally heavy, but with the bear season already off to a good start in the northeast, there are promising signs for the deer and waterfowl seasons just around the corner. Tourists with a yen for fall colors won't have long to wait, either.

Here's the statewide report by district:

NORTHWEST DISTRICT

High winds on Lake Superior have encouraged fish to move into the shallows. Five percent color is showing in the northernmost areas. The bear season is off to a good start, with 41 registrations. All counties except Burnett have bear registered. An excellent partridge season is expected with plenty of birds. Fishing is slow throughout the whole district.

NORTHEAST DISTRICT

A little color is starting to show. Birches have turned and in many areas have already dropped their leaves. Musky fishing good in the Minocqua area. One 25-pound musky was caught in Silver lake in Forest county. There has been some fishing in Oconto county, mainly for panfish and smallmouth bass. Bear season is open and a few bear have been taken in the Vilas county areas of Woodruff and Minocqua. Most northeastern localities are starting their colorama activities.

WEST CENTRAL DISTRICT

Color is beginning to show in the maples, and this weekend should be of interest to sightseers. The sumac show especially brilliant color. Panfish are biting well in sloughs in Lake Onalaska. The best fishing is in and along the edges of weed beds. Northern pike are showing much action in sloughs and backwaters. Wild ducks, especially teal, are on the move on the Big river. Recent rains should improve small ponds and back sloughs in the Black River area for the 1970 duck season.

EAST CENTRAL DISTRICT

Not much color is showing. The geese are beginning to move into Horicon Marsh and should reach peak numbers about the second week in October. Foliage is heavy enough to hinder woodcock hunters. Conditions are very promising for the archery deer season. Many bucks have shed their velvet and the antlers are about 50 per cent polished. Schools of brook trout are moving along the shores of Lake Michigan off Sheboygan county and brookies and browns are hitting in Lily Bay off Door county. Lake Winnebago near Rock Reef is producing jumbo perch and trollers are taking walleye and sauger.

Record for Holding 1st

Redlegs Were Favored, But Not as Runaway Leader in Division

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, who clinched the West Division championship of the National League Thursday have been out of first place only one day since the season started April 6.

That one day was on April 11 when the San Francisco Giants beat the Reds and took over the first spot. The next day, the Reds won a doubleheader from the Giants and moved back in front to stay.

The Reds will set a major league record of being in first place for 178 playing days. That will break the old mark of 174 set by the then New York Giants in 1923 and the New York Yankees in 1927. The records were set, of course, in the days of a 154-game schedule while the teams now play 162.

The Reds were favored in a preseason Associated Press poll of baseball writers and broadcasters to win the West Division title but no one expected them to make such a runaway of it.

In the first place, they were starting with a rookie manager, George "Sparky" Anderson. He was a fellow with nothing more than an excellent managerial record in the lower minor leagues and often was referred to as "Sparky who?" by rabid Cincinnati fans.

The pitching, notably weak in the past several seasons, was decidedly suspect. A hard-hitting, if temperamental, left fielder had been traded away for a pitcher who hadn't done much in the last year or two. The shortstop spot still wasn't definitely filled.

What has happened?

Everything—and more—has jelled.

Anderson—a soft-spoken guy who disdains clubhouse meetings when there is trouble, always felt his club could win.

The pitching as handled by Anderson and pitching coach Larry Shepard provided the biggest surprise—and Anderson gives the credit to Shepard, a former Pittsburgh Pirate manager.

The trade which took Alex Johnson from the Reds brought Jim McGlothlin from the Cali- built up a winning record as a starter after having been clobbered as a reliever. In the early stages of September, the Reds hauled in Milt Wilcox from Indianapolis.

He won his first two starts, one of them a shutout over Los Angeles, after the Reds had dropped two of three to San Francisco.

fornia Angels. Rookie Wayne Simpson was brought in from the Indianapolis farm club.

That left veterans Jim Maloney and Jim Merritt and young Garv Nolan, a sore-armed disappointment last year, to fill out the staff.

Maloney ripped an Achilles tendon on April 16 in only his second start and was lost until September.

But, here came Simpson, McGlothlin, Merritt and Nolan to turn in brilliant rotation performances and give the Reds a 10-game lead at the All-Star break.

Then hard times hit and the saga of the Reds became even more surprising.

The hitting fell off—and it had been terrific.

Simpson went out with a shoulder injury on July 31 and didn't start again until Aug. 16. McGlothlin was hurt on July 8 and then suffered a severe head injury on Aug. 9. He didn't have a good start again until Aug. 23.

Star reliever Clay Carroll was out for a week beginning Aug. 7.

But Tony Cloninger, a decided disappointment, suddenly moved into a starting spot and

Direct Election Issue 'Still Alive' in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It's still breathing," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, after the Senate struck a heavy blow at a constitutional amendment to provide for direct election of the president.

After a 54-36 vote to cut off debate on the proposed amendment—six short of the required two-thirds majority—Mansfield said Thursday tentative plans call for a second attempt next week.

He said no decision will be made before Monday. This will give Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the electoral reform, and other supporters a chance to round up more votes.

If a second petition to put the Senate's debate-closing cloture rule into effect is filed Monday, it would come to a vote Wednesday.

Failure to muster a two-thirds majority to choke off debate on a second try likely would be fatal to the proposed amendment, although nothing in the Senate's rules prevent repeated attempts.

Only eight times since the two-thirds rule was adopted in 1917 has the Senate, which prides itself on free debate, voted to apply cloture. The last time was in 1968 on an open housing bill—and that was on the fourth try.

No Encouragement

Thursday's vote did not offer much encouragement to supporters of the direct election plan, but some contended it might yet be brought to a vote if more time is allowed for debate.

Of the 54 senators who voted for ending the debate, 33 were Democrats, 21 Republicans. Voting against the move were 18 senators of each party—mostly from Southern and small states.

Ten senators were absent, but even if all 100 had been present, opponents of the debate cut-off move had more than enough votes to block it.

The proposed amendment was approved by the House a year ago today 339 to 70 and has been endorsed by President Nixon.

The amendment would abolish the Electoral College and provide election of a presidential candidate who got 40 per cent or more of the popular vote. If no candidate received 40 per cent, a runoff election would be held between the two front-runners.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by a two-thirds majority in the Senate and House and ratification by 38 of the 50 state legislatures.

Under the Senate version of the direct election plan, ratification by the states would have to be completed by next April 15 for the amendment to apply to the next residential election in 1972.

Bayh has acknowledged the odds are stacked against this. But he maintains it still is possible.

Chavez Boycott Aimed at Lettuce

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez is bringing his most potent weapon—a nationwide boycott—to bear on all U.S.-grown lettuce that doesn't carry his union's label.

He announced Thursday the boycott will focus on 64 major cities across the country and "it will be on until the last lettuce grower is signed."

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee leader used the same tactic in bringing the nation's largest table grape growers to the bargaining table early this summer after a bitter five-year dispute.

One Salinas area grower now carries UFWOC's black Aztec eagle label—Inter Harvest Co., a subsidiary of the giant United Fruit Corp. and the nation's largest lettuce grower.

Chavez moved his UFWOC organizers into the valley less than a week after the rival Teamsters union announced it had signed most valley growers to contracts covering an estimated 13,000 field workers.

Herbert Fleming, a spokesman for about 70 grower-shippers who have signed Teamster contracts, said, "Chavez will be trying to boycott produce that is grown, harvested and shipped by (Teamsters) union workers."

Chavez contends the Teamsters contracts are "sweetheart" agreements and says his AFL-CIO affiliate represents the field workers.

The Salinas Valley produces 70 per cent of the nation's solid-head lettuce.

UFWOC field workers, now in their fourth week of striking, have slowed shipments of lettuce from last year's high of 242,000 24-head cartons daily to 195,000 daily this year as prices climbed doubling in some places.

Bank Head Is Charged With Taking $363,400

MIAMI (AP) — The former president of the Mercantile National Bank of Miami Beach was arrested by FBI agents Thursday and charged with embezzling $363,400 from the bank during the past eight years.

Walter Leroy Hartman, 47, was arrested at his home on an 11-count U.S. grand jury indictment.

The indictment charged him with taking the money while he worked for the bank between 1962 and May 1970. He had been president of the bank since 1965 and on its staff since 1956.

Hartman was released on $1,000 personal recognizance bond to await trial.

Old Timer Leaves Town Half-Million

SPRINGDALE, Pa. (AP) — A man who spent his entire life in this town has left it half a million dollars.

George Uhlinger once told a friend: "I made my money in Springdale and I intend to leave it where I earned it."

His will, filed Wednesday, left a gross estate of $760,975, including $500,000 bequeathed to the borough in the form of a life insurance trust agreement.

Uhlinger, a bachelor, died last Nov. 11 at the age of 79.

Police 'Midwife' Had Early Experience

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — When Gregory Drilling told his parents he had decided to become a policeman, they told him he had been delivered by a policeman summoned when a doctor failed to show up.

The father, Jerome L. Drilling, said his 22-year-old son is following in the footsteps of the policemen who delivered him: He has delivered two babies this year.

Car Tempts Thieves

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Charles Walcruk, a trainee at the Ft. Wolters helicopter base near Mineral Wells, came to Dallas to recover his car which had been stolen then found by police abandoned on a freeway.

However, during the night between the police notification and his arrival, someone cut a hole in the fence of the police pound and made off with the 1959 sports car again.

Post Office Zips To Wrong Numbers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Cartoonist Bil Keane recently allowed the U.S. Post Office to adopt a member of his "Family Circus" cartoon characters.

Little Jeffy appeared on Post office billboards and trucks dressed in a sleeper suit which was undone down the front. Jeffy reminded citizens: "Don't forget to ZIP it."

Keane recently received a letter from the postmaster general's office thanking him for the use of the cartoon character. Under separate cover, two souvenir copies of the Jeffy poster were sent to Keane.

Both envelopes carried the wrong ZIP code.

Manpower Training Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed 68 to 6 a $12 billion manpower training bill containing a broad public service jobs program strongly opposed by the Nixon administration.

The measure could make available 150,000 jobs in the current fiscal year, but there is considerable doubt the program ever will be enacted.

Senate passage sent the bill to the House which may not go along with the public service jobs feature.

But, even if the measure goes to President Nixon and is signed by him, the sums in it only are authorizations.

Appropriations

If the jobs were actually to be financed, the President would have to ask for appropriations and it is unlikely he would do so.

The federally-financed jobs provided by the bill would be in schools, hospitals, police and fire departments, recreation programs, conservation projects and many other types of state and city programs.

The pay would be the national minimum wage of $1.60 an hour or the prevailing wage in the community for the type of work, whichever is higher.

The bill also would reorganize completely the nation's eight-year-old manpower training programs, turning much of the authority for running them over to the 50 governors and the 235 mayors of cities of 75,000 or more.

Extend Programs

These programs would be extended for three years, with $2 billion authorized for fiscal 1972, $2.5 billion for 1973, and $3 billion for 1974.

This plan would replace the present system under which federal agencies have more than 10,000 separate contracts with local groups for training projects.

Programs to be continued include the Neighborhood Youth Corps, Job Corps, Opportunities Industrialization Centers, Operation Mainstream, Indian Programs, and New Careers.

Cyclist Testifies At Manson Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A stubby former motorcycle gang leader says Charles M. Manson confided that he was "the devil" during the summer of the Sharon Tate slayings and practiced firing a revolver much like one in evidence at the Tate murder trial.

Tatooed, mustached Danny DeCarlo, 26, who lived with Manson's hippie-style "family" in 1969, testified for the state Thursday that he'd seen Manson with weapons and other items similar to those the state says figured in the deaths of the actress and six others.

DeCarlo linked Manson to a gun, rope, a knife, leather thongs and a sword.

Manson, 35, and three women followers are on trial for murder- conspiracy in the August 1969 slayings. The state says Manson planned the killings, then ordered others to commit them.

"Charlie said he was the devil," said DeCarlo. "He said that he'd eventually be the leader . . . he said the devil's on the loose."

DeCarlo, twirling his mustache as he testified, told of seeing Manson practicing with a long-barrel, .22-caliber revolver with a walnut grip, much like one an expert has said was used in one—possibly three—of the seven killings.

DeCarlo said he was along when Manson bought at a war surplus store 150 feet of white nylon three-strand rope similar to that tied around the necks of Miss Tate and another victim. And he said he twice saw Manson holding a hunting knife with a six-inch blade which the state says was found at Miss Tate's mansion.

DeCarlo recalled that Manson was the only one at the ranch who wore leather thongs around his neck. Thongs were used to bind two victims. He also identified a sword he said Manson carried on his dune buggy. A previous witness said Manson carried a gun or sword into the home of two murder victims.

Viets Attack

Enemy Blocking Offensive, Pounded by U.S. Warplanes

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Flight after flight of warplanes today pounded the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops who have blocked the government's first offensive of the war some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh.

North Vietnamese troops attacked the Cambodian force along Highway 6 Thursday and killed four government soldiers.

Mortars Fired

Enemy soldiers were still operating to the rear of the government's forward line today. Three mortar rounds were reported fired on the Cambodians as more government reinforcements moved in.

The enemy was also reported reinforcing and resupplying.

For the first time, the Cambodian command ordered field commanders not to let foreign newsmen cover the action today. No reason was given, but one officer in the town of Skoun said the move might be aimed at preventing foreign journalists from seeing strikes by American jets. No confirmation was available.

Bridges Repaired

Cambodian engineers repaired the last of three bridges destroyed by enemy guerrillas between Skoun and the government forces' forward lines. Field commanders put strong forces around the newly mended bridges to prevent more sabotage.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. bombers were continuing their raids along the highway between the Cambodian troops, strung out for several miles along the road some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh, and the enemy-surrounded city of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of the capital.

The raids are aimed at blocking North Vietnamese reinforcements and destroying their supplies.

Force of 2,000

The division-size Cambodian task force is being challenged by an enemy force of more than 2,000 men. Some North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have moved toward the Cambodians' rear positions and field commanders fear the enemy force might cut off the Cambodians' northward drive aimed at recapturing some of the country's heartland.

The Cambodian spokesman would not speculate on when the government's first major offensive would bet moving again. It has been stalled since Monday, when Cambodian forces suffered heavy casualties in fighting at Taing Kauk village.

Twenty to 30 government troops have been reported killed and more than 100 wounded in the 12-day operation. Enemy casualties are not known.

In another development, a South Vietnamese military delegation turned over a large amount of arms, munitions and equipment to the Cambodian army. It was understood the war materials were provided indirectly by the United States and are in addition to the $40 million military aid promised Cambodia for this fiscal year.

The U.S. Command in Saigon has announced the loan to Cambodia of six helicopters, which are being flown by South Vietnamese crews, and some C47 aircraft.

The U.S. Command said enemy gunners shot down two American helicopters Thursday and in a delayed report said another was shot down three days ago. Five Americans were wounded in the three crashes.

Ground action was light in South Vietnam. The U.S. Command reported three Americans were killed and 37 wounded in four small clashes and a 40-round mortar barrage on the Can Tho airfield in the Mekong.

The U.S. Command announced another 1,000-man cutback as part of President Nixon's troop reduction that will trim authorized U.S. strength in Vietnam to 384,000 by Oct. 15. Current strength is 396,300 men.

The latest cutbacks involve the redeployment of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 10 and a detachment of the 4th Battalion, 11th Marine Artillery Regiment, both based at Da Nang.

Adult-Only Movie Rule To be Challenged in State

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A challenge to a Kenosha ordinance that prohibits youngsters from viewing adult-rated motion pictures was taken under advisement Thursday by U.S. District Judge John W. Reynolds.

The suit, sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union and by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Engdahl of Kenosha, argued the ordinance assumes too much about a film's caliber and leaves no room for a court ruling in the matter.

The ordinance prohibits minors from attending pictures which the motion picture industry rates as "X" or "R."

A similiar piece of legislation was offered to lawmakers last year, but was rejected after legislators criticized the possibility of a statute that would have an industry regulating itself.

Kenosha's city attorney, Michael Fisher, said the ordinance protects minors, and declared there is a difference between classification and censorship.

The Engdahls said they had accompanied a group of six children, three of them their own, to a showing of the motion picture "Woodstock," which concerns the Woodstock rock music festival held in New York a year ago.

The picture was rated "R."

The suit said a theater employed declined to admit the family because the youngsters didn't have birth certicates to verify parentage.

Oil Spill Reported in Hong Kong Harbor

HONG KONG (AP) — A tanker collided with an oil pipe on the Hong Kong waterfront Thursday, causing a 200-by-300-foot spill, the colony's marine department said.

The department said there was no significant damage to the Caltex pipe or the ship, the 18,000-ton Chevron The Hague, and that the flow was stopped in less than an hour.

The tanker is owned by Chevron Tankers, the Netherlands.

Hand Predicts Wins For Packers, Vikings

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The memory of their Super Bowl humiliation and the bitter taste of Hank Stram's off-the-cuff comments in the film version of the game should fire the Minnesota Vikings to an early peak for Sunday's rematch with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Although Joe Kapp will be among the missing and Gary Cuozzo will be at the controls, the old Hand picker still sticks with the Vikings to win the opener.

A full schedule of 13 National Football League games stretches from tonight through Monday with only one interconference game—the Chiefs and Vikings, it looks like a rough year ahead but here goes with the first stabe:

Tonight

Los Angeles 27, St. Louis 21—Roman Gabriel vs. young Jim Hart with that Ram rush putting the big heat on Hart. Les Josephson will miss opener, Willie Ellison taking his place. New look Cards have six changes.

Saturday Night

New York 24, Chicago 17—Giants won't be trying any onside kickoff in final minutes this time. Fran Tarkenton, with running help from Ron Johnson and Tucker Frederickso, should get enough points to standoff Gale Sayers' stunts. Jack Concannon starting pitcher for Bears.

Sunday

Minnesota 23, Kansas City 21—The big test for Gary Cuozzo as Joe Kapp's replacement and a chance for the Chiefs to make up for some of their Super Bowl embarrassments. Although both coaches talk about "just another game," this one will be for blood.

Oakland 28, Cincinnati 17—Capacity crowd at New Riverfront Stadium will whoop it up for Paul Brown's Bengals but they still have a quarterback problem. The Lamonica-Stabler combo too tough for Cincinnati defense.

Pittsburgh 21, Houston 20—Terry Bradshaw vs. Charley Johnson, the new vs. the old. Steeler pass defense has been amazing but Johnson will give it the big test with his bag of tricks. Three Rivers Stadium will be loaded, hoping to hail a new instant hero in Bradshaw to lead them to the promised land after so many failures.

Green Bay 14, Detroit 13—tempted to call this one a tie. Packers seem to be on the way back as long as Bart Starr stays healthy but Lions are hungry and tough. Loss of Steve Owens tough break for Detroit but Mel Farr is in top shape with Altie Taylor to help.

Baltimore 21, San Diego 14—Norm Bulaich gives Colts running partner for Tom Matte and takes some of the heat off John Unitas. John Hadl gets call over injured Marty Domres after splitting summer work. Lance Alworth limping so rookie Walker Gillette will take his place for Chargers.

Washington 27, San Francisco 24—An upset with 49ers favored at home. Redskins in high spirits after beating Colts in final exhibition game, determined to get away fast. Sonny Jurgensen must carry the load against John Brodie.

Atlanta 21, New Orleans 17—Norm Van Brocklin has Falcons wheed up for quick getaway with Bob Berry throwing and Cannonball Butler and Harmon Wages to run the ball. Tommy Nobis back at middle linebacker. Saints' usually strong ground game crippled by injuries to Andy Livingeton.

Dallas 31, Philadelphia 10—Cowboys have chance to get well at expense of floundering Eagles, who still are experimenting with secondary. Don't be surprised if Roger Staubach gets the call over Craig Morton at quarterback in effort to break Dallas' five-game losing streak.

Miami 20, Boston 10—Dolphins make debut under ex-Baltimore Coach Don Shula with Paul Warfield, Willie Richardson and Marv Fleming as Bob Griese's targets. Jim Nance and Carl Garrett must do the job for the Pats, who went 0-4 in the exhibition season.

Denver 30, Buffalo 14—The Broncos have scoring potential with Floyd Little and Willis Crenshaw. Pete Liske to start at quarter against team that intercepted him five times last year. Bills expect to open with Dan Darragh while rookie Dennis Shaw learns the ropes.

Monday Night

Cleveland 24, New York Jets 20—Browns' passing attack will put pressure on revamped Jet secondary and Leroy Kelly will be running as Gerry Philbin's replacement at end. Joe Namath has new pet receiver in Rich Caster, who won't let Browns concentrate on George Sauer. It should be a thriller.

Vernie Welch Raps 634 Set

Vernie Welch chalked up her fourth lifetime national honor count Thursday night when she fired a 634 series in the Navy League at Hahn's Lanes.

Mrs. Welch, of 1736 S Seminole Drive started with a top 236 game and then added 222 and 172 counts to exceed the 600-pin mark. In her first singleton, she slammed a turkey and a double, and in the second line she ran one streak of four in a row.

A bowler for 13-14 years, Mrs. Welch was participating in only her second night of competition in the Navy League this season. She carried a 175 average in the same circuit last year.

Mrs. Welch also bowls in the Animal Couples League at Colonial Lanes in Freedom, where she averaged 167 during the 1969 season.

Edna Bermann also hit well in the Navy loop, counting games of 200 and 209 good for a 577 series.

Fritzie Meyers crashed a 215 solo and finished with a 549 total in heading scores in the Alley Cat League at 41 Bowl. Vy Dickrell followed with 218-532, and Corky Behrent rolled 200-530.

Individual game highs that led the way included Grace Gauerke, 225 in the Coffee League at 41 Bowl; Mary Ann Jokelg, 213 in the Soap Opera League at Sabre Lanes; and Joyce Kripsch, 210 in the Crispy Critters League at Sabre Lanes.

Milwaukee Tips Royals

rick's run-scoring single in the sixth tied it 2-2 for Kansas City.

Reliever Ken Sanders, who took over in the 12th, got the victory for a 5-1 record.

Downing Takes Hill

Two southpaws lined up as starters in tonight's game, Al Downing (4-12) against Kansas City's Kip Butler (4-11).

May's first-inning homer brought home Hegan, who had been hit by a pitch. It was May's eighth homer of the season.

Milwaukee had a chance in the ninth when Hegan doubled, May was intentionally walked, Savage sacrificed both runners along and Snyder was walked.

Tito Francona then hit into a double play as a pinch hitter.

Milwaukee picked up two hits in the 11th frame, but couldn't score.

The Brewers got no more hits until the 13th, when May beat out an infield hit, Savage sacrificed him to second and got to first himself, Bernie Smith sacrificed the runners along, an intentional walked filled the bags, and Kubiak eventually singled.

John Jardine," Fairbanks said, "and we really don't know what to expect. Films from last year wouldn't help us at all, like they did against SMU."

Better Team

Fairbanks added: "We expect them to have a much better team than last season's."

Oklahoma won the 1969 opener with the Badgers, 48-21.

"Every bit of information we can get is that they're much improved defensively," Fairbanks continued.

"Offensively, they had all sophomores in their backfield and they were pretty good then. They'll be better this time around," he said.

Fairbanks was pleased with his team's performance against Southern Methodist, especially the defensive unit which had come under so much fire last year.

some key injuries of late, including the losses of two players for most if not all of the season. Out with broken legs are starting junior fullback, Brian Benrud, and 200-pound senior tackle, Jeff Rach. Also on the doubtful list is 160-pound sophomore halfback, Dave Lautz, who is nursing a sore ankle.

Cited as Major cogs on the Cadet squad are quarterback Rick Gates, a 170-pound junior; slotback Fred Lautz (Dave's Brother), a 5-6, 150-pound senior; and middle linebacker Tim Ames, a 205-pound senior.

Since the departure of Benrud, who suffered the leg fracture after the first game, the Cadets have relied more on their passing than originally planned, and Fred Laurtz is described as the team's best receiver.

Umnus reports that the Foxes came out of the Little Chute fracas without any injuries. And as first games go, the FVL headmaster was satisfied with his team's performance.

"There were a lot of rough spots, but generally we were real happy," Unmus related Thursday. He indicated the play of the defense was also reasonably good "except for the secondary." (Little Chute scored both of its touchdowns on pass plays and racked up 163 yards through the air).

Termed a "pleasant surprise" for the Foxes was the running of sophomore back Jim Mattek. Mattek, filling in for Tim Woldt who was lost before the season started with a broken arm, rolled for 109 yards on the ground against the Mustangs and raced for a 26-yard TD run.

Jeff Grow contributed 44 yards to the Foxes' attack, and Bill Lecker hit on five of seven passes for 39 yards.

Devlin Rides Wind to 3-Shot 'Alcan' Lead

By JOHN FARROW

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP) — Bruce Devlin, a 32-year-old former master plumber and now a golf course architect, went into the second round of the Alcan Golfer of the Year Championship today with a three stroke lead over Americans Lee Trevino and Bert Yancey, and said:

"If this wind keeps up, then, I'll be lucky."

Devlin, an Australian who now lives in Florida, shot a three-under par 69 over Portmarnock's 7,117-yards par 72 course beside the Irish Sea.

He was followed after the first round by Trevino, of El Paso, Tex., former U.S. Open champion, and Yancey, of Pompano Beach, Fla., with 72's.

Devlin said, "Those winds yesterday built up terribly and anybody able to control them was lucky. I happened to be lucky."

Dave Hill of Evergreen, Colo., the second money winner on the American circuit last year, finished last in the field of 26 with an 83 and said, "Well, how do you manage to even stand up on the green to putt in this sort of weather? I can play well in warm weather, but I certainly find it difficult in this sort of atmosphere.

"If I had to play in a wind like this in the United States, I would just give up," Hill said.

"But I'm here to play in this tournament, and I'll keep on trying. I doubt if my game will come together. I like it warm and that's when I play my best."

Winds up to 60 miles an hour gusted over the Portmarnock course and provided terrible trouble for players from all over the world who qualified for this tournament which carries a $53,625 first prize and a second prize of $14,625.

"Grut" Gerrits cracked games of 243 and 227 for a 668 series to lead keglers in the Kimberly Mill League at Jerry's Lanes Thursday night.

'Green Machine' Gets First Significant Test

year who have picked up some experience, have got to help us.

"I'm sure that Kevin Hardy will help, too. It'll take him a couple of weeks to get used to what we do, because we play a different system then a lot of teams do, but I'm sure he's going to help.

"Plus some of the guys waiting in the wings give us a great depth. Clarence Williams is going to be a fine football player and we've got guys like Alvin Matthews and Ervin Hunt to back up the secondary and Jim Flanigan and Cleo Walker at linebacker.

Willie didn't say so but, with the addition of Williams, 6-foot-6 and 250, Hardy 6-foot-5 and 260, McCoy, 6-foot-5 and 280 to Moore, 6-6 and 275, and Brown, 6-5 and 260, and the Packer front four well may be both the tallest and most substantial in the NFL.

"As far as I'm concerned,' Wood continued, "we have the best set of linebackers in the game in Ray Nitschke, Dave Robinson and Freddie Carr. They have size, speed and great range."

"We also have the people who can come up with the big plays and that's the secret to a great defense. . .like Bob Brown in the defensive line and Carr at linebacker."

This brought the Pack's veteran free safety to a highly pertinent point.

"Most teams that win championship have very excellent defensive units," said Willie, who goes into the 1970 season as the Packers' leading interceptor.

The NFL record book bears him out — in spades. The team which has yielded the fewest points has won the league title in seven of the last nine years, including 1969 when the Vikings restricted 14 opponents to a mere 133 points in establishing a new record.

Ironically, the only exceptions during that span were the champion Packers in 1961 and '67. In each instance, however, they finished a close second in the "OP" column.

"The important thing is that we have to realize the position we're in," Wood declared. "We have to be aware of three things. First, that we have the personnel that can win it; secondly, the people that we have; and third, what it means to all of us to go all out all of the time.

"That's not asking too much."

PACKER PATTER — Defensive back Leon Harden and guard Gary McArthur have been signed to fill out the Packers' 7-man taxi squad, Coach Phil Bengtson reported Thursday.

Harden, a former Texas-El Paso athlete back for a second year, and McArthur, an ex-USC performer acquired from the San Francisco 49ers, had been waived earlier in the week during the Packers' final cut-down to the league limit of 40 players.

Other current members of the taxi squad are linebacker Jim Carter, defensive back Gordon Rule and Bradley, all waived as injured, kicker Jerry Warren and flanker Mike Carter.

McArthur, 6-foot-5 and 250 pounds, previously had been employed in the defensive line. With Dave Bradley sidelined by shoulder surgery, he assumes a backup role at guard, along with the newly reactivated Forrest Gregg.

Quarterback Bart Starr, incidentally, expressed pleasure at Gregg's return. The appearance of No. 75, he said, "was a nice looking sight."

Placekicker Dale Livingston drilled home four distance shots during Thursday's practice, connecting on two of three attempts from 47 yards and two of four from the 50.

Kevin Hardy, the Packers' most recent acquisition, "looks good," Bengtson was pleased to report. . .Hardy, coming off a knee injury which sidelined him in 1969 definitely will make his Packer bow against the Lions, he added.

"From what we saw of him with the 49ers and in college, tackle is his best position," Bengtson said of the 6-foot-5, 250-pound former Notre Dame luminary, first player chosen in the 1968 NFL draft. "But he has played both."

was cut down at the plate on Scott Reid's throw to preserve the victory for the Phillies.

The Cubs, meanwhile, absorbed a 22-hit pounding at the hands of the Cardinals with Joe Torre, Lou Brock and Luis Melendez collecting four apiece.

Torre had a triple, two doubles and a single, completing the three-game series with 10 hits in 13 at bats. In 15 games against the Cubs this year, Torre is batting .554. Melendez had four straight singles and Brock two doubles and two singles.

The race resumes tonight with the Pirates in New York—a game one of the teams will probably win—and the Cubs in Montreal for a twi-night doubleheader.

Bobby Heise drove in three runs with a pair of singles, leading San Francisco past San Diego. Nate Colbert and Ivan Murrell homered for the Padres.

Bob Watson's grand slam homer capped a six-run Houston explosion in the seventh inning that carried the Astros past the Dodgers. Denis Menke had a two-run shot for Houston.

The victory wiped out the last chance for any team to catch the Reds, who have been runaway leaders in the West Division all season.

from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning of New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.

Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

McDowell, whose previous victory high was 18 last season, checked the Tigers on seven hits and struck out nine, boosting his major league lead to 293 strikeouts. Rookie Roy Foster knocked in three Cleveland runs with a single and his 22nd homer.

"Poor Game"

"This is great," said McDowell, who was making his first start since he was roughed up by muggers last Sunday in Cleveland. "It's something I've always wanted, but to be honest, it was a very poor game for me.

"At the beginning I was trying to make every pitch too perfect. Then, when we got some runs, I just went at them. It's easy to win when you get six runs. My teammates won my 20th for me."

Leo Cardenas delivered two Minnesota runs with a single and triple; Tony Oliva picked up his 100th RBI of the season with a double and Jim Perry gained his 23rd victory with relief help from Stan Williams as the Twins squeezed past the Angels and lowered their magic number to six in the AL West.

"If those last six are like this one I might be crazy to come back next year," said Manager Bill Rigney, who was offered a 1971 contract by Twins President Calvin Griffith before the game. "We had to win that one. Let's win it. Let's not back in."

The VW guarantee

This used car is guaranteed 100%.

No car should be without one.

It's a 100% guarantee. And it means that we'll repair or replace all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000-miles, whichever comes first.

It also means that in order to get it, the car had to pass our 16-point safety and performance test. And that anything that needed fixing was fixed.

Which means that you can get a used car that isn't all used up.

(d) Health Commissioner. The term "Health Commissioner" shall mean the Health Commissioner or his duly appointed representative.

(e) Mobile Food Establishment. The term "mobile food establishment" shall mean an establishment operating from a movable structure which, periodically or continuously, changes location, such as a vehicle or boat wherein food is dispensed or sold to transients, or the general public. The permit of any establishment is automatically revoked when the business is not operated for 30 days or longer, unless it is seasonal or damaged by act of God. When closed for said period, the establishment shall be considered a new establishment and may not be reopened until granted a new permit in accordance with this section. Whenever 2 or more businesses are owned and operated by the same person or persons, and upon the same premises, one fee shall be sufficient for such combined enterprise, but a separate fee shall be required for each business whenever the ownership or management is different in whole or part, from that of any other such business or businesses, conducted on the same premises, or whenever the ownership and management may be the same but separate premises are used for the conducting of one or more such businesses.

(b) A selective or restricted permit may be issued based on the Health Commissioner's determination as to conformance with appropriate standards and good public health practices. Such a permit shall entitle the holder to store, display, and sell such products in such manner as may be specified by the Health Commissioner.

There shall be a fee of $5.00 charged for the permit. An additional fee of $2.00 will be charged whenever the annual fee is not paid within 30 days of expiration date. Each permit issued shall expire on June 30 next following the date of issuance thereof and may be renewed annually thereafter. Selective or restricted permits may be issued on a semi-annual basis. Permits issued in such a manner shall expire on December 31 or June 30 next following the date of issuance thereof. The Health Commissioner shall have charge of the enforcement of this act.

(4) REVOCATION. Any permit issued hereunder shall be subject to revocation by the Health Commissioner when it shall appear that the business conducted thereunder is being carried on in violation of this or any other City ordinance or any State law or any rule, regulation, or order of the Health Commissioner of the City or the State Board of Health, or in any unsanitary manner, or in any way so as to be dangerous to public health.

(5) EXAMINATION AND CONDEMNATION OF UNWHOLESOME OR ADULTERATED FOOD OR DRINK. Samples of food and drink may be taken and examined by the Health Commissioner as often as he deems necessary for the detection of unwholesomeness or adulteration. The Health Commissioner may condemn and forbid the sale of, or cause to be removed or destroyed, any food or drink which he deems unwholesome or adulterated. Necessary, as herein used, means when a complaint is received by the Health Department about particular establishment, food-borne outbreaks, when suspicion arises due to operational procedure or to determine adequacy thereof.

(6) INSPECTION OF FOOD ESTABLISHMENTS. The Health Commissioner or his duly appointed representative, shall inspect every food establishment located within the City. Food establishments shall be subject to inspection at any time such establishments are open for business. If the Health Commissioner finds serious or repeated violations of this section he shall, after at least 24 hours, make a second inspection, and the second inspection shall be used for determining compliance with the requirements of this section. Any violation of the same item of this section on the second inspection, which was capable of being corrected within such period of time, shall call for immediate suspension of the permit.

12 (6) to continue

The person operating the food establishment shall permit access to all parts of the establishment upon request of the Health Commission. If the Health Commissioner finds reasonable cause to suspect uninspected, spoiled, adulterated, or improperly labeled foods, he shall be permitted to copy any records of foods purchased, so that they may be traced to their source.

(7) STANDARDS.

(a) Floors, walls and ceilings of all rooms where meats are cut, processed, stored or sold shall be constructed of easily cleaned impermeable material and shall be kept clean and in good repair at all times. Acoustical ceilings shall not be permitted.

(b) All meat cutting and sales room walls and ceilings shall have a hard light-colored surface.

(c) All preparation, sales and storage rooms shall be well lighted.

(d) All equipment shall be located in a manner that will permit proper inspection and cleaning.

(e) All meat blocks and meat work benches shall be maintained free of cracks and slivers at all times.

(f) All meat cutting, processing, and cold storage rooms shall be used for no purpose other than those incidental to the preparation and storage of meat products.

All unwrapped meat, meat by-products, or unprotected food products must be refrigerated to prevent spoilage.

(p) The average plate count per utensil or surface examined shall not exceed 100 colonies. Higher counts are presumptive evidence of inadequate cleaning or bactericidal treatment or re-contamination by handling or during storage.

(q) All refrigerated equipment shall be of such construction that a constant temperature can be maintained therein, and shall be provided with sufficient cooling facilities whereby a temperature of 40 degrees F. or lower, can be maintained at all times.

(r) All fresh meat shall be displayed in refrigerated counters. All perishable foods shall be under refrigeration at all times. Refrigerator shall be clean and sanitary at all times.

(8) PROCEDURE WHEN INFECTION SUSPECTED. When suspicion rises as to the possibility of transmission of infection from any food establishment employee, the Health Commissioner may require any or all of the following measures:

(a) The immediate closing of the food establishment concerned until no further danger of disease outbreak exists, in the opinion of the Health Commissioner.

(b) The immediate exclusion of the employee from all food establishments.

(c) Adequate medical examination of the employee and of his associates, with such laboratory examinations as may be indicated.

(9) DISTRIBUTION AND TRANSPORTATION OF FOOD. While bread confectionery and other food products are being distributed in vehicles, baskets, boxes or other containers, they shall be protected from dust, flies, vermin droplet infection and other contamination and shall be handled in a clean manner while being distributed.

Every truck or other vehicle operated or containers used on the streets or at any place in the City for transportation or storage of food for human consumption, shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary manner at all times.

(10) HEALTH COMMISSIONER TO ESTABLISH RULES. The Health Commissioner is hereby authorized and empowered to make and adopt reasonable and general written rules and regulations for the sanitary conduct and maintenance of all places operating in the city where foodstuffs are sold, prepared, handled, stored and displayed. A copy of such rules and regulations shall be on file in the office of the Health Commissioner. (d) Requiring floodproofing of uses permitted in the floodplains
3. Delineating and describing the areas that could be inundated by floods so as to protect individuals from purchasing flood plain lands for purposes which are not in fact suitable.

1.5 INTERPRETATION

In their interpretation and application, the provisions of this Ordinance shall be held to be minimum requirements and shall be liberally construed in favor of the governing body and shall not be deemed a limitation or repeal of any other powers granted by Wisconsin Statutes.

1.6 ABROGATION AND GREATER RESTRICTIONS

1.61 This Ordinance supersedes provisions of any zoning ordinance relating to flood plains. However, any underlying zoning ordinance shall remain in full force and effect to the extent that its provisions are more restrictive.

1.62 It is not otherwise intended by this Ordinance to repeal, abrogate, or impair any existing deed restrictions; however, where this Ordinance imposes greater restrictions the provisions of this Ordinance shall prevail.

1.7 WARNING AND DISCLAIMER OF LIABILITY

The degree of flood protection intended to be provided by this Ordinance is considered reasonable for regulatory purposes. Larger floods may occur on rare occasions or the flood height may be increased by man-made or natural causes, such as ice jams and bridge openings restricted by debris. This Ordinance does not imply that areas outside flood plain zoning district boundaries or land uses permitted within such districts will always be totally free from flooding or flood damages. Not shall this Ordinance create a liability on the part of or a cause of action against the City of Appleton or any officer or employee thereof for any flood damages that may result for reliance on this Ordinance.

1.8 DEFINITIONS

Unless specifically defined below, words or phrases used in this Ordinance shall be interpreted so as to give them the same meaning as they have at common law and to give this Ordinance its most reasonable application.

1. Assigned flood — is that flood that would inundate those areas shown as floodway or floodplain on the zoning district map which is a part of this Ordinance.
2. Bulkhead Line — a geographic line along a reach of a navigable stream that has been adopted by a municipal ordinance and approved by the Department of Natural Resources pursuant to Section 30.11, Wisconsin Statutes and which allows complete filling on the landward side, except where floodway regulations of this ordinance would prohibit such filling.
3. Channel — a natural or artificial watercourse of perceptible extent, with definite bed and banks to confine and conduct continuously or periodically flowing water. Channel flow thus is that water which is flowing within the limits of the defined channel.

4. Conditional-Use—a use of land or buildings which is allowable only after the issuance of a special permit by the Board of Appeals under conditions specified in this Ordinance.
5. Encroachment Lines — are limits of obstruction to flood flows. These lines are generally parallel to the stream. The lines are established by assuming that the area landward (outside) of the encroachment lines will be ultimtely developed in such a pay that it will not be available to convey flood flows. The stream channel and adjoining flood plains between these lines will be maintained as open space and will be adequate to convey the regional flood without adversely increasing flood heights.
6. Equal Degree of Encroachment — is established by considering the effect of encroachments on the hydraulic efficiency of the "flood plain" along a significant "reach" of the stream. Hydraulic efficiency depends on such factors as the relative orientation of the channel with respect to the "floodway", the natural and man-made characteristics of the flood plain, relative ground level on both sides of the stream, the type of vegetation on both sides of the stream and the resistance of such vegetation to flood flows. In most cases, these factors will not result in equal distances or areas between encroachment lines on both sides of the stream.
7. Flood — a temporary rise in stream flow or stage that results in water overtopping its banks and inundating areas adjacent to the channel.
8. Flood Plain — the land adjacent to a body of water which has been or may be hereafter covered by flood water including but not limited to the regional flood.
9. Floodway — the channel of a stream and those portions of the flood plain adjoining the channel that are required to carry and discharge the flood water or flood flows of any river or stream including but not limited to flood flows associated with the regional flood.
10. Flood Profile — a graph or a longitudinal profile showing the relationship of the water surface elevation of a flood event to location along a stream or river.
11. Flood Proofing — a combination of structural provisions, changes, or adjustments to properties and structures subject to flooding primarily for the reduction or elimination of flood damages to properties, water and sanitary facilities, structures, and contents of buildings in a flood hazard area.
12. Reach — a hydraulic engineering term to describe longitudinal segments of a stream or river. A reach will generally include the segment of the flood plain where flood heights are primarily controlled by man-made or natural flood plain obstructions or restrictions. In an urban area, the segment of a stream or river between two consecutive bridge crossings would most likely be a reach.
13. Storage Capacity of a Flood Plain — the volume of space above an area of flood plain land that can be occupied by flood water of a given stage at a given time, regardless of whether the water is moving.
14. Structure — anything constructed or erected, the use of which requires a more or less permanent location on or in the ground. Includes but is not limited to objects such as buildings, factories, sheds, and cabins.
15. Permanent Structure — a structure which is built of such materials and in such a way that it would commonly be expected to last and remain useful for a substantial period of time.
16. Temporary Structure — a structure which is built of such materials and in such a way that it would commonly be expected to have a relatively short useful life, or is built for a purpose that would commonly be expected to be relative short term.

PART 2.0 GENERAL PROVISIONS

2.1 JURISDICTION

The jurisdiction of this Ordinance includes all lands, adjacent to any river or stream within the corporate limits of the City of Appleton, Wisconsin, that would be inundated by the assigned flood as defined in Section 11.1 (13) of this Ordinance. 3. If such use is discontinued for twelve (12) consecutive months, any future use of the building and premises shall conform to this Ordinance. The assessor shall notify the Zoning Administrator in writing of instances of nonconforming uses which have been discontinued for a period of twelve (12) months.
4. Uses or adjuncts thereof which are nuisances shall not be permitted to continue as nonconforming uses.

PART 3.0 FLOODWAY DISTRICT

3.1 PURPOSE

The purpose of the Floodway District is to preserve as much as possible the open character of the channel of a stream or river and as much of the adjoining open land as is needed to accommodate the flow of water during a time of flood.

3.2 BOUNDARIES

3.3 SPECIAL PROVISIONS

1. No "structure (temporary or permanent);" fill, including fill for roads and levees; deposit; obstruction; storage of materials; or other floodway uses which acting along, or in combination with existing or future floodway uses, shall be permitted that adversely affects the efficiency or the capacity of the floodway or increases flood heights based on the assumption that there will be an "equal degree of encroachment" extending for a significant "reach" on both sides of the stream.
2. No "structure (temporary or permanent)," fill, including fill for roads and levees, deposit, obstruction, storage of materials or other floodway uses shall be permitted that adversely affects the "storage capacity of the flood plains" based on the assumption that there will be an "equal degree of encroachment" extending for a significant "reach" on both sides of the stream
3. No flood plain uses shall adversely affect the efficiency of, or unduly restrict, the capacity of the channels or floodways of any tributaries to the main stream, drainage ditches, or any other drainage facilities or systems.

3.4 PERMITTED USES

The following open space uses shall be permitted within the Floodway District to the extent that they are not prohibited in a particular area by any underlying zoning ordinance, and provided that such use does not include any filling of deposit of materials.

1. Agricultural uses such as: pasture, grazing, and wild crop harvesting;
2. Open - Space user not requiring "permanent or temporary structures" designed for human habitation, such as: parks, swimming areas, driving ranges, picnic grounds, wildlife and nature preserves, fish hatcheries, fishing and hiking areas;
3. Utility facilities such as dams, power plants, flowage areas, transmission lines, pipelines, and water monitoring devices; subject to regulations pursuant to Chapter 30, Wisconsin Statutes
4. Navigational and Drainage Aids such as: channels, channel markers, buoys, and other such devices;
5. Other water related uses such as: docks, piers, wharves, bridges, culverts, and river crossings of transmission lines subject to any pier or dockline regulations pursuant to Chapter 30, Wisconsin Statutes.

3.5 CONDITIONAL USES

Any use enumerated in this section may be permitted only upon application to the Zoning Administrator and the issuance of a Conditional-Use Permit by the Board of Appeals as provided in Section 5.4 of this Ordinance.

1. "Structures" Accessory to Open-Space Uses permitted in Section 3.42 of this Ordinance, whether temporary or permanent may be permitted only upon a determination by the Board of Appeals pursuant to a finding under the procedure required by Section 5.4 of this Ordinance that:
(a) Structures will not be designed for human habitation:
(b) Structures will have a low flood damage potential:
(c) The structure or structures, if permitted, will be constructed and placed on the building site so as to offer the minimum obstruction to the flow of flood waters:
(1) Whenever possible, structures will be constructed with the longitudinal axis parallel to the direction of flow of flood waters, and
(2) So far as practicable, structures will be placed so their longitudinal axis are approximately on the same line as those of adjoining structures
(d) Structures will be firmly anchored to prevent the structure or building from floating away and thus threatening to further restrict bridge openings and other restricted sections of the stream or river; and
(e) Service facilities such as electrical and heating equipment will be at or above a point two feet above the elevation of the flood profile for the particular area
2. Industrial-Commercial uses such as: loading areas, parking area not subject to flood damage;
3. Special Exceptions: Section 3.31, "structures" accessory to open-space uses of this Ordinance shall apply hereto. Buildings, structures and the storage of materials necessary to the operation of a port, marina or boat landing, or other uses requiring a waterfront location; provided that such structures, necessary fill, and uses are designed or arranged so as not to increase, in time of flood, pollution in the stream or hazards to life or property by reason of flotation, fire, explosion, leakage, solution or other means of transfer to or dispersal in the stream.

PART 4.0 FLOODPLAIN DISTRICT

4.1 PURPOSE

The purpose of the Floodplain District is to regulate land uses in areas of flooding, beyond the floodway district, in which structures are likely to be subjected to some force of moving water as well as to inundation.

4.2 BOUNDARIES

The Floodplain District shall include the area shown as such on the Zoning District map which is a part of this Ordinance

4.3 SPECIAL PROVISIONS

The flood protection elevation or height shall correspond to a point two feet above the elevation or "flood profile" shown on or attached to the flood map for a particular area. When flood elevations or flood profiles are not available for delineated flood plains the flood protection level shall be two feet above the estimated regional flood elevation as determined through the conditional use procedures in Section 5.42 of this Ordinance. Section 3.31, 3.32, and 3.33, Special Provisions Floodway District, of this Ordinance shall apply hereto.

4.4 PERMITTED USES

All uses permitted in the underlying existing zoning ordinance are subject to the following conditions:

1. No permitted use shall include the storage of materials that are buoyant, flammable, explosive or otherwise dangerous to human, animal or plant life unless completely enclosed in a flood-proofed structure.
2. No structure shall be placed or erected in the Floodplain District unless the structure is floodproofed. Floodproofing shall be construed to include the following, without limitation because of enumeration:
(a) Raising the ground level of a building or site; by filling or grading; by use of stilts or piles, so that the lowest floor of the building shall be at an elevation not less than two feet above the outer boundary elevation of the Floodplain District; water supply systems shall be constructed so as to prevent the entrance of flood waters; and the lowest point in a tile absorption field, seepage trench or seepage pit shall not be lower than the outer boundary elevation of the Floodplain District; and essential utility systems shall be floodproofed. The first floor, or basement floor of any structure to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, or moved on the flood plain shall be constructed on fill with the finished surface of these floors at or above the flood protection elevation as defined in Section 4.3 of this ordinance. The fill shall be not less than one foot below the flood protection elevation for the particular area and the fill shall extend at such elevation at least 15 feet beyond the limits of any structure or building erected thereon.
Commercial and industrial buildings may be floodproofed by measures other than fill if done in accordance with Section 5.4, 5. (a) of this Ordinance.
(b) Keeping flood water away from a building site or reducing the height or the frequency of flooding thereon, by dikes, levees, floodwalls or the like.
(c) Making structural modifications in a building to prevent the entrance of flood waters or reduce the height or frequency of flooding therein, such as the following:
(1) Anchorage of structures to foundations,
(2) Installation of watertight doors, bulkheads, and shutters,
(3) Reinforcement of walls to resist water pressures,
(4) Use of paints, membranes or mortars to reduce seepage of water through walls,
(5) Installation of pumps to lower water levels in structures.
(d) Constructing of water supply and waste treatment systems to prevent the entrance of flood waters.

PART 5.0 ADMINISTRATION

5.1 ZONING ADMINISTRATOR

(b) The Board shall hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement or administration of this Ordinance.
(c) It shall hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of this Ordinance upon which the Board is required to pass under this Ordinance.
(d) It may authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variance from the terms of the Ordinance as well not be contrary to the public interest, where, owing to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the provisions of the Ordinance will result in practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship so that the spirit of the Ordinance shall be observed, public safety and welfare secured, and substantial justice done. No variance shall have the effect of allowing in any district uses prohibited in that district, permit a lower degree of flood protection than the flood protection elevation for the particular area, or permit standards lower than those required by state law.
2. Appeals to the Board: Appeals to the Board of Appeals may be taken by a person aggrieved or by an officer, department, board or bureau of the municipality affected by any decision of the Zoning Administrator. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the rules of the Board, by filing with the Zoning Administrator and with the Board of Appeals a notice of appeal specifying the ground thereof. The Zoning Administrator shall forthwith transmit to the Board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.
(a) Hearing Appeals:
(1) The Board of Appeals shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal, give public notice thereof by publishing in the official newspaper of the City of Appleton not less than ten (10) days prior to the hearing a notice specifying the date, time and place of hearing and the matters to come before the Board; as well as mailed notices to the parties in interest including the main and appropriate regional office of the Department of Natural Resources.
(2) A decision regarding the appeal shall be made as soon as practicable.
(3) The final disposition of an appeal or application to the Board of Appeals shall be in the form of a written resolution or order signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the Board. Such resolution shall state the specific facts which are the basis for the Board's determination and shall either affirm, reverse, vary or modify the order, requirement, decision or determination appealed, in whole or in part, dismiss the appeal for lack of jurisdiction or prosecution or grant the application.
(4) A copy of any decision granting a variance shall be mailed to the main office of the Department of Natural Resources.
(5) Upon hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.
(b) Mapping Disputes: The following procedure shall be used by the Board of Appeals in deciding contested cases in which the location of the flood plain zoning district boundary is disputed:
(1) Flood district boundaries: When the location of the flood plain district boundary is established by experience flood maps or engineering studies, pursuant to Section — and — of this Ordinance, the flood elevations or "flood profiles" for the point in question shall be the governing factor in locating the district boundary on the land. If elevations or profiles are not available the Board of Appeals may examine any other available evidence that is relevant.
(2) In all cases the person contesting the location of the district boundary shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present his case to the Board of Appeals and to submit his own technical evidence if he so desires. The Board shall not allow deviations from the boundary line as mapped unless the evidence clearly and conclusively establishes that the mapped location of the line is incorrect.

5.4 CONDITIONAL-USES

1. Application for: Any use listed in this Ordinance as requiring a Condition-Use Permit may be allowed only upon application to the Zoning Administrator and issuance of a Conditional-Use Permit by the Board of Appeals.
2. Procedure to be followed in any Flood Plain or Floodway District by Board of Appeals in passing on Conditional-Use Permits: Upon receiving an application for a Conditional-Use Permit involving the use of fill, construction of structures, or storage of materials, the Board of Appeals shall, prior to rendering a decision thereon:
(a) Require the applicant to submit, at the time of application, two copies of an aerial photograph, or a plan certified by a competent technician, which accurately locates the flood plain proposal with respect to the flood plain district limits, channel of streams, existing flood plain developments, together with all pertinent information such as the nature of the proposal; legal description of the property, fill limits and elevations; building floor elevations; and flood proofing measures.
(b) Transmit one copy of the information described in subsection (a) to the Department of Natural Resources with a request to have that agency provide expert technical assistance in evaluating the effects of the proposed project upon flood heights, velocities, and flood plain storage areas and the determination of flood protection levels.
(c) Require the applicant to furnish such of the following additional information as is deemed necessary by the Board of Appeals for the evaluation of the effects of the proposal upon flood flows and flood plain storage and to render a decision on the proposed flood plain use.
(1) A typical valley cross-section showing the channel of the stream the flood plain adjoining each side of the channel, cross-sectional area to be occupied by the proposed development, and high water information.
(2) Plan (surface view) showing elevations or contours of the ground; pertinent structure, fill or storage elevations; size, location and spatial arrangement of all proposed and existing structures on the site; location and elevations of streets, water supply, sanitary facilities and soil types and other pertinent information.

A copy of any such decision shall be mailed to the main and appropriate regional office of the Department of Natural Resources.
5. Conditions attached to Conditional-Use Permits: Upon consideration of the factors listed above and the purposes of this Ordinance, the Board of Appeals may attach such conditions, in addition to those required by specific permits, as it deems necessary in furthering the purposes of this Ordinance. Such conditions may include specifications for, without limitation because of specific enumeration: modificaton of sewerage and water supply facilities, landscaping, periods of operation, operational controls, sureties, deed restrictions, and adequate "flood proofing".
(a) "Floodproofing". Conditional-Use requiring flood proofing measures such as the following shall be designed consistent with the flood protection elevation for the particular area as described in the Special Provisions, Section 4.3; and flood velocities, forces and other factors associated with the flood protection elevation. The Board of Appeals shall require that the applicant submit a plan or document certified by a registered professional engineer that the flood proofing measures are consistent with the flood protection elevation for the particular area.
(1) Anchorage to resist flotation and lateral movement.
(2) Installation of watertight doors, bulkheads and shutters.
(3) Reinforcement of walls to resist water pressures and floating debris.
(4) Use of paints, membranes or mortars to reduce seepage of water through walls.

The Zoning Administrator shall request the applicant to submit a certification by a registered professional engineer or land surveyor that the finished fill and building floor elevations, flood proofing measures, or other flood protection factors were accomplished in compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance. The Zoning Administrator shall within ten days after receipt of such certification from the applicant issue a certificate of compliance only if the building or premises and the proposed use thereof conform with all the requirements of this Ordinance.

5.6 ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

Every structure, building, fill or development placed or maintained within any flood plain in violation of this Ordinance is a public nuisance and the creation thereof may be enjoined and maintenance thereof may be abated by action at suit of the City of Appleton, the state or any citizen thereof. Any person who places or maintains any structure, building, fill or development within any flood plain in violation of this Ordinance may be fined not more than $50 for each offense. Each day during which such violation exists is a separate offense.

5.7 AMENDMENTS

1. The Common Council of the City of Appleton, Wisconsin, may from time to time, alter, supplement or change the boundaries of use districts and the regulations contained in this Ordinance in the manner provided by law.
(a) Amendments to this Ordinance may be made on petitions of any interested party in accordance with the provisions of Section 62.23 (7) (d) of the Wisconsin Statutes.
(b) Copies of any amendment proposed to the Common Council which is referred to the City Plan Commission shall be forwarded by the Plan Commission, together with the first notice of public hearing thereon, to the main office and appropriate regional office of the Department of Natural Resources. Before the amendment becomes effective it must be approved by the Department of Natural Resources.
(c) A copy of the action taken by the Common Council on any amendment shall be forwarded to the main office and appropriate regional office of the Department of Natural Resources. Before the amendment becomes effective it must be approved by the Department of Natural Resources.

A Framework For Animal waste disposal study is analyzed. Glenn Pound, dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at the University of Wisconsin, praises work Tuesday at the Marshfield experimental farm during dairy day. Pound said the new farm would be a "center of research." The new facilities will enable study of alternate animal waste disposal methods and dairy housing. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Test Barn Spurs UW Waste Study

Marshfield Unit First

BY DAVID WEITZ
Post Crescent Farm Editor

MARSHFIELD — A $65,000 test barn started here at the University of Wisconsin (UW) experimental farm may offer a solution to animal waste disposal for Wisconsin dairymen.

"This is to be one of the university's centers of research," said Glenn Pound, UW dean of the college of agriculture and life sciences Tuesday during dairy day at the farm.

The barn will be the only one of its kind in the nation.

New Concept

The structure will be divided into three 50- by 42-foot compartments, according to Russell Johannes, farm superintendent. Each compartment will provide space for 20 dairy cows.

The first will be an insulated free-stall system with slotted floor and a liquid manure tank. The second section will house cattle in a warm, free-stall area with concrete floor. The third compartment will be uninsulated with a concrete floor.

Automatic scraping units will clean both sections with concrete floors. Waste will be transported to an underground tank where it will be mixed and ground and then pumped into a storage lagoon,

Nun Slams Farmers for Disunity

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Roman Catholic nun contends that part of agriculture's troubles can be traced to some farming leaders who "wouldn't warm up to each other even if they were cremated together."

Sister Thomas More told the Kentucky Bankers Association that the largest farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, has a "Greta Garbo mentality—they want to be let alone."

The social scientist from Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wis., also said Tuesday that because of the division, farmers have lost their power in state and national legislatures.

She predicted that unity will come whether by voluntary means or imposed by government programs. One step in that direction, she continued, is the fact that 74 farm groups formed a coalition to work on a new farm program this year.

Sister More said farmers must orient their production to consumer demands and must be willing to spend a little on research to develop new products.

"I know farmers who lost sleep wondering what the American Dairy Association does with its pun budget—to which they contribute—but never lose a wink worrying what A.O. Smith —a silo manufacturer—does with the $58,000 they have just paid for their blue silos," she said.

Outagamie DHIA Plans Annual Rally

The future of dairying will be discussed during the 28th annual Outagamie County Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) meeting at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at Romy's New Nitingale, route 2, Black Creek.

Prof. James Crowley, University of Wisconsin extension dairy specialist, will forecast the future for dairy farmers during the 1970's.

Members also will elect directors at the meeting for the terms of Lloyd Schuessler, standard representative, southeast district and Don Vande Hei, owner sampler, east district.

Experience Pays at Northeast Show

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — Experience and family precedence paid off in the selection of grand champions here Tuesday for the 26th annual Northeastern Wisconsin Junior Livestock Show.

The winners were:

—Steve Vinz, 15, Dalton (Green Lake County), with the grand champion steer, a 985-pound Shorthorn summer yearling.

—Cheryl Mertz, 13, route 1, Hilbert (Calumet County), with a 225-pound Hampshire picked as the grand champion barrow.

—Thomas Van Rossum, 16, route 3, Kaukauna (Brown County) with the grand champion lamb, a Hampshire weighing 102 pounds.

It was a consecutive repeat performance for Van Rossum. Last year he won the top lamb prize with a crossbred.

Experience Shows

The three exhibitors have a combined total of 18 years in junior shows at the Brown County Fairgrounds. All three have family members with grand championship trophies from previous shows.

Stiff competition, as acknowledged by hard-working judges, was encountered by the animals and their owners in reaching their championships.

Registered from 14 counties, 209 members of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmer of America chapters entered 125 steers, 218 barrows and 100 lambs for the event.

Auction Climax

It came to an excitement-ridden climax as the animals took their turns, one by one, in the auction ring.

Milk Price Hits $5.19 In Chicago

A minimum blend price of $5.19 a hundred weight would be paid to producers of Grade A milk delivered in August to plants within the base zone of the Chicago market.

This price is an increase of 13 cents from a year ago and a four-cent boost from last month as computed by federal order market officials.

The $5.19 producer price is a blend of the $5.80 Class I fluid milk price and of the $4.61 Class II or manufacturing milk price. From a $5.19 blend price, the producer receives approximately 11.16 cents per quart.

About 43 per cent of an estimated 623 million pounds of milk was used in the higher Class I price category. Last month the utilization was 39 per cent of 659 million pounds.

The blend price is reduced by two cents for each 15-mile wide zone beyond the base zone and an 85-mile zone as measured from the Chicago city hall.

Marketing service charges and farm to market hauling charges are paid by dairy farmers out of all quoted prices.

Senate Tosses Out $20,000 Ceiling on Farm Programs

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate, approving a three-year $3.5 billion agriculture authorization bill, has rejected overwhelmingly an attempt to impose a $20,000 limit on subsidies paid farmers for not farming.

The action virtually assures adoption of a $55,000 per-crop limit on cotton, feed grain and wheat subsidies. No ceiling has ever been placed on the payments.

Vote 44-20

By a 44-20 vote, the Senate Tuesday reversed an earlier decision in which the $20,000 ceiling had been written into the agriculture appropriations bill. The big authorization bill then was passed by a 64-7 vote.

The bill now goes to a conference with the House which passed a different version. But the House bill also includes the $55,000 subsidy limit.

Both versions provide for extension of price support, loan guarantee and subsidy payments and other programs affecting operations of most of the nation's farms.

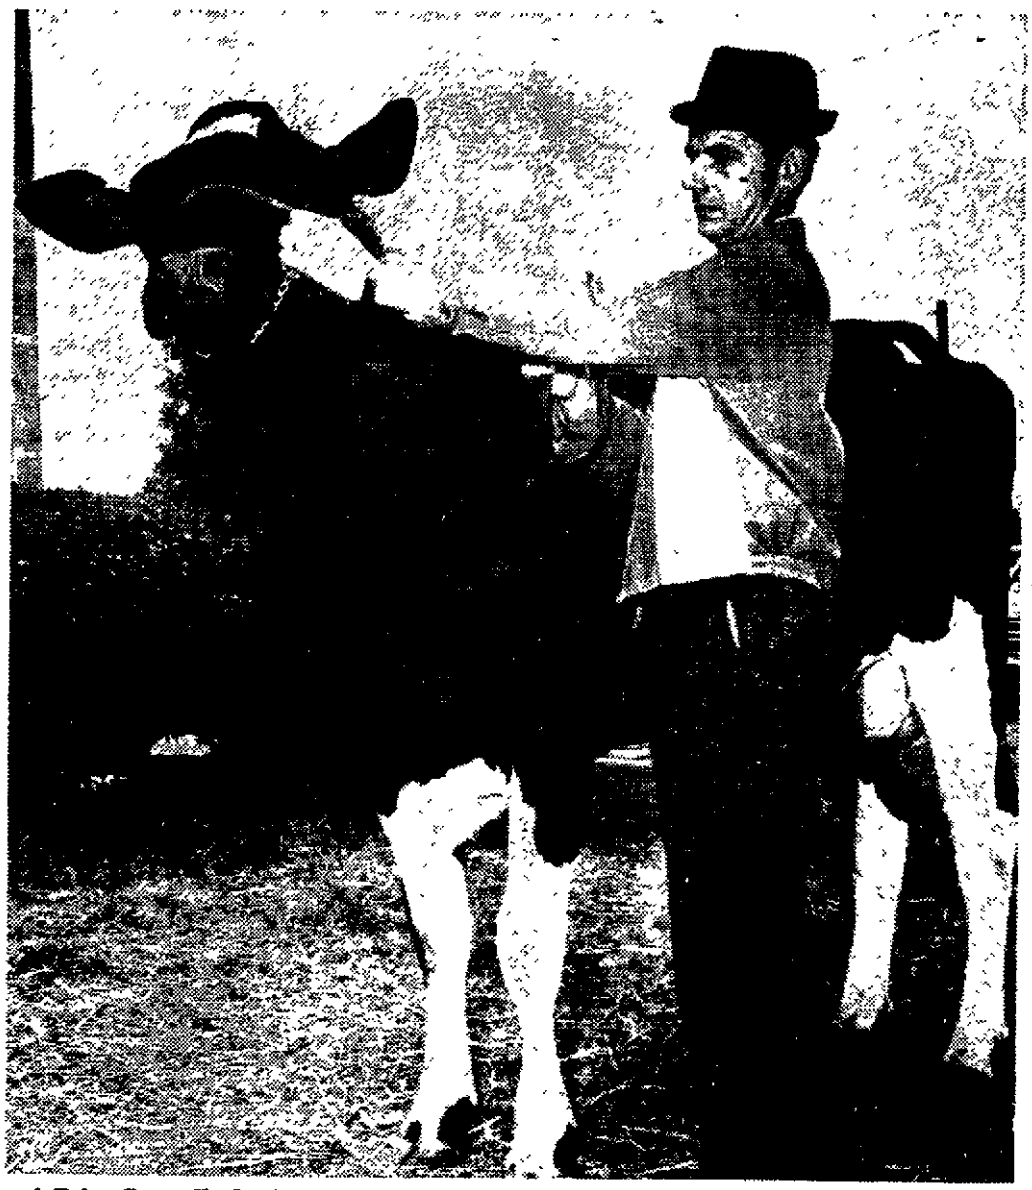

Sen. Ralph T. Smith, R-Ill., sponsor of the $20,000 limit, argued that because the $55,000 ceiling was on crops — and not on farmers — a grower withholding wheat, cotton and feed grain land from production will be able to reap up to $165,000 in subsidies.

Smith said the $55,000 limit would save taxpayers only $48 million a year, while his lower ceiling would have saved $345 million and have affected 10 times the 1,100 producers covered by the version which passed.

Smith said his amendments were aimed not at small farmers but at big agriculture corporations, some of which have received as much as $4 million in a single year for holding their lands out of production.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., Agriculture Committee chairman, and other senators contended a $20,000 limit would "destroy our farm program."

"It would mean that many large producers no longer would come under the program and limit their crops, and we would have uncontrolled production which would be disastrous," Ellender said.

A Prize Cow sells for $2,100. Fritz Holschbach, of Lakeside Farms, Elkhart Lake, holds a two-year-old Holstein which was the top-priced cow at the annual Calumet County 400 Sale. The cow was consigned by Leonard Woelfel, route 1, Hilbert.

Holstein Sells for $2,100

CHILTON — Bidders raised the price of a bred heifer to $2,100 here setting record price at the 28th annual Calumet 400 Sale.

Fritz Holsbach, herdsman, purchased the heifer for Lakeside Farm, Elkhart Lake, during the sale at Calumet Arena in the county fairgrounds.

The heifer had been consigned by Leonard Woelfel, Hilbert, and led prices for 71 Holsteins at the annual Calumet County sale.

The heifer, Lenfel Black Eagle Dorothy, is carrying a calf by Lenfel Charmer Paul, son of Glenaftan Rag Apple Charmer. She was sired by Paclamar Ivanhoe Black Eagle, classified excellent and a Gold Medal Sire. Her dam is Lenfel Dee Ann Dillie. As a four-year-old the dam has records of 19,406 pounds of milk and 795 pounds of butterfat and 18,033 pounds of milk and 747 pounds of butterfat in two lactations. The cow is expected to exceed 750 pounds of butterfat in her present lactations.

Eleven cows in the sale averaged $830. Forty bred heifers averaged $702. Three bulls were consigned for the sale and averaged $405.

Howard Lehner, Oconto Falls, bought the top-priced bull, consigned by Lakeside Farm, at an even $600.

Sixteen baby heifer calves averaged $225.

Although most of the Holsteins were purchased by northeast Wisconsin buyers two were sold to Illinois buyers and one to a Tennessee buyer.

The sale was first conducted in 1943 when 25 bulls were offered. The top bull then averaged $510 and the bulls averaged $241.

Don Steege, Chilton, managed the 1970 sale. Steege also read pedigrees of the Holsteins. Jerry Askew, Urbana, Ohio was auctioneer. Victor Voight and Merle Howard worked in the ring, Joe Brantmeier, Sherwood, and Jim Coffeen, Chilton, were leadsmen. Joseph Mirshberger, route 2, Hilbert, was barn superintendent.

Knowles Kicks Off Apple Day

MENOMINEE — It's Apple time in Wisconsin. Gov. Warren P. Knowles was to have officially opened a state campaign today lauding the state apple industry here at Sunridge Apple Orchard.

A promotion program started here today will cover the state. Wisconsin apple growers produce an estimated 1.5 million bushels each year which sell for an estimated $6 million.

There are 9,000 acres of apple trees in the state.

Markets Vary

Most apples are sold fresh in stores or at roadside markets but many also are used in processing for sauce, pie fillings, cider and vinegar.

Every county in Wisconsin has apple trees, but about 30 counties are the commercial producers. Apple production is a major type of agriculture in Bayfield, Crawford, Door, Ozaukee and Trempealeau counties.

Sturgeon Bay

The beautiful orchards of the Sturgeon Bay area and the Kickapoo River Valley are well-known to tourists who drive through the area in May at blossom time or in October when the red fruit is being sold along the roadsides.

Wisconsin grows a number of apple varieties, some old and traditional.

Wisconsin Senators Back ASCS Limits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin Democrats Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire were among the 20 senators who voted unsuccessfully Tuesday for an amendment that would have put a $20,000 ceiling on subsidy payments to farmers.

The amendment, proposed by Sen. Ralph T. Smith, R-Ill., was defeated 44-20.

Coach Nixon Presents Political Game Plan

BY ART BUCHWALD

The national political football season has just opened, and Coach Dick Nixon has indicated he hopes to drop several Democrats from the United States congressional team.

He has assigned the task of getting rid of these players to

Buchwald

Assistant Coach Spiro Agnew.

"Our motto here," Agnew told reporters in the White House locker room, "is you either play for Coach Dick Nixon, or you don't play at all."

"Then you hope to get as many Republicans on the congressional team as possible?" a reporter asked.

"That's correct. Wer'e sick and tired of mealy-mouth defeatist, radical-liberal players who have been trying to wreck Coach Nixon's game plan. We don't want them here, and we're going to do everything in our power to see they don't come back."

"Then you feel there are disloyal elements on the team?"

Cause Dissension

"I don't feel it. I know it. The Democrats have been causing dissension ever since Coach Nixon took over. They've been running down Nixon's strategy, praising our opponents and keeping us from winning a game. They're playing only to the students, radicals, bomb throwers, peaceniks, pornographers and long-hairs in the stands. We feel these hopeless hysterical hypochondriacs have no right to wear the red, white and blue colors of the United States team."

"Coach Agnew, are you saying the Democratic members of the team are responsible for all the disruptions in the stands?"

"Thats' correct. These Democrat troglodytic leftist players have encouraged defiance of authority, have been responsible for destroying the cheer-leading for Coach Nixon, and have made it possible for the other teams to think they can beat us. We're going to weed out these effete malcontents and make sure only true-blue Americans suit up for Uncle Sam."

"There has been some question raised, Coach Agnew, that Coach Nixon's strategy leaves a lot to be desired."

Nothing Good

"This question was raised by the Eastern Establishment sports' press," said Agnew angrily. "The columnists and reporters keep writing what's wrong with the team, but they never say anything about what we're doing right. Why don't your sports writers tell the truth?"

"What is the truth, Coach?"

"That Coach Nixon is the greatest coach in the history of political football. He plays hard and he plays dirty, and he expects nothing less from any of us. But every time he comes up with a sure-fire play, the radical liberals try to block it, or start their pusillanimous pussy-footing around the wrong end. The fans are getting sick and tired of it."

A trainer started to rub some invective into Coach Agnew's spleen.

"Ah," he said, "that feels good. Well, gentlemen, I have to go on the field now and see how many goldbricking nabobs of negativisim I can bump from the squad. Are there any more questions?"

"One more, Coach, What does your defense look like?"

"It's never been better. If we win any games this year Coach Nixon will get all the credit. If we lose any we'll blame it all on Coach Lyndon Johnson who messed up everything before we took over the team."

Buckley Loses Again

More Days for Ehricke

Welfare Director Merton C. Ehricke won three more days' excused absence from City Hall for State Welfare Task Force work Wednesday night, as the City Council continued to back Ehricke and buck Mayor George Buckley.

In addition, the council gave back to Ehricke a day's vacation time he used in order to attend a Task Force hearing Wednesday in Milwaukee, and waived a 30-day notice requirement to grant his request for permission to attend a final hearing today in Racine.

Buckley apparently has used Ehricke's attendance at various functions of the task force to keep alive his campaign against the director and his department.

The mayor has complained that Ehricke already has exceeded the 10-day limit on out-of-town travel for department heads. The majority of aldermen have held that they authorized Ehricke to serve on the group studying ways to streamline welfare laws, and therefore should support his continued participation until the job is done.

Ald. Edward Maloney (9th), council welfare and ordinance chairman, recommended adding three more days to those already approved to permit Ehricke to attend executive sessions of the task force at which legislative proposals are to be hashed over following the current round of hearings.

The council approved, 15-3. Then eight aldermen submitted a resolution to give Ehricke back vacation time he used to attend Wednesday's hearing, an action he said he took to avoid embarrassing council supporters who would unable to vote until after he already had attended the session.

That measure passed 12-6.

Not included in the proposal was a trip Ehricke took to Washington recently to testify with other task force members before a U. S. Senate committee. He used three days' vacation for that.

Waste Disposal Problems Increase

By C. YATES MCDANIEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bulging American appetite for meat is literally piling up mountainous problems of animal waste use and disposal.

Gone are the days when most animals roamed range, pasture or farm land to graze or grub for food and in the process scattered manure around the rural landscape until shortly before the last move to the slaughter market.

Now there are feedlots handling thousands and tens of thousands head of cattle, assembly line poultry establishments and confinement feeder pig systems.

Humans, who after all dictated the changes and must solve or control the problem might better comprehend its massiveness when expressed in human equivalents.

Government specialists have calculated that the total amount of waste accumulated by large scale livestock operations is now approximately equal to the human waste produced by the entire population of the United States.

Omitted from the calculation is the volume of animal waste that is used or must be disposed of in small-scale feeding operations or dispersed on farms and ranges.

A breakdown of the figures shows that five million feedlot cattle produce the waste equivalent of 50 million people, that the droppings of seven million milk cows is equal to the human waste of 105 million people.

Other waste equivalents include 100 million laying hens— 10 million people; 50 million turkeys—five million humans; 400 million broilers—20 million humans; 2 million lambs on feed —one million people.

Under and about large feedlot areas nitrogen in excess of any possible usage by growing plants becomes a pollutant to soil, air, plants and water.

Government tests have shown that as much as nine-tenths of the urinary nitrogen excreted on a large feedlot can be released directly in the air in the form of vaporized ammonia and give overdoses of nitrogen to lakes a mile or more away.

All waste disposal methods tried to date have drawbacks, among them being cost, which often exceed the value of the waste or the user. Composting and ultimate return to the soil appears to be one solution. But this takes time and space. Dehydration and incineration also have their advocates.

But no method or technique so far cover the whole problem at acceptable cost.

Recent experiments indicate that for dairy herds of more than 50 cows, waste disposal is simplified at bearable costs by liquifying manure, storing it in tanks that are drained twice a year and the product spread where it can be spread in controlled quantities to fertilize pastures.

Ideally, excess liquified manure can be sold, and for a profit, test figures show an average value of $32 annually per cow. Untreated manure sells for a lot less, because liquid storage improves the fertilizing quality of cattle excrement by conserving about 75 per cent of the original nitrogen and 90 per cent of the phosphates and potash. This adds up to a nutrient value for liquid manure that is 1.6 times greater than that of the raw product.

Experience Pays at Northeast Show

Madison, of the University of Wisconsin, judged the steers. A methodical, deliberate man in the show ring, he took the time and pains to make constructive comments to each exhibitor.

This was the seventh year at the show for Steve Vinz, and his beautifully groomed Shorthorn, named Roanoke, showed the marks of good training.

Hard Work

"I have been working on him since Christmas," young Vinz explained.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Vinz, Steve is a member of the Dalton Doers 4-H Club and the Markesan Future Farmers of America. He is a junior at Markesan High School.

Beef production is a Vinz family enterprise, with about 500 head fed out annually. Steve won the Shorthorn breed championship here in 1967. His brother, Morris Jr., had the grand champion steer in 1966.

Hilbert Winner

Though she is but 13, this was the fourth year at the show for Cheryl Mertz. She raised six hogs as a project in the Rantoul Center 4-H Club this year. Last year, she said, she picked up valuable tips that helped her a great deal.

A freshman at Chilton High School, Cheryl is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mertz. Her sister, Joanne, then only nine years old, had the grand champion barrow in 1968. Her brother, Dale, won the crown five years ago.

Joanne and Dale were back this year, both finishing high in the Hampshire class.

Beef Test

"If I make it again next year," Van Rossum speculated, "I get to keep that big traveling trophy."

And with two in a row, the odds must be with him.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Rossum, Tom now has participated in seven shows. He is a junior at Wrightstown High School, and is a member of the FFA there and also a member of the Zooming Zephers 4-H Club.

Tom raised 30 lambs this year. He has six brothers and sisters who have been exhibitors at the Northeastern event. One brother, Gerald, now running the family farm, had the grand champion steer, an Angus, in 1958.

The reserve champion steer was an Angus-Charolais cross shown by Dean Abendroth, route 3, Markesan, in Green Lake County. Among the heftier animals in the show, it weighed in at 1,179 pounds.

Wayne Novy, route 1, Whitelaw, in Manitowoc County, won the reserve championship for the barrows. The 208-pound porker was a Hampshire.

The reserve champion lamb brought Green Lake County still another high award. It was a Shropshire exhibited by Kathy Pahl, route 2, Ripon.

Duane Richards, route 3, Lodi, judged the lambs. Barrow placings were the verdict of UW Prof. Nel First.

Showmanship Award

Robert Boehlke, route 1, Random Lake, in Sheboygan County, won the beef showmanship award.

A Fond du Lac County youth, Randall Schussman, of route 1, Malone, placed first in barrow showmanship.

For the lamb exhibitors, showmanship honors went to Kathy Pahl, of route 2, Ripon, another Green Lake County entrant.

Champion Steer Sells for $1,329

DE PERE - Skies brightened here Wednesday as bidders pushed prices to $1,329 for the grand champion steer, a Shorthorn, at the Northeast Wisconsin Livestock Show.

The summer yearling Shorthorn, which took the top title Tuesday, was exhibited by Steve Vinz, 15, Dalton. Vinz had worked since Christmas to prepare the steer, named Roanoke, for the sale.

Schuster Construction Company, Green Bay, pushed the pricetag to $1.35 per pound for the 985-pound animal.

An Angus-Charolais crossbred captured the title of reserve champion steer and sold for $1,002. The steer, which weighed 1,179 pounds was purchased for 85 cents per pound by the Downtowner Motel, Green Bay.

Bidding for the championship barrow climbed to a record price in the 26-year history of the show. The top price, $978, went to a 13-year-old Hilbert girl, Cheryl Mertz, route 1. Her prize 225-pound Hampshire was purchased for $4.35 per pound by Schuster Construction Company, Green Bay.

The reserve Champion Barrow, a 208-pound Hampshire exhibited by Wayne Novy, route 1, Whitelaw, brought $384. The Downtowner Motel, Green Bay, won the final bid of $1.85 for the porker.

Thomas Van Rossum, 16, route 3, Kaukauna, received $510 for his grand champion wether. The 102-pound Hampshire was purchased for $5 per pound by Harmann Studios, Luxemburg, Algoma and Sturgeon Bay.

The reserve champion wether, a Shropshire, exhibited by Kathy Pahl, route 2, Ripon, sold for $200. The Markesan Co-op, Markesan, paid $1.10 for the 90-pound lamb.

UW Farm Examines Waste Disposal

according to Johannes.

An existing barn will be remodeled to provide 36- by 40-foot areas for young stock.

"This gives a lot of latitude," remarked Johannes. It is the first time differing housing and waste disposal systems have been tried under the same roof, he said.

Research on the farm will attempt to find ways dairy farmers can efficiently dispose of animal waste without causing pollution. "It'll provide some of the answers we don't know now before actual regulations are made."

Studies will be geared to aid farms with an average of 40-cow-herds. The work could guide future regulations. "I think we need some good basic facts," said Johannes.

Other universities have studied ways farmers can operate sewerage systems. The farm here will instead seek ways manure can be utilized, said Johannes. "To me it would seem that the wise thing is to recirculate the material."

By installing costly disposal systems farmers destroy valuable fertilizer, he said.

State Well Code Gets Federal OK

A state-federal pact signed recently will enable many Wisconsin dairymen to meet milk inspection standards without altering wells.

The memorandum of understanding was signed recently by the state agriculture department and United States Food and Drug Administration-Public Health Agency officials.

Previously federal standards, set by the Pasteurized Milk Ordinance Standard, required wells to be 100 feet from any possible source of contamination to water sources.

Wisconsin Code

Many Wisconsin farms operate with wells built according to the state well code which specifies only a 50-foot distance, according to Robert Probst, of the state agriculture department.

Although the federal regulation was written as a national standard, the memorandum of understanding will permit Wisconsin farmers to continue sales of milk with present wells. "They (Federal officials) would not insist on the 100-foot requirement," said Probst.

Milk which is shipped to Chicago also must meet Chicago Board of Health inspection. Probst said, however, that health officials in Chicago have indicated they will honor the memorandum of understanding.

Chicago Standards

Earlier Chicago inspectors enforced standards demanding a 100-foot distance for well locations, because of a lack of other guidelines, said Probst.

"Chicago is still an autonomous milk buying market," he remarked. Chicago may specify strict inspection, explained Probst.

A 100-foot limit on well locations in Wisconsin could have forced many farmers to revamp operations, noted Probst. "There are quite a number of wells that wouldn't make it."

He said limits on the wells not meeting the federal standard would have restricted the flow of milk "quite a bit."

Seed Corn Labels May Reveal Susceptibility

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. — Labels on seed corn may indicate susceptibility to Southern Leaf Blight, during 1971.

Program Outlined

The per cent of Texas male sterile cytoplasm will be placed on labels, according to the association proposal.

An official okay for the plan now will be sought from the United States Department of Agriculture, according to John I. Sutherland, executive vice president of the organization.

Pinch Being Felt As GM Strike In Fourth Day

Michigan Hardest Hit but Other Units Of UAW Are Laid Off

DETROIT (AP) —The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

More Layoffs

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,99 8 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the strike, almost 16 per cent of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufacture parts vital to other automakers. However, since G M is its own parts plants' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production.

Welfare authorities in Oakland County, just north of Detroit, announced they are setting up a special office to deal with strike-related hardship cases. In Pontiac, the county seat with a population of 83,000, there are 27,000 GM employes on strike.

New Proposal Looks Familar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Cong's "new" eight-point peace plan has a familiar and unacceptable look to Washington officials.

Under the enemy offer, presented in Paris Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Nguyen Thi Binh, Saigon's Thieu-Ky government would be replaced and the United States would have to promise to get its troops out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

In return, the Viet Cong would refrain from attacking the withdrawing allied troops and would discuss future peace arrangements including release of prisoners.

U.S. authorities here and in Paris have agreed to scan the Binh proposal carefully for any possible new openings. But in general, they said, it appears to be a retread of past offers.

Although a Viet Cong spokesman said the plan contains new points, the text received here showed Mrs. Binh herself described the material only as an elaboration of the Viet Cong's previous 10-point proposal.

Officials here noted the enemy already had proposed a time limit for U.S. withdrawals. Last December the enemy offered a six-month limit.

The 10-point plan and other North Vietnamese-Viet Cong proposals have provided for negotiating a prisoner release after the fighting ends. And ouster of the Thieu-Ky regime is standard fare in enemy demands.

U.S. officials said the American ambassador at the Paris peace talks, David K. E. Bruce, is willing to talk with Hanoi-Viet Cong envoys about any point they may put forward as part of unconditional discussions.

But the United States, they said, will not accept such demands as conditions for the beginning of serious peace negotiations.

Thus, the prospect for progress toward a negotiated end to the Vietnam war does not appear any brighter now than when the Paris talks began 2½ years ago.

Policeman Dies in Toledo Shooting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A policeman was shot to death at point-blank range in his patrol car early today and the slaying touched off a six-hour siege by police against snipers in a building housing a Black Panther headquarters.

Teen

One armed teenager was critically wounded in the ensuing exchange of gunfire as he fled the building, police said. Others who fled fired on police from nearby buildings.

One man was arrested and charged with the policeman's death.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier distrubance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner. Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead was Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro innercity area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officer's head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscannon.

In the ensuing gunfire, several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

They found the building empty.

Officers identified the wounded youth as Troy Montgomery, 16. They said he came out of the building with a rifle in his hand and a bandilio of ammunition over his shoulder.

Police were uncertain how many persons had been in the building and fled during the siege.

John Melvin McClellan, 26, of Toledo, was arrested nearby and charged with murder of Miscannon.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects those firing took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said. "I have a little reason to believe that, but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Release Sought

Shortly before midnight Wednesday about 20 Negroes wearing Black Panther emblems turned up at police headquarters demanding the release of James Dotson.

Police said Dotson was jailed Wednesday night for resisting arrest when traffic warrants were served on him.

Police started to arrest a woman in the group for using abusive language when a fist-fight broke out. Four adults and two juveniles were arrested and the others fled.

Police reported the Panthers had threatened to bomb the police station earlier in the day unless Dotson was released.

Chief Bosch, however, said he did not believe the Dotson incident prompted Miscannon's shooting.

Underground H-Bomb Could Produce Pollution-Free Power

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Hydrogen bombs exploded in layers of hot rock two miles underground may provide a pollution-free future power source for producing electricity.

The project, called Plowshare-geothermal, was conceived by the American Oil Shale Corp. of Salt Lake City. It sought to line up financial backing at a briefing for utility company executives—also attended by government officials—which ended this week.

Natural steam and hot springs have been tapped for power in various parts of the world, but the yield has been too limited and too expensive for large scale use.

Plowshare - geothermal, name for the Atomic Energy Commission's Plowshare program of developing peaceful uses for nuclear energy, proposes to use a series of hydrogen bombs to fracture the dry, hot rock that exists under portions of 10 Western states at depths beginning at 10,000 feet. Water would be piped into the fractured rock and turned to steam by the 350-degree heat.

Captured as it flowed to the surface through the fracture, the superheated steam would be piped to the turbires of a conventional electrical generating station. The steam would then condense into water, which would be recirculated.

"We are very high on it," said Fred Russell, an undersecretary of interior. "It is reasonable to expect that to have a pollution free source of power would be appealing."

The Salt Lake City firm has commissioned a feasibility study in which the AEC is participating. Results of the study will be ready next February.

"We are fairly optimistic at this stage," said John Kelly, director of the AEC's Division of Peaceful Nuclear Explosives. "With today's concern about environment, we have to take it seriously."

Because of the depth at which the hydrogen bombs would be detonated, there would be little danger of radiation leaking to the surface, Kelly said.

The danger of ground water contamination is limited because the concept calls for explosions of the nuclear devices in areas isolated from underground fissures that could drain off the steam, he added.

Rod Dixon, president of American Oil Shale, said many problems remained but that Plowshare-geothermal could be producing power from plants in Nevada or Utah by the end of the decade.

Times Square Boasts Bulletproof Booth

NEW YORK (AP)r—The city subway system's first bullet-proof change booth has been put into service at Times Square.

The new booth with walls of 3¼-inch fiberglass and windows of two-inch glass is designed to stem the rising tide of robberies.

The Transit Authority said 461 actual or attempted robberies took place during the first eight months this year as compared with 178 in the same period a year ago.

Train Is Derailed In Portage County

ALMOND, Wis. (AP) — Sixteen cars of a Chicago and North Western freight train derailed Thursday night near Almond in Portage County's southern tip.

Authorities said nobody was injured, but railroad traffic was blocked and crews and equipment from Appleton would be called to clear the wreckage.

There was no immediate damage estimate and officials said they did not know what caused the derailment.

'Big 4' Plea Made at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann is expected to urge more Big Four guidance on the Middle East in a speech set for delivery today at the 25th U.N. General Assembly.

Later, the assembly will consider a recommendation approved unanimously by its steering committee Thursday night that it debate the Middle East situation in urgent plenary meetings.

Advance indications were that Schumann would ask the other Big Four nations—the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union—to join France in giving U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring suggestions to pass along to the Arabs and Israelis on how to end the Middle East conflict.

Jarring began indirect peace talks Aug. 25 in New York with Egyptian, Jordanian and Israeli delegates. Israel withdrew from the negotiations on Sept. 6, charging that Egypt had violated an accompanying cease-fire agreement by setting up new antiaircraft emplacements along the Suez Canal.

The United States initiated the talks and is trying to get them started again. The U.N. delegates of the Big Four nations have long been discussing the Middle East situation at private meetings in New York, but emphasis shifted to Jarring's mission after Egypt, Israel and Jordan accepted the U.S. peace-talks initiative.

The last Big Four meeting was held Monday and the next is scheduled Sept. 30.

Diplomatic sources said that at the last meeting, all four diplomats expressed anxiety over the state of the cease-fire, the delay in launching substantive talks through Jarring, and the general Middle East situation, including Palestinian hijackings of airliners.

But mainly, the sources said, the delagates worked on providing guidance for Jarring.

The proposal that the assembly debate the Middle East situation was made by Iraqi Ambassador Talib Al Shabib at the request of Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed Hassan El Zayyat, who is not a steering committee member.

Al Shabib blamed Israel for the worsening situation in the Middle East and said the rights of the Palestinians have been trampled on. He made no reference to the fighting in Jordan between the army and Palestinian guerillas.

The situation in the Middle East has been on the assembly's agenda at every annual session since the 1967 war.

Cease-Fire Order Given In Jordan

Temporary Halt Intended to Let Rebels Surrender

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Field Marshal Habis Majali ordered the Jordanian army to observe a temporary cease-fire today to give guerrilla forces an opportunity to surrender without further bloodshed.

Majali's statement was broadcast by Jordan's official radio from Amman, the capital.

The cease-fire order came in the second day of sharp fighting in Jordan. It spread into northern Jordan near the Syrian border during the day. The army claimed it was in control in Amman and the former guerrilla stronghold of Zarqa, 15 miles northeast of Amman.

A military communique said King Hussein's forces controlled 16 Amman districts and were carrying out mopping up operations.

There remained no word about the Wahdat area in the outskirts where 54 hostages from last week's air hijackings are believed held. Neither side has mentioned the hostages in the past two days.

The wording of Marshal Majali's cease-fire order made it clear he was not prepared now to negotiate with the guerrillas on the terms he had offered them on Thursday. King Hussein named Majali to head the Jordanian government on Wednesday. Fighting broke out shortly afterward.

The top guerrilla command rejected Majali's cease-fire offer on Thursday. The terms included acceptance by the guerrillas of an army safe conduct to the front line with Israel, where they could fight "the common enemy."

The broadcast did not state the time limit for the cease-fire.

Guerrilla communiques broadcast by radio stations in Syria and Iraq claimed fighting continued in Amman and elsewhere. Bloody clashes were reported during the night.

Local Cuts, Not Aid Boost Best Curb to Tax Hike

MADISON (AP)—Reduced local government spending, not more state aid, is the best way to curb soaring property taxes, the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin said Thursday.

The survey, a nonpolitcal taxpayers' organization, said state money payments to local governments has "virtually kept pace with property tax collection growth" in Wisconsin.

Since direct property tax relief was instituted six years ago, the survey said, "state aids and shared taxes went up 72 per cent with property taxes rising 76 per cent."

Local officials should curb their own agencies' spending rather than go to the legislature for more state assistance.

"Since the expenditures are the cause of taxes and the degree of the tax burden reflects the rate of spending," the survey said.

BBC Will Pair Russian Dancers

LONDON (AP) — Natalia Makarova, the Soviet ballerina who defected to Britain this month, will renew her partnership with Rudolf Nureyev, the British Broadcasting Corp. said today.

Friends said the initiative came from Nureyev, who defected from Leningrad's Kirov ballet nine years ago.

The BBC said negotiations had opened for the two dancer's to appear on a television program later this year. Arrangements have not been completed; but Makarova, and Nureyev are expected to include the Pas De Deux adagio from Swan Lake.

Israel May Get New Aid Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reportedly was prepared today to promise Israeli Premier Golda Meir extensive new economic aid and continuing military assistance, while urging her to end promptly her boycott of Middle East peace talks.

The plain-spoken 72-year-old Israeli leader went into today's round of talks with Nixon and other high U S officials expected to emphasize her government's dissatisfaction over Amerian failure to demand that Egypt roll back missile bases deployed near the Suez Canal in alleged violation of the military standstill agreement sponsored by the United States

Against the background of new Middle East violence centered in Jordan, Mrs. Meir began her talks at 9 a.m., EDT, in a meeting with Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

She was scheduled to confer with President Nixon two hours later.

Arab ambassadors in Washington asked and got an appointment with Rogers later in the day.

Although officials said they did not know what the ambassadors want, the assumption is that they want to be briefed on Mrs. Meir's visit

U.S. officials hoped Nixon's fresh assurance of support would be sufficient to offset Mrs. Meir's concern that Israel had been placed at a severe military disadvantage on the Suez front since the cease-fire went into effect Aug 8 She has refused to let her representatives engage in preliminary peace exchanges with Arab envoys at the United Nations because of the missile issue.

Charges Backed

The United States has backed Israel's charge that Egypt has violated the military - standstill accord which is part of the cease-fire agreement. Washington has called on Egypt and Russia, which supplies the antiaircraft missiles, to "rectify" the deployment.

But the Nixon administration has refused to say what "rectification" means, and officials here see no prospect that the new antiaircraft emplacements will be pulled back from the cease-fire zone.

Diplomats report Israeli leaders feel they have been let down by the United States.

No Final Decision

The Nixon administration is designing an Israeli aid package, reported to total $400 million to $500 million, but officials say no final decision on exactly what the package will contain has been made. The aid would be given over several years.

It is understood that Israel, which has been under growing economic pressures because of the costs of war, sent the United States some time ago a shopping list of things it needs The cost: $1 billion over five years.

Substantial American economic assistance to Israel stopped about eight years ago. The United States has supplied military armaments in considerable quantities since that time but they have been sold—not given—to Israel.

Following the 1967 Israeli-Arab war—the six-day war which Israel won—there was a period of quiet until about 18 months ago when Egypt denounced the cease-fire then in existence. Until the new truce went into effect the two countries had been engaged in almost continuous conflict. The cost created a severe drain on Israel's economy.

Charges Rejected

In spite of Egypt's missile deployments in the cease-fire zone —Cairo has rejected charges its activities violated the stand-still agreement—U.S officials say privately that Israel still has over-all military superiority.

Overshadowing Mrs. Meir's meeting with the President was the new eruption of warfare in Jordan between King Hussein's army and Palestinian guerrilla forces, which, in Washington's view, has a direct bearing on the future of U.S. peace efforts. The Palestinians are opposed to the American peace plan, backed by Hussein, and have declared their determination to smash it. The guerrillas demonstrated their power to defy his authority and to disrupt order by hijacking American, Swiss and British jetliners, forcing them to land in Jordan and making hostages of crew members and passengers.

Over-all, Washington authorities see little hope of a successful Israeli-Arab peace negotiation involving Jordan unless a responsible government in Amman can assert its authority over the Palestinians.

The official view here in advance of Mrs. Meir's arrival was that Israel could not be expected to make a peace agreement with any government unable to enforce it.

Chilton Survey Will Reveal Housing Need

Jaycettes to Hold Interviews With Elderly Citizens

CHILTON — A full-scale survey of all elderly people interested in low-rent housing will be made by the Chilton Jaycettes under the direction of Mrs Walter Pendl, president.

Responses to preliminary questionnaires placed at the banks and churches in the city which were received by the City Housing Authority have been favorable.

Earl Lintner, housing authority chairman, expressed appreciation for the answers to the questionnaires and announced that the full-scale survey would be made.

Each block in the city will be surveyed. Anyone having questions about the form will receive help from the Jaycettes. Anyone who is missed can call Mrs. Pendl or the city clerk.

The survey is expected to be completed by the end of September so that the housing authority can make final preparation for an application for the number of units needed.

Applicants for the facilitities must have passed their 62nd birthday. Because of the low rent range, certain maximum income limitations must be set. Consequently, the committee believes that the survey will not only reveal the interest of senior citizens but also will help to determine the approximate number of units Chilton needs.

Meeting at Church Set For Senior Citizens

NEW LONDON — The Senior Citizens Club will meet on Sept. 28 at the United Methodist Church.

The meeting will have a social program starting at 1:30 p.m., which will include card playing.

Waupaca Awards $97,866 Contract

Eau Claire Firm to Hook Up Well Line

WAUPACA — An Eau Claire firm's bid of $97,866 to furnish steel transmission line for the 9,950 feet from the city's well No. 5 in the Town of Lind to connection with the distribution system at Berlin and Park streets was approved Thursday by the City Council.

Armco Steel Corp. was selected as the low qualifying bidder on pipe, valves and necessary fittings at a special meeting Thursday.

Seven firms bid on the transmission line material at Tuesday's bid opening. Bids ranged from $86,346 by American Iron Pipe Co., Chicago, was withdrawn by the bidder when he discovered an error in his firm's computation.

Additional Valve

$2,134 of the estimated $100,000 cost for the transmission line material. The firm's original bid was $96,636. However, the state has requested that a fourth valve be installed in the line, making two at the Crystal River crossing. This additional value costs $1,230.

Tuesday the council authorized the Board of Public Works to tabulate the three lowest bids received and issue a contract for the low qualifying bid which would meet specifications and "be most advantageous to the city."

Ald. Julius Johnson, 4th, chairman of the Board of Public Works, told councilmen Thursday that the board and director of public works had spent two days checking and evaluating the bids received.

One of the important factors to be considered was the type of pipe to be used, ductile or steel, for the 20-inch transmission line. Hal Crinion, sales engineer for Armco Steel Corp., explained the differences and advantages of the two and showed slides on the installation of his firm's steel pipe.

40-Foot Lengths

The steel pipe contracted for has a cement-mortar lining, is coal-tar enameled and wrapped with asbestos felt, minimizing corrosion and encrustation to two per cent. It will be laid in 40-foot lengths with a spigot end which fits easily into an o-ring joint. The joint is sealed with a coat of coal-tar enamel to prevent leaking.

One length can be laid in 55 minutes, including the digging of a six- to seven-foot trench and positioning, and can be joined in six to seven minutes, Crinion said.

Delivery of all materials has been assured by Oct. 19. It will be shipped by truck and unloaded along the east right-of-way of County Trunk E, adjacent to the receiving trenches.

The installation is to be made by city crews. If 320 feet of transmission line can be laid per week, as the sales engineer projected, the line could be completed within six to seven weeks.

Water by January?

Water from the new well then could be pouring into the city's distribution system by the first of the year, easing the critical water supply.

One resident along the transmission line route, Edwin Gorski, 1233 Berlin St., appeared at the special meeting to express his concern about damage to his property if heavy machinery were moved onto a landfill section of his property adjacent to the Crystal River.

Considering an alternative of moving the transmissionline from the east right-of-way of County Trunk E to the west side of the road at the Crystal River property, by-passing Gorski, would cost an estimated $2,500 City Engineer Iver Oerter advised the council in a quick calculation.

Oerter recommended that all digging on the Gorski property be by man and shovel. The council agreed and assured Gorski that the trench would be shored and the shoring left to protect his property if repair of the transmission line ever became a necessity.

Mobile Home Ordinance Adopted

NEW LONDON — A "temporary" mobile home ordinance, almost buried by a lack of understanding of the part of the Judicial and Legislative Committee, finally was passed unanimously by the City Council.

The ordinance, which is to be changed when the city's zoning ordinances are updated, calls for a license for mobile homes and that they be placed in a court in a properly zoned area.

The committee, which had reviewed the ordinance before it was to be presented for final passage, recommended that it be held for further study until the return of Building Inspector Walter Schoenrock. Committee members are aldermen Walter Fredericks, chairman, George Wochinski and Isabel Schoenrock.

Building Inspector's Plan

Mayor S. W. Krostue questioned holding action on the ordinance and explained that it would a "temporary ordinance." He pointed out that it had been the idea of Schoenrock in order to clarify the city's existing mobile home ordinance.

Robert Martin, director of public works, asked if the ordinance would stop the existence of such homes in the city.

Krostue pointed out that since it had the authority to license such homes, and since there was no zoned area, aldermen could stop any action to form a court at this time.

He was quick to explain that the council really wasn't against mobile homes, but that they wanted to be sure the homes were placed in a court in the proper area.

Fredericks questioned whether the city would be getting enough revenue from the two dollar license fee

City Atty. O. W. Capener pointed out that the law allowed for mobile homes to be assessed the same as other homes, and that the city would get the $2 fee and the assessed value of the home.

Ald. Wochinski questioned whether the ordinance stopped placing homes on private lots, and was told that it did.

Too Much Emphasis

Ald. Richard Genske said the council seemed to have a stigma against the mobile home. He told the other aldermen they were placing too much emphasis on the mobile home problem. "Most of these homes are nicer than some of the homes in this community" he stated, adding, "The idea of the trailer house has changed in the last 10 years."

Krostue told the council that he felt the mobile home "definitely has a place in society and the city." He added that he hoped it was clear that the council was trying to uplift the mobile home, "not place a stigma on it."

Wochinski told the council he had been misinformed and moved to have the ordinance passed, with the understanding that it would be changed when the zoning ordinances are updated.

The council plans to have the zoning ordinances updated in the near future. They presently are being prepared by the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission and studied by the New London Planning Commission.

License Is Required

Itinerants Fleece Waupaca Citizens

WAUPACA — "Know who's knocking at your door, and know the man or woman who attempts to sell you a product or a service," the Chamber of Commerce warned citizens in the area this week.

The alert was given to be constantly aware that itinerant salesmen are coming into the community, without advance notice and usually before the police are notified.

"Ask the attractive young lady or fast talking young man who may wish to sell you a magazine subscription to see the license to sell which he must have from the local police," a Chamber of Commerce official warned.

"To obtain this license, the salesman must file an application, pay a fee and then wait a reasonable period until the license is issued," the Chamber spokesman explained.

Exorbitant Prices

The renewed warning was promoted by the reecnt solicitation made by itinerant painters in Waupaca. Apparently, they were successful, painted a few roofs (some of them in less than an hour.) and charged exorbitant prices. Receipts for payment gave a long term guarantee. However, no permanent address was given and no authentic or legitimate warranty was given.

There are established business firms in the area, well qualified to furnish any type of needed service, the Chamber points out. Residents are asked to be alert and before signing any type of agreement or subscription form, check with the local police and-or the Chamber of Commerce.

Seymour Transfer Lines

PSC Asks More Data on Bus Fare Increase Request

More data may be needed before the Public Service Commission (PSC) grants an increase in fares to the Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc.

The line offers transportation of passengers and luggage by motor bus between Green Bay, Seymour, Appleton, Waupaca, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Tomah and intermediate points.

At a PSC hearing in Appleton Thursday, G. F. Huettl, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the transportation company, was told that his firm may need to supply more information on general transportation costs, particularly labor costs, before a requested 10 per cent increase in fares will be allowed by the PSC. That increase was proposed to go into effect Aug. 21, 1970.

Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc., had applied to the commission in August for a 10 per cent increase in passenger fares in order to try to "come clear" in the profit and loss statement. Information as to the exact need for such an increase was scant, however, according to Lester L. Dietrich of the transportation division of PSC.

"We can't grant an increase just because you send in a tariff saying an increase is needed," Dietrich told Huettl.

Operating Ratio

Huettl pointed out that his firm had a 99.8 operating ratio for the six-month period ending June 30, 1970. This is an approximate .2 return on the firm's investment in the transportation business. He'd like to see an operating ratio of 94, he said.

"We're not losing money," Huettl said, "but we're not exactly making any either." An income statement for the same six-month period showed a return of $43 on the three busses the company operates.

He reported that his firm has supplied the drivers of its three busses with "better than a 30 per cent increase' in wages. The rate of pay a year ago for drivers was $2.50. The present rate is $3.25.

An increase in fares would assure his firm of "a little bit over and above" the expenses on the statement, Huettl said.

Round-Trip Fares

Dietrich pointed out that most bus lines operate with a 190 per cent figure for round-trip fares: that is, the cost of a one-way fare multiplied by 190. The Seymour firm is using a 180 per cent figure and wants to increase the rates to the 190 per cent figure.

Rate increases previously had been requested by the firm in telephone conversations with PSC representatives who tried to figure out and justify the increases. But now that a formal request has been made, more information is needed, Dietrich said.

It is necessary to specifically state the intent of the application, he said. All details of what the firm wants changed should be included.

James G. Lawrence presided at the hearing.

Local Firms To Appraise Courthouse

Outagamie County officials have decided that local appraisers will, after all, be acceptable to appraise the courthouse and annex.

A $12,000 estimate from two out-of-county firms to do the job was a clinching argument in that decision.

The appraisals had been ordered by the County Board to establish a price as a basis for negotiations in the county's attempt to sell the courthouse to the city.

Ouside appraisers were suggested to eliminate any potential complaint of local bias on the part of resident appraisers.

County officials originally estimated it would take about three days to do an adequate appraisal at $100 per day for each of two appraisers.

No date has yet been set for a meeting between the two governmental bodies although Appleton city officials have indicated the earliest they could meet would be Oct. 5.

On the courthouse sale issue rests the county's latest plans for building a new courthouse complex at the county farm, a decision arrived at last month after the board again changed its mind on the safety building.

Wittenberg-Birnamwood

Village, School in Improvement Pact

WITTENBERG — The Village Board met with the Wittenberg-Birnamwood School Board recently to discuss a written request from the Board of Education that the so-called "Mission Hill" property be annexed to the village.

Following a discussion of school district concerns, Grover Meisner, village president, reviewed the services to be provided by the village. These are metered water, fire protection, police protection, street lighting and sanitary sewer.

In return, the school district will assume costs of annexation and installation of water valves, hydrants and mains. Water and sewer charges also will be paid by the school district.

Joint Maintenance

The village will assume joint maintenance of the 22-foot road with the Town of Wittenberg on the west side of the school property, including snow removal.

Expenses of road widening or improvement and charges for additional services will be assumed by the school district.

Eugene Szews proposed the resolution for approval of the agreement and was seconded by Art Marsh. It was passed unanimously.

In other business general account bills for $37,348 and building account bills totaling $171,653 were approved.

A teacher aide program for grade one, Wittenberg and grades five and six, Birnamwood, was approved.

A special meeting was set for Monday at Wittenberg for policy and some routine business. The next regular meeting will be held at Birnamwood on Sept. 28.

Weyauwega-Fremont Area Schools

District Named by Board of Education

WEYAUWEGA — Schools in the district have been officially named, the Weyauwega - Fremont Area Schools, by the Board of Education.

The name stems from a poll conducted earlier this year through a newsletter and discussions conducted at the July annual meeting.

The old high school which now houses grades 6-8 will be called the Weyauwega Central School and the two elementary schools will be known as the Fremont Elementary School and the Weyauwega Elementary School.

The new high school for grades 9-12 will be the Weyauwega High School.

In other business, expansion of the football program to include eighth graders was discussed and will go into effect in the 1971 season.

The board also gave final approval to applications for participation in the vocational program.

The following instructors and classes qualify for vocational status and partial reimbursement from the Federal Government through the state: office practice, graphic arts, metal fabrication and agriculture.

Mental Health Group Plans Annual Meeting

CHILTON — The Calumet County Association for Mental Health will conduct their annual meeting at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22 at Ebenezer United Church of Christ.

New officers will be elected and a film on drugs will be shown.

Property Values Fluctuate

Valley Real Estate Economy Like Yo-Yo

The Fox Valley's real estate economy was compared to a yo-yo Thursday by an official from the Fond du Lac office of the state Bureau of Assessments.

Robert Vosen, who made the annual presentation to the Outagamie County Board on the latest state equalized values for property in the county, said the real estate market has been volatile and the past year revolved on the principle of change.

"Valuation of some classes of real estate fluctuated like a yo-yo," Vosen said, "particularly land values, especially land with a recreational value such as lake front properties."

Figures presented the County Board, which was sitting as the Equalization Committee, indicated an overall property value increase in the county of nearly 11 per cent over a year ago. Assessment figures shown by the state were as of May 1.

Rises Faster

While land values have risen faster than building values, there has been a steady increase in construction costs Vosen said the department findings are that residential construction costs are up 6 per cent over last year and 25 per cent over five years ago.

Commercial and industrial construction costs have risen at about the same rate, he said, with steel and concrete construction costs rising slightly faster than frame construction costs.

Two segments of the residential market have undergone notable changes in the past year, Vosen said

The value of older homes rose at a more rapid rate than the value of new homes and the market prices for high priced homes have remained relatively stable in the Appleton area.

Vosen said the more rapid increase in price for older homes is attributed to the rising construction costs for a new house and the high interest rates

The high-priced homes ($40,000 and up) have been relatively stable, he indicated, because the job economy for people in the higher income brackets has been stable here. He noted the market for this type of home in Oshkosh and Fond du Lac areas has been depressed

Vosen said that in the 14 county area served by the Fond du Lac office, Outagamie was second in dollar amount of new construction last year, behind Brown County and slightly ahead of Winnebago County, but ranked 11th in percentage increase based on economic additions to values.

United Fund Goal $4,425 At Marion

Volunteers Conduct Drive in October; 21 Agencies Benefit

MARION — A goal of $4,425 has been set by the Marion United Fund, Inc., for its 1970 drive to be conducted early in October.

Committee members met recently and completed plans for the drive.

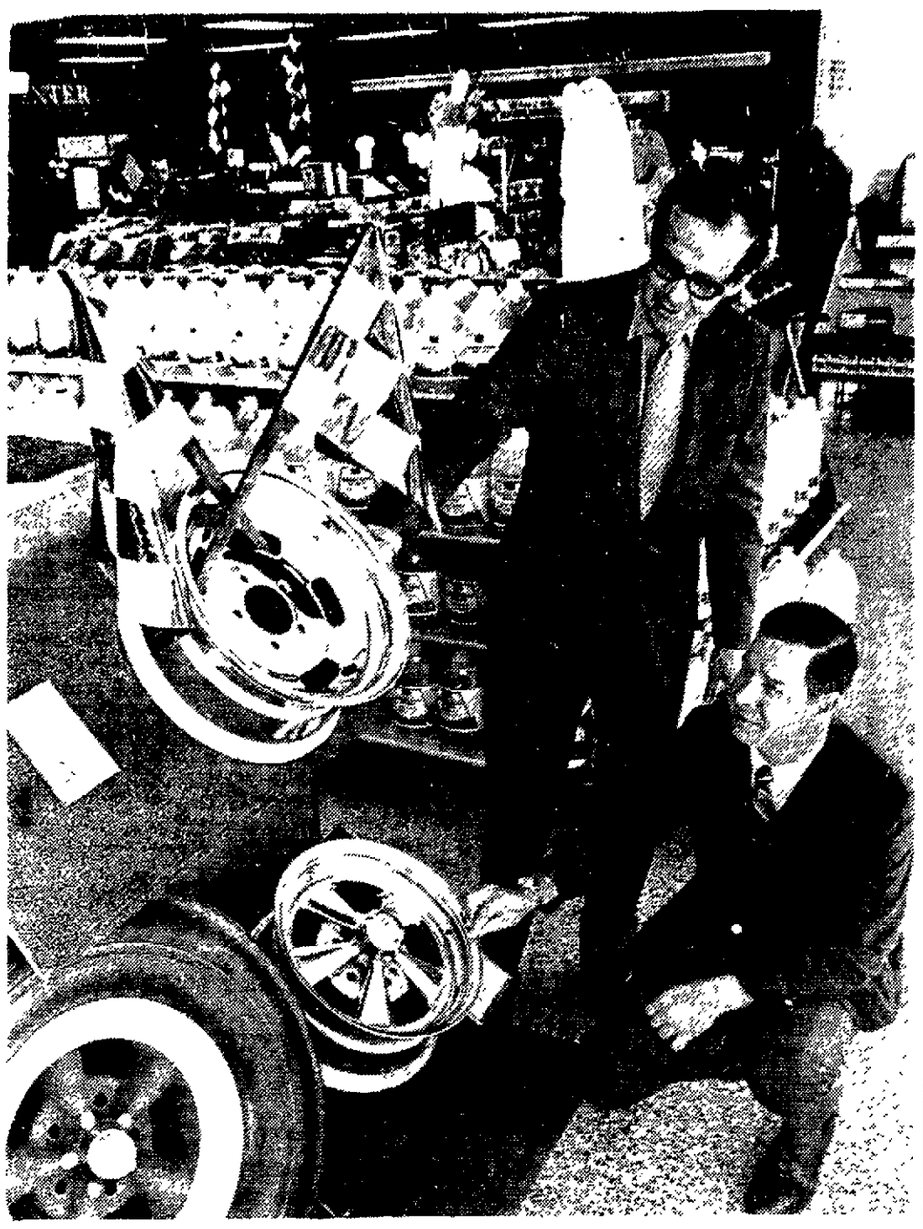

The allocations committee recommended the adoption of a budget of $4,307 to be given to 21 member agencies. Fund drive expenses amount to $118 to arrive at the $4,425 figure.

The committee has requested that persons working out of town make cash contributions here rather than payroll deductions at their place of employment. This will give credit to the local United Fund. Deductions made elsewhere remain in that city, the committee pointed out.

Drive members urge residents of the Marion-Caroline area to start setting aside monies for the day the United Fund solicitor calls.

This the only house-to-house drive in the area. The funds collected are spread among the 21 member agencies.

Mrs. Lloyd Goodstorf is new fund secretary. She replaces Mrs. Ken Robenolt.

NEW LONDON — Extensive damage resulted from a two-car collision in the 500 block of S. Pearl Street.

An auto driven by Winfred Malouf, 25, of 603 E. Pine St., was pulling out of a parking stall and traveling south on Pearl St. when it was struck by an auto driven by Nellie McDermott, 81, of 115 E. Washington St.

The McDermott auto was traveling north on Pearl Street and started making a left turn into a service station striking the Malouf auto in the left side.

No injuries were reported in the accident.

NEW LONDON — A total of $194 was paid on three charges of disorderly conduct in Waupaca County Court Branch 2 Wednesday.

Clyde D. Hanson, 27, route 2, Black Creek posted bond of $105 on his charge. Dennis E. Miller, 26, Manawa forfeited a $55 bond, and Richard VanStraten, 20 of 620 N. Water St., was fined $25 and $9 costs and given until Sept. 30 to pay his fine.

Judge Nathan Wiese sentended the youth to 90 days in jail for driving after license revocation; 90 days in jail for speeding 100 miles per hour in a 55 mile per hour zone; 90 days for driving while under the influence of an intoxicant and six months in jail for fleeing an officer. All are to run concurrently and Doyle was granted working privileges.

Charges were brought after an incident at 2:10 a.m., Sept. 6, at Fourth and Beech streets in Manawa. Assistant Chief Alvin Alft was the arresting officer.

City police arrested Osborne after an accident at 12:50 a.m. Monday on Eighth Street, 400 feet east of West Street. Osborne struck an unoccupied parked car owned by Lois Moldenhauer, 96 Eighth St., and then proceeded to his residence without stopping to inspect the damage.

Damages to the Osborne vehicle were estimated at $200 to the complete right front end, and at $300 to the Moldenhauer car, to the complete left rear end.

Deputy Testifies Of Bar Fracas

Claims Three Men Jumped Him at Dance at Seymour

An Outagamie County sheriff's deputy testified Thursday at a trial for three men charged with six misdemeanor counts after a fray the night of July 25 that one of the three "took his thumbs and worked them into the front of my throat" after someone yelled "get the —cop."

The deputy, William Knutson, took the stand during a 12-man jury trial for Orville Gagnow, 43, 705 E. Pearl St., Seymour; his son, Larry, 23, 739½ Main St., Seymour; and the owner of the Pine Castle Ballroom in rural Seymour, Francis Coonen.

The fracas reportedly took place at the ballroom during a wedding reception for Larry Gagnow. Knutson was working alone at the establishment that night.

Orville Gagnow, allegedly the one who put his thumbs to Knutson's throat is charged with obstructing a police officer. The younger Gagnow is charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Coonen is charged with obstructing and two additional counts of serving beer to minors.

Under direct questioning Thursday from Dist. Atty. James R. Long, Knutson said he arrested Larry Gagnow after his path was blocked while he attempted to enter the ballroom from a parking lot where he had finished questioning two 17-year-old Green Bay youths about where they got beer.

This happened after he warned Gagnow twice to step aside, the deputy said. Gagnow allegedly struggled while being handcuffed and used profanities also, bringing an additional resisting charge.

Finding that he probably wouldn't be able to handcuff Gagnow, the deputy testified, he forced him up to the building and called for help, where he was met with a shout "You aren't going to get any help here."

Then, he testified, "about 10 or 12 men" rushed him, forcing him "against the wall inside the barroom," and one of them "wrestled my handcuffs away from me."

It was shortly after that when Orville Gagnow grabbed him by the throat, Knutson said. Later, there was another struggle, he said, when Gagnow again attacked him.

Coonen was charged with obstructing when he reportedly refused to let the deputy know where the phone was so he could call for help.

CLINTONVILLE — Members of the senior high school chapter of the Future Farmers of America and their adviser, Roger Nielsen, went on a field trip Wednesday afternoon to the site of their corn test plots on the farm of T. D. Ellis, route 3.

They had planted eight varieties of 90-day corn so they could observe the differences and then each member had to evaluate each variety to determine its desirability. Nielsen noted that weather conditions this year hampered the corn, and he did not think they would be able to make the yield tests originally planned.

The corn samples planted were donated by Flanagan Milling Company, Lawrence Neely, Robert Neely, Midland Cooperative, Harold Hansen and Ellis, Blaney.

Zimmermann The Imposter

The attentive politician is prepared for those unscheduled events that enable him to translate necessity into virtue.

Thus it took only a few days for Patrick J. Lucey, the Democratic nominee for governor in the November election, with the obedient consent of his statutory running-mate Martin Schreiber, nominee for lieutenant governor, to declare that they would vote for the Republican secretary of state , Robert C. Zimmerman, as a strong gesture of their objections to Robert A. Zimmermann, the Sheboygan adventurer who was nominated as the Democratic candidate against the long-time Republican incumbent by inattentive or uninformed voters in the Democratic primary election.

Mr. Lucey, ever the pragmatist, left a small reservation in his declaration, so inconspicuously that it might have been missed. He might change his mind, he allowed, in the event that a qualified independent Democrat files for the November ballot in the independent candidate column.

Aside from the meaning of the word "qualified" as he may define it, that declaration gives Mr. Lucey the image of a man who is willing to put partisanship aside in the interest of responsible politics. He knows that an "independent" candidate, as the history of Wisconsin voting shows, has only a remote chance of providing competition for Robert Zimmerman, the long-time officeholder. He knows also that a truly "qualified" man is not likely to step forward, in view of the incumbent's vote attraction record in general elections in the past.

Thus Mr. Lucey who had to repudiate the deception of the voters by the Sheboygan imposter has with great presence of mind and skill managed to escape the embarrassment of the incident, and in all liklihood, has created a favorable impression in the minds of many independent voters, or swing voters with respect to Republican and Democratic preferences, that will provide some dividends in the final balloting. Perhaps a few of the partisan faithful who have been trained to the idea that straight ticket voting is the test of Democratic virtue will be temporarily annoyed. But they will represent a trivial penalty, at worst, and will almost surely forgive him when the Sheboygan Zimmermann becomes better known to the electorate in succeeding weeks, as the Wisconsin press will surely manage.

Meanwhile, as our statehouse correspondent has remarked, the disturbing primary election incident should be considered for what it truly means—that the people do not understand the functions of this minor office in Madison, but are habituated to vote for the name that represents incumbency to them. It is not a vital issue, but the confusion of the average elector could be reduced by removing this office from the ballot. Or, at the very least, it should be filled in a nonpartisan election, after this startlingly revealing demonstration that Secretary Zimmerman is regarded as a non-party man even by opposition party voters.

"FUN, ISN'T IT?"

The Sudden Mercury Threat

One of the most interesting—and disturbing—aspects of the new findings on mercury pollution in most of the country is that realization of it came very suddenly but quite a long time after the contamination had become serious.

There was no real publicity about the dangers of mercury poisoning until a family in New Mexico ate pork from a pig which had been fed grain that accidentally had been treated with a mercury compound. Two children in that family lost their sight and were in comas for months. All of a sudden it was discovered that fish in the Great Lakes in particular were contaminated. Now studies have shown extensive mercury pollution in all but twelve of the fifty states and findings in some are inconclusive because of poor research. Streams and lakes have been closed to fishing and in other areas fishermen have been warned not to eat too many fish taken from some waterways. Concerns about the tourist business have undoubtedly meant that warnings have been toned down somewhat.

But the dangers of mercury poisoning have been known for years. More than a hundred people died in Japan ten years ago from mercury poisoning. There has been brain damage, blindness and paralysis among other victims. However, after the New Mexico case, it took a graduate student at the University of Western Ontario to call attention to the high level of mercury contamination in fish from Lake St. Clair where one chemical company was dumping 200 pounds of mercury a day without opposition or even notice. In July the Federal government brought suit against ten plants producing chlorine and caustic soda, charging them with mercury discharges. But there are mysteries. Signs of mercury contamination in northern New England have been blamed upon compounds painted on fallen timbers after the hurricane of 1938 to preserve the wood until it could be harvested. The amount of mercury that goes into the air from industries and then comes to earth and water through rainfall has also not been determined.

The mercury situation brings into focus doubts about other minerals which may be flooding our waters and of which apparently little or no investigation has been made. Dr. Henry Schroeder of the Dartmouth Medical School warns about possible dangers from other toxic materials such as lead, cadmium, arsenic and nickel. Ralph Nader told a congressional hearing that "it's incumbent on us to ask why it took so long for industry and pollution authorities to recognize the danger. The mercury contamination reveals how very weak is our system of food testing and monitoring."

It is rather apparent that pollution of all kinds will not be pinpointed or will efforts be begun to halt it until individual citizens are enough alarmed to start action.

When Is a Sign Not a Sign?

The wording was clear enough. "No Thru Street" it said.

It had the proper legal size and shape for such a sign.

There was no doubt at all that the sign spoke truth. That street ended right there sure enough.

That was the trouble. The sign was at the end of the street. For all its legal size and truthfulness it didn't really serve much of a purpose. By the time you saw it you were well along into the street. It would have been a valuable and useful part of the city's arsenal of street directives—if it had been in the right place.

So that one sign, in this neighboring city which shall remain nameless here, not only failed to serve its purpose, it became a detriment because of the unhappy reaction it is surely producing, particularly with non-natives who drive into that street, and then have no choice but to drive back out again.

It's important to put up the correct instructions to help the traveler. It's just as important to make sure those directions are placed at the right point.

And that is true of things a lot more important than road signs!

Looking Backward

County Fair Interest Growing

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Sept. 22, 1870.

The 12th annual fair of the Outagamie Agricultural Society took place on their grounds the last three days of last week.

It was feared the first day that the weather would be unfavorable, but much to the satisfaction of all concerned, the contrary proved true.

The first day was devoted entirely to entries. The display of farm produces, horses, cattle, farming implements and machinery was a credit to our young but rapidly developing county. It is evident that an unusual interest is being awakened in our farmers, which, if tended and nurtured properly, will make the Agricultural Society one of the most flourishing in all the Northwest. We are led to believe that a good deal of the prejudice that existed heretofore is being removed and a healthy and zealous interest is taking its place.

The address on the afternoon of the second day, by Morgan L. Martin of Green Bay, was a fine literary production that embodied wholesome, practical truths concerning farmers and farming interests . . . The speaker deserved the vote of thanks that he received.

25 YEARS AGO
Friday, Sept. 14, 1945.

Wayne Weinfurter was elected president of the Appleton High School Student Council. Other officers were John Schultz, vice president; Phyllis Avery, secretary-treasurer. Weinfurter was one of the outstanding athletes at Appleton High; he and Schultz were both seniors. Miss Avery was a junior.

George Cuff was elected president of the Future Farmers Association at Washington High School, New London. Other officers elected were Harold Knutzen, vice president; James Pomrening, secretary; James Everts, treasurer; Vernon Gorges, reporter; Gene Fulker and Edward Manske, sentinels.

Dick Jorgenson was elected president of the Kimberly School Seventh Grade Social Club. Judy Jesse was named vice president and Joan Bennett treasurer of the Neenah school club.

10 YEARS AGO
Friday, Sept. 16, 1960.

The Power Company Softball team won the championship in the International Industrial League play of the Appleton Recreation Department. Team members were Skip Koehnke, Jim Kuehlman, Ralph Vindhurst, Tarnis Girard, Leon Bellile, John Steidl, Ken Spaay, Mohn Mileke Jr., Dave Petrie and Ray Gauger. Manager was Jim Wunderlich.

Mrs. Leslie O'Dell, Kaukauna, was named a grand page for the 70th annual session of the grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Star in Wisconsin at Milwaukee in late September.

Mrs. Robert Van Wyk was president of the Kimberlaires, women's singing group. Mrs. Jack Hermsen was vice president and Mrs. Raymond G. Doell was the director.

Wisconsin Report

Results of Primary Have Little Bearing On General Election

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — What does the primary election mean about the outlook for the decisions of the Wisconsin electorate in November, the politically aware residents of the state are asking themselves.

The answer is as obvious as it is simple: very little.

If there is any meaning to be read into the decisions of that frighteningly small fraction of the eligible population that troubled to spend a few moments at the polls, it is that prudent observers—or the candidates for election in November—will indulge in interpretation at their peril.

It needs repeating now and again that the fact of a larger vote in the primary in one party column or the other is an especially hazardous booby trap because of the rules governing Wisconsin election administration and the responses caused by such rules.

This year the Democrats registered a higher total of votes than did the Republicans. In many news accounts, there were suggestions expressed or implied that the larger vote for a Democratic candidate for assemblyman, or whatever, gave a clue to what may happen in the legislative district election in the fall. But such seemingly contradictory results, in normally Republican districts, are easily explained. There was a serious contest for the Democratic party's nomination for governor.

Where the Fight Is

That fact drew more Democrats to the polls than would have been recorded had they had an uncontested gubernatorial primary — as it happened the Republicans had this year. It also drew independents, and almost surely some Republicans who wanted to make their votes count in those localities without significant contests on their own side. Lower echelon Democrats benefited, as the lower echelon Republicans looked better — and sometimes could not resist deceiving themselves — when they read their vote totals in the years of hard fought contests for gubernatorial nominations in their column.

It is a basic element of human nature — and it cannot be faulted — that the voter is drawn to "where the fight is" on primary election day. A study of the Republican primary election returns in earlier times, when the regulars and the La Follette Progressives struggled for party control and the Democrats fielded mostly uncontested slates, is illuminating for anyone who is interested in pursuing it.

The November election outcome will hinge upon issues that cannot yet be assessed, with regard to their weight. Democrats started with the assumption that the Republicans who have ruled the state for the last six years could be put on the defensive on tax policy, high spending in betrayal — as the Democrats saw it — of their previous postures — educational and environmental improvements, and others.

Sudden New Turn

But the public preoccupation with the problems of law and order in general, and campus violence in particular, has introduced a new and perhaps dominant issue.

The consensus is that this will favor the Republicans, even as national surveys show that the more conservative elements of organized labor and other interests not normally friendly to Republicans are tending to shift ground. But the Republicans can easily throw away their advantage — whatever the merit of their position — if they respond excessively and suggest to thoughtful men and women that they have more respect for radicalism on the right than for the extremism of the new left.

Jack Olson, Republican standard-bearer, confronts a shrewd, experienced foe in Patrick J. Lucey, as he learned in the careful Lucey statement on the campus crisis published immediately before the primary. Lucey is prepared for any attack on that score — with the major theme that the Republicans have been responsible for state administration during the entire period of escalating student disruptions and the ugly climax of the University of Wisconsin campus bombing.

Republicans would be wise to speak prudently, and allow the issue to tell its own story. That may mean the forcible suppression of some of the more thoughtless and selfish of the notoriety seekers in their own ranks.

Taylor Writes

Lodge Off to Good Start As Nixon Envoy to Vatican

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

VATICAN CITY. — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's arrival here brings him to one of the most valuable listening posts of the world. The information obtained by his predecessor of years ago, Myron C. Taylor, most of it top secret, was of incalculable benefit to our country. And Ambassador Lodge is off to an excellent start.

We have no Ambassador, of course, and never have had, to the Holy See. But Ambassador Lodge's title arises because he served as such to the United Nations, South Vietnam and West Germany. And his mission provides no Embassy residence. Mr. Lodge is living at a downtown Rome hotel.

It is evident here that his rapport with Pope Paul VI is already established. He finds Pope Paul a kindly, scholarly man of quiet, personal charm. He also finds him genuinely modest, and often referring to adored Pope John XXIII, who, as he lay dying in 1963, prayed the simple prayers he learned as a child.

Pope's Problems Enormous

Ambassador Lodge describes the Pope's world-wide problems, both outside and inside the Church, as incredibly enormous. Externally, he considers the Pope's overriding dilemma to be how to make the Church effective in the worldwide battle against communism, which we share.

Internally, Ambassador Lodge finds the Pope's most critical problem to be the question of hierarchy — the traditional authority of the Pope himself, the nuncios (there is a Papal Nuncio in Washington), the cardinals and bishops, and how they arrive at that authority.

Belgian Cardinal Suenens' movement advocating that a "Copernican revolution" should upend the hierarchal pyramid of the Church continues to plague the Pope. The organized clerical protests in France that boiled over at the consecration of French Cardinal Danielou have spread there. One hundred European bishops met at Chur, Switzerland, in the summer of 1968 to discuss the problems of priests. Ambassador Lodge finds these bishops and the Pope alike still bombarded by the anti-hierarchy petitions of over 100 rebel priests who descended en masse on Chur.

A phalanx of Dutch priests is spearheading the challenge to compulsory clerical celibacy, of which there are outcroppings in our own country. Vatican statistics available here to Ambassador Lodge reveal that more than 7,000 priests have asked to be released from their celibacy vows in the past four years.

Meanwhile, for whatever the causes, in this country alone at least 7,000 of the 70,000 priests in Italy have left the priesthood. In the United States, although the percentage is small, more than 1,000 quit last year and about 6,000 of the 167,000 nuns in our country renounced their vows. The number of seminarians (trained priests) declined in the Western countries alone from about 167,000 to 147,000 in a two-year period.

Ambassador Lodge quotes Pope Paul as stating this drop is "most serious." On April 15 he asked Catholics to pray for young persons to enter church service. "Without priests and nuns, how can the Church carry out its mission?" the Holy Father told World Vocation Day visitors while blessing them in St. Peter's Square.

2,000 Years Old

The Papacy. Can we conceive of any institution that approaches the age 2,000 years?

The Church grew in power as the Roman Empire dwindled. And when the Empire fell the Pope in Rome was the only powerful leader left.

On December 25 in the year 496 the Pope announced the baptism of Clovis, the Frank, at Rheims. But a second stroke rang out on the bells and the Tartars entered Paris. Yet by 583 St. Columba went out of Ireland to Iona, the burial place of Scottish kings, and brought the Mother Church even to the Celts.

Europe's Dark Ages, showing almost no human progress, covered about 700 years, between the 5th and 12th Centuries. Nevertheless, Popes survived, the Church survived.

Pope Leo VIII ruled one year, followed by Benedict V who ruled two, and there had been 29 Popes in the preceding century. Through the 14th Century there had been more than 200 Popes. There had been 37 pretenders. By the 35th Century the Duke of Savoy, whose election as Pope was contested, set up a rival Vatican in Basel, Switzerland. There were rumblings of still another Vatican in Vienna.

Our man from Massachusetts is moving in troubled waters here, but his talents are sparked by the knowledge that crisis is not new to this indestructible giant.

Not Enough to Lock Murderers Up for Life

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The day that the "Guilty" verdict was brought in by the Speck jury, I overheard a group of people at the luncheon table next to mine discussing the trial and conviction. "Why does the state go to all the trouble, time and expense?" asked one of them. "He's guilty—everybody knew it—so why not give him the electric chair, or put him away for life and forget it?" Everyone else at the table nodded in strong agreement.

I didn't nod in agreement, even mentally. One must recognize that theirs is the attitude of most people, but I happen to think it is a wrong, dangerous, and ignorant attitude. Quite apart from the civil rights involved in the matter—and the blackest villain is entitled to the same trial rights as a cherub, or the law means nothing—there is another equally important consideration: We learn absolutely nothing by sending such a man to the chair, or even by putting him away to rot in prison for a lifetime. If he is mad, we should study the causes and course of his madness; if he is bad, we should study the origins and evolution of his badness. If he is a mixture of both—as we might suspect—we should study the relationship between moral character and emotional sickness.

Society hates, fears and resents such men, and wants to obliterate them. But such obliteration does not deter or prevent similar occurrences, nor does it help us to detect, in the early stages, the behavior patterns of other men who might do likewise.

It seems painfully obvious to me that if we understood more about such matters, not only might the eight nurses be alive today, but also the young sniper who committed mass murder from his tower in Texas could have been spotted as a potential menace long before that dreadful day. Such actions are almost always prefigured in early behavior—if we are alert to the deeper meaning of such behavior.

Acts of what we call "senseless violence" are increasing enormously in this age. But though such acts may seem senseless to us, they make a kind of insane sense to the persons who perpetrate them; and if we obtained a better grasp of their convoluted mental processes, it might help us prevent incidents of this tragic kind—just as an improved knowledge of symptoms enables us to prevent physical illness from worsening to the incurable stage.

What is a "waste" is not the long and cumbersome trial, but the fact that after the trial little is done to probe the psychic cancers of such men. Simply to execute them or shut them away is the surest guarantee that future tragedies will be neither prevented nor anticipated. If we handled physical disease the same way, who would be alive?

Press Freedom Argued

Kaleidoscope Editor Loses Appeal

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Wisconsin Supreme Court has denied the appeals of jailed underground editor Mark Knops for freedom from his Walworth County jail cell.

The high court held Thursday that normal legal remedies — calling for an appeal of his jailing on contempt charges growing out of his refusal to testify to a grand jury probing University of Wisconsin bombing — are adequate.

The high court will not take original jurisdiction is freeing Knops on a writ of habeus corpus or ordering him released on bail, the justices agreed.

The extension of constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press to include the right to refuse to identify news sources in the face of legal proceedings had been posed to the state Supreme Court Thursday by attorneys for Knops.

Atty. David Loeffler told the high court that Knops, editor of Kaleidoscope, the underground paper which carried an alleged statement from the bombers of Sterling Hall on Madison campus, had the privilege to refuse to testify about the story based on the U.S. Constitution's First Amendment.

Jail Term

Knops is serving a six-month jail sentence in Walworth County for refusing to answer questions during a grand jury probe of the Sterling Hall bombing plot, reportedly hatched in Walworth County.

Loeffler told the high court that Knops was appealing to the tribunal for a writ of habeus corpus or an order forcing the state to release him on bail, pending appeal through normal lower court channels.

Knops, who could not be accompanied by an attorney into the jury session, refused to answer all questions, citing what he called First and Fifth Amendment rights.

Granted immunity from prosecution based on his testimony, Knops continued to refuse to testify, citing his First Amendment rights of freedom of the press.

Can't Pick, Choose

Loeffler said that case law holds that a person under interrogation as a witness cannot "pick and choose" questions which he refuses to answer under the Bill of Rights, but that he must refuse to answer all questions in a disputed subject area to justifiably claim those rights.

The fact that witnesses are refused legal counsel in a grand jury session accents the need for a witness to refuse to answer from the beginning of the questioning if he is to preserve his rights, said Loeffler.

State attorneys contended that Knops was asked nothing about his news sources, but Loeffler said that once the topic area of Kaleidoscope and the bomber's statement were opened, the source of that story became a logical next question.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Peter Peshek warned the Supreme Court that to order the release of Knops from jail pending normal appeals would mean the emasculation of the grand jury and John Doe proceeding in Wisconsin.

The only weapon the grand jury has to insure that witnesses testify when called is the "coercion" of a contempt sentence, he said.

Knops "holds the key to his cell," said Peshek, stating that any time he wants to go back before the grand jury and answer questions asked him, he will be released from the contempt sentence.

"We want the man to answer questions, to obey the order of the court," said Assistant Atty. Gen. Jeffrey Bartell. "If a man can get out on bail, there is no coercion at all," he told the high court.

The overriding needs of society balance the constitutional guarantees of a free press — assuming that there is a "journalistic privilege" — said Bartell.

Justice Nathan Heffernan commented that the same reasoning had been applied to justify coerced confessions and torture.

"The public is the real beneficiary of freedom of the press," said Bartell. "The public has an insatiable appetite for news. At the same time the public has a right to fair and speedy justice," he said.

"Newspapers will continue to thrive and prosper without this privilege," he said of the right to protect news sources, rejected by the State Legislature in bills dating back to 1937.

Danger to Press

Bartell warned that the power of government to recognize that journalists have a special right not granted to average citizens would be to grant the government the power to decide who is and who is not a journalist.

That would be a great danger to freedom of the press, he implied.

Loeffler said that a recent federal court decision holds that newsmen cannot be asked to identify their news sources or reveal their notes unless an "overriding national interest" is involved.

Peshek said that the same judge issuing that decision started to back away from that conclusion some what last week, saying that a grand jury would not have to prove that a newsman is the only possible source of needed information before compelling him to testify.

Loeffler argued that in "political" areas such as the bombing the privilege is especially important, for those are areas involving government, and the press stands between the public and government in analyzing what government is doing.

"If you and I are to be able to enjoy our constitutional right to know what government is doing," the right is essential said Loeffler.

"A newsman is simply a means to an end," he said. "He is a solid source of information to you and I as to what is going on in areas of high tension," he told the court.

The privilege should not be absolute, but government should be compelled to prove the essential nature of the information — and that it can only be obtained from the newsman — before a reporter is forced to testify, he said.

Haase Blasts Anti-Violence Insurance Plan

Parents Penalized Under Formula, Not Offending Students

MADISON — A man who has shared vast political and insurance powers and who now teaches on the demonstration-struck University of Wisconsin campus here has blasted a proposal to charge students $100 a semester for an anti-demonstration insurance fund.

Robert Haase, who has served as state insurance commissioner and Speaker of the Assembly and who how teaches in the UW Graduate School of Business, says that parents — not students — will end up paying the tab.

"It will just be another $100 on the tuition charges," he said when asked his opinion of the plan proposed by Spencer Kiball, Dean of the UW Law School.

Noting the depletion of the state insurance fund and the unavailibility of private insurance for higher education buildings in the state, Kimball followed in the wake of the Aug. 24 Sterling Hall bombing here with a novel insurance plan.

Reverse Effect

The plan calls for charging every student at a public college in the state $100 as a special insurance fund. If no violence occurs on the student's campus during the year, the student will receive a rebate of $90 per $100 paid in to the fund, under the Kimberly plan.

Haase said it could have a "reverse effect." Students, being realists, would expect disruptions and violence and would make sure that they smashed $100 worth of windows because they would be sure that they would never get their money back, he said.

Haase was speaker of the Assembly in the 1965 Legislature, then was appointed to head the power state insurance department by fellow Republican, Gov. Warren P. Knowles. He resigned that post about two years ago to join the UW graduate faculty.

Asked about the Kimball plan, Haase said:

"I really don't feel that this is the proper procedure. Any damages that occur shouldn't be paid the the students, or by the students' parents," he said.

"I just don't feel that the students who go to school should be the ones who pay for the damages." he explained

Parents Will Pay

"Who's going to pay for this anyway?" asked Haase. "The kids aren't going to pay for it. The parents are going to pay for it. It will just be another $100 on the tuition charges," he added.

Haase said the depleted state of the insurance fund was unimportant in regard to state buildings, backed up by the state's general treasury and its new bonding authority. The state will confront difficulties with the fund, however, he warned, if municipalities and school districts — also covered — are forced to make claims because of damages.

Haase, a former Republican lawmaker from Marinette, said that a "silent majority" does exist among the UW Madison campus faculty and student body. The majority of both factions oppose the disruptions and violence on the campus, he said.

The problem is that no vehicle has been found for the majority to voice their opposition, he said.

Haase lauded the actions of 21 Law School professors who recently signed a petition protesting the trend toward violence on the campus, and Pres. Nixon's Kansas State University address calling on all campus and national factions to unite to oppose the violence-prone.

Fund Drive

For $25 Lobbyists Can Meet Democrats

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Democratic legislative nominees of the state will hold a reception here Oct. 6, and their party headquarters has invited professional lobbyists among others to attend and make the acquaintance of the candidates for a price of $25 per admission ticket.

James Wimmer, chairman of the Democratic state committee, sent the notices to legislative lobbyists and presumably other potential legislative campaign contributors.

Queries to representative Madison-based lobbyists suggested broadly that the party headquarters used the official lobby registration lists in the office of the Secretary of State to compile the mailing addresses to the lobbyists who in the nature of their trade are anxious to make the acquaintance of potential legislators, and to continue their acquaintance with the representatives now holding seats in the Senate and Assembly and are candidates for re-election.

Wimmer evidently chose Oct. 6 as the date for the reception and cocktail party at a well-known Madison restaurant because all legislators of both parties are expected to be in Madison on Oct. 5 as members of their respective party platform conventions as defined by law.

George Greely, Wimmer's counterpart at GOP heardquarters, said he could recall no similar fund raising effort by his party but said it is likely that many lobbyists are solicited for campaign funds through the "united fund" technique of the GOP which supports all party nominees, from governor and senator and representatives in the Congress, to other offices including members of the legislature.

But Democrats have a separate series of funding efforts. Their legislative campaign committee is headed by retiring Frank Nikolay, Clark County member of the Assembly, and recently defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

One lobbyist recalled that he had been solicited in a similiar fashion by a Democratic legislative campaign two years ago, but that the event had escaped general attention at the time.

Poverty Cited In Study of Indian Culture

Education Is Made More Difficult in Menominee County

WASHINGTON (AP) —Wisconsin's Menominee Indians were cited Thursday as examples of how rural poverty can make schooling even more difficult for minority groups.

Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago, director of a $500,000 government study of Indian economy, said preliminary surveys show poverty causes the average young Indian the most difficulty with such social encounters as schooling.

Given similar economic backgrounds, Havighurst said, Indian youngsters do as well in school as white youngsters, whether the school be operated on a reservation or a special Indian boarding school.

A special study of Menominee County, a reservation until the 1960s, produced "a very desolate picture," he said.

Many young persons are leaving the county to find a better economic existence, the report said, moving to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Havighurst said that despite economic privation, many Menominee "youngsters are not doing too badly in schools."

The study indicated the situation might be improved with more scholastic stress on the role of the Indian in American history.

"There should be increased attention given to Indian history and culture in the curriculum for all children in this country," he said.

Deputy Checks Burglary Scene At Fair Store

An investigation is continuing into the burglary discovered Thursday morning at the Fair Store in the Valley Fair Shopping Center.

The Outagamie County Sheriff's Department was informed Thursday morning that a plate glass window in the door of the store was broken.

A Winnebago County sheriff's deputy found a hole in the door window next to the lock, and he saw that a stereo tape cabinet, sliding glass door had been tipped over.

The owner of the shop was called, but a complete inventory of the amount of damage and missing items was not immediately available.

Sons Share Estate Of C. C. Hervey

Charles C. Hervey, who died May 28, 1969 at the age of 87, left a gross estate of $172,340, according to the inventory filed in Outagamie County Probate Court.

His two sons, Frederick, of Charlotte, N. C., and Charles J., of Appleton, shared equally in the $150,018 left for estate expenses, according to the final judgment.

Hervey, who had lived at 1128 N. Neminwah St., had been a sales engineer for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. About half of the estate consisted of stock in the Goodyear Company.

City Workers at Kaukauna Seek 35-Cent Increase

KAUKAUNA — Contract proposals, including an across-the-board 35 cents an hour wage increase, have been presented to the city and referred to the personnel committee from City Employes Union Local 130.

Other proposals include full payment of Wisconsin Retirement Fund contributions and an increase to 95 per cent of hospitalization insurance premium. The present contract expires Dec. 31, 1970. The personnel committee will begin meeting with representatives of the local in an effort to reach agreement prior to adopting the 1970 budget.

Initial reaction by city officials is that the requests are high.

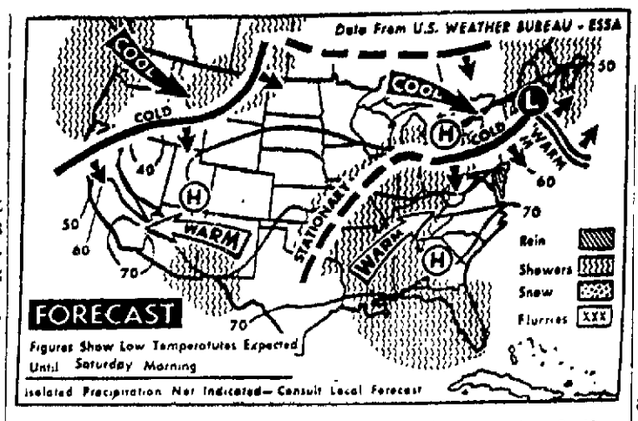

Current base pay is $3.18 per hour and maximum is $3.64. The city now pays 75 per cent of hospitalization costs and the employe retirement share is 4.5 per cent.

Calumet to Hold Campsite Session

KAUKAUNA — A building permit to construct a sheet metal shop, office and display building at a cost of $17,420, was issued to Rockwill Inc., 4221 N. Richmond St., Appleton.

The building is to be erected at 401 Seymour St. on property purchased by the firm from the city recently for $7,000. A front portion of the structure, to be used for display purposes, will be 32 by 60 feet and a rear portion of the building for manufacturing and assembly will be 52 by 24 feet.

Construction cost does not include heating, plumbing or electrical work, according to Building Inspector Harold Loeser.

Bus Subsidy In Oshkosh Is Approved

OSHKOSH (AP) — The City Council approved a $12,000-per-year subsidy for City Bus Lines Thursday night, pending an audit, after the firm's drivers walked off their jobs hours earlier.

The subsidy was called "a watered-down version of what we asked for" by bus company owner A. G. Oswald, whose firm had asked for $20,000 a year.

Management said it had no idea there would be a strike until drivers brought their vehicles back into the yard at 3 p.m. Milton Falk, the firm's general manager, said the subsidy request was not due to poor management.

He said almost every city bus firm now is either owned or given financial help by the municipality it serves.

The drivers were to be back and all busses running normally today, Oswald said.

Foundations for the buildings are already in, but buildings are to be erected atop the bins to shelter the material during the winter. Specifications for the work are on file in the clerk's office and bids are to be submitted by 8 p.m. Oct. 6.

The clerk also was authorized to accept bids on a pickup truck. Specifications are in the clerk's office and no trade-in allowance will be needed. Bids are due Oct. 6.

The street committee will investigate the possibility of having problem spots in sewer lines televised to enable officials to set up a replacement program if necessary. The committee will study costs and report back to the village board.

Carl Hietpas, one of the petitioners requesting the detachment of about 40 acres from the Kaukauna School District and attachment to the Little Chute district, as approved by Cooperative Education Service Agency No. 8, thanked board members for their interest and cooperation in having the matter resolved. The attachment to Little Chute is to take effect June 30, 1971. The area involved is located at the extreme northwest limits of the village.

Hints on Updating of Your Home Insurance

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"Thanks for reminding me to update the insurance on what we have inside our house as well as on the house itself and particularly for including apartments," said my friend Ruth. "But you didn't go far enough. How do we get the most for the dollars we spend for homeowners' insurance coverage?"

In turn, my thanks to Ruth for asking a question I should have anticipated. To begin with, get these points straight:

—You're in the majority of 55 per cent if your home policy would pay for less than 80 per cent of your replacement cost.

—The probability is you are now seriously underinsured if you haven't increased your coverage within the past two to three years.

—To collect in full for loss or damage, your home must be insured to at least 80 per cent of its replacement value. If your coverage is far less than this (which is likely), your insurance would pay for only the depreciated value of your house and not its actual replacement cost.

To illustrate, if a fire in your 10-year-old house causes $10,000 of damage and if your house is seriously underinsured, you'll be reimbursed for $10,000 minus the amount by which the insurance adjuster decides your house has depreciated in the 10 years. And even if your house is fully insured to 80 per cent of its replacement cost, any personal property losses would be reimbursed not for their replacement value but rather for their actual, depreciated cash value — unless you have extra coverage for this personal property.

Here's a Guide

As a guideline, typical coverages on a homeowners' policy for a $20,000 house would be: at least $16,000 for the house itself (80 per cent of its value); $1,600 for garages and other buildings; $8,000 for personal property; $3,200 for extra living expenses; $25,000 in personal liability for each instance in which you are held liable; $500 in medical payments for each person injured on your property; $250 for physical damage you cause to the property of others.

Now here are basic buying hints:

Make sure the combined value of your especially valuable possessions — paintings, antiques, jewelry, etc. — falls within the limits of coverage of personal belongings, and if not, consider insuring them separately. Keep records, appraisals, other documentation of the value of such items in your safety deposit box to support any claim you might make later.

Don't overinsure your house by basing coverage on an inflated appraisal of its value or including the value of your building site, foundation or underground pipes and wiring in your valuation.

Take advantage of the deductibles available. You might cut your premium a full 20 per cent by raising your deductible from the typical $50 to $250.

If you're still buying separate insurance coverages for fire, theft and liability, recheck at once. Combining these in a homeowner's package can save you 20 to 30 per cent in premium costs.

Group Insurance

If you belong to a professional organization, find out if it offers low-cost group homeowner's insurance to members. The National Education Association, for instance, recently introduced this type of plan to teachers the nation over at a cost 15 to 20 per cent less than that of ordinary individual policies.

If you conclude your present homeowner's policy is inadequate, consider building this coverage by: (1) increasing the current overall limits of the coverage on your home and - or its contents; (2) adding a floater policy to give you extra coverage of valuable personal possessions; (3) simply asking for an increase in your personal liability coverage at a typical yearly cost of only $6 for an increase in coverage from $25,000 to $300,000.

Consider paying an extra 5 to 6 per cent in premiums for a new "inflation guard endorsement" in your homeowner's policy — a feature which would automatically increase your coverage as home replacement costs rise up to a maximum of 4 per cent a year. This inflation-proofing is now available in most states and is in line with a basic trend today.

And key hint of all: Don't risk finding out how drastically underinsured your home is the hardest, cruelest and most costly way.

Broken Nose Needs Immediate Attention

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the possible outcome if a broken nose is not set? How serious is it? Is blindness likely? — R.R.

A broken nose doesn't cause blindness.

There are two principal consequences if a nose is not set. One is deformity that is visible. That may be a crooked nose, a depression called a saddle nose, or some general flattening.

The other other common consequence is deformity inside the nose. The septum, or partition between the nostrils, consists of cartilage. It can be torn loose from its bony attachment, or it can become seriously deviated, or bent, with the airway (one side or both) becoming obstructed, interfering with breathing.

This in turn can cause subsequent troubles: recurrent infection, postnasal drainage or "drip," voice changes, nosebleeds. When such serious damage occurs to the septum, there usually is a lot of bleeding at the time of the fracture.

Thosteson

If a fracture is not correctly immediately, it should be checked within a very few days, after the bleeding has stopped, to have the nose set.

If there is too much delay, then surgical procedures may be necessary later on.

Maybe I should put it this way: if your nose is broken, or you think it may be, have it checked promptly, to have it set or to determine definitely whether it needs setting.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I enclose 25 cents and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope for bookelt, "How to Take Care of Your Heart." What should be the diet of a cardiac patient?—Mrs. C. W.

Diet for a heart patient isn't cimplicated as a rule—just a few points to keep in mind, and they will vary according to the individual, so let your doctor guide you on that.

Mainly: — Salt may be severely restricted if the patient has much swelling from edema (fluid accumulating in tissues).

— Reduction in calories may be necessary if the patient is overweight, but not otherwise.

— In coronary cases — if the patient has had a coronary occlusion of "heart attack" — cholesterol and excessive fats may need to be limited.

— Small but more frequent meals can make some heart patients more comfortable. But if the usual three meals a day do not cause discomfort, there's no point in changing. Big meals may provoke anginal pain or other distress.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter loves to ride horses and does so once or twice a week. A friend of mine had to discontinue riding because the doctor said it damaged her ovaries. My daughter says it's possible if you ride Western, because you bounce, but if you ride English you don't bounce so it can't hurt you. Is this true? —Mrs. R. M.

Not true, Whether you use an English or Western saddle, the ovaries are so well protected that they cannot be damaged by the bounce. (It is possible, of course, that your friend had some additional trouble that she didn't tell you about.)

Not to D.A.D.: Sorry, but no, it is not yet possible to transplant an entire eye.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." ## 2nd Ward Asked About One-Way

Second Ward Appleton residents are being asked for opinions on a proposal to convert Lawe and Meade streets to one-way traffic in opposite directions between College and Wisconsin avenues.

Ald. Walter Kalata is asking constituents along the two arteries to say whether they object to one-way limits on either street, and if they do to tell why.

Kalata distributed a questionaire this week to residents along the two streets.

The Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce has proposed the one-way arrangement as part of a long-range traffic program for the city and surrounding area.

Kalata pointed out in explaining the proposal that it still is in the talking stage, and that he wants constitutents' opinions for his own information, to use when the proposal comes up for serious consideration.

Triangle Catapults Eraser Toward Target

BY CAPPY DICK

A piece of art gum eraser, a pliable triangle and a drawing board that can be tipped to an upward slant are the equipment needed for the challenging stunt described as today's fun-project for boys and girls.

The object is to see who can propel the art gum up the slanted drawing board with just enough power to cause it to halt at the edge of the board without falling off. The triangle supplies the power.

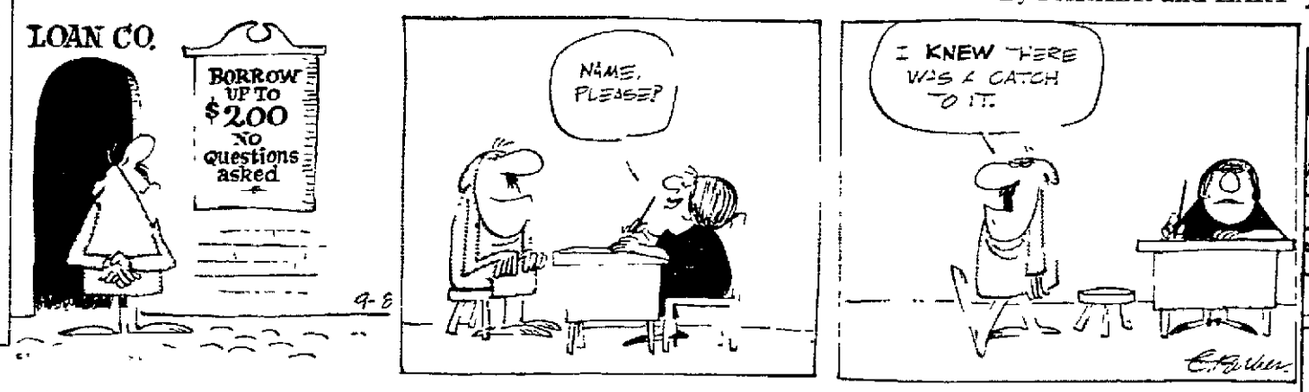

Figure 1 shows the game in action, but if the art gum is propelled with too much power, it will go beyond the top edge of the board as indicated by the arrow.

Figure 2 shows how to hold the triangle with one hand while bending it back slightly with the forefinger of the other hand. When the triangle is released by the forefinger, it will spring forward, strike the art gum and send it moving up the drawing board.

The player who succeeds in having the eraser stop nearest to the top edge of the board without falling off is the winner.

Bare-Faced Discrimination Is Adopted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The city school district has adopted a policy of bare-faced discrimination against the female sex.

From now on, girls who want to attend Lowell High School, which caters to the district's top scholars, must have a 3.25 grade point average.

Until this year, the 3.0 average aplied to both boys and girls.

The change was adopted, said Ralph Kauer, assistant superintendent of the district, to keep girls from overrunning Lowell. So many were qualifying with a 3.0 average that females threatened to monopolize enrollment.

Also, the school was running out of locker space in the girl's gymnasium dressing room.

"We didn't want Lowell to become a girls' high school," Kauer explained Thursday.

Even using the new admission standards, 1,577 girls have been admitted to Lowell this fall compared with 1,286 boys.

Last year there were 1,384 girls and 1,134 boys.

In 1962, there were only 62 more girls than boys.

School officials say they aren't sure whether girls are getting smarter than boys, or are just studying harder.

Appeals to be Heard

Supreme Court to Look At Laws Protecting Flag

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is headed into an emotional controversy over the American flag.

Two appeals from New York awaiting the justices' return next month provide pivotal tests of efforts to shield the flag from scorn or even use by radicals.

Historically, the flag has been an object of veneration for fervent patriots. But it's also been used as a political banner, as a call to arms, a symbol of injustice and as a target of mockery.

The question confronting the court is whether Americans can be sent to prison because of the way they use the flag.

Gallery Owner

In one case, the owner of a Madison Avenue art gallery, Stephen Radich, was convicted for exhibiting seven constructions by Marc Morrel, an artist and war protester who displayed the flag as a male sex organ. Radich was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

In the second case, four Long Island women and two organizations opposed to the Vietnam war have been threatened with prosecution by Nassau County District Atty. William Cahn for superimposing the traditional peace symbol upon a representation of the flag. Arrests for displaying the emblem are common in New York City.

Last year, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that the Constitution protects those who denounce the flag in words. The decision reversed the conviction of a Brooklyn bus driver who burned a flag in outrage after hearing James Meredith, a civil rights activist, had been ambushed and shot.

The court ducked, however, the issue whether people can be punished for burning or defacing the American flag.

Radich contends New York state's 1967 flag desecration law violates the First Amendment's free speech guarantee. He argues respect for the flag cannot be compelled in a free society.

The New York Court of Appeals disagreed in upholding his conviction on a 5-2 vote. The majority noted that "insults to a flag have been the cause of war," and said Radich cannot cast contempt upon the flag to express his views.

The Long Island war protesters are attacking another New York law, one that forbids placing any word, design or drawing upon the flag, whatever the purpose. This, they say, is an unconstitutional attempt to compel respect for the flag.

"In a free society no person should be compelled to make ritualistic obeisance to a trapping of the state, whether by being forced to salute it or by being forced to treat it as though it were the secular equivalent of a religious icon," their apeal says.

Last June, a federal court in New York City said the law could not be applied to the peace emblem because it was not a flag in a legal sense But the court said the law's prohibition against using the flag as a design did not violate the Constitution.

All the states and the federal government have laws that forbid the desecration of the flag. Their validity is at stake in the two appeals.

Credit Cards Good To Pay Student Fees

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Night school students at the University of Rochester can pay their tuition by credit card.

A university spokesman said that the new plan hopefully fould replace a deferred tuition arrangement. He said the advantage of using credit cards was that the school would get its money immediately.

Protest Parade Against Agnew To be Allowed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The city has granted three organizations permission for a protest parade and demonstration against Vice President Spiro Agnew, who visits Louisville next Tuesday.

Safety Director George C. Burton issued a parade permit Thursday to the Louisville Peace Council, the Committee for Survival at the University of Louisville and the Majority for a Silent Agnew.

Agnew is scheduled to speak at a $100-a-plate luncheon in behalf of Rep. William Cowger, a Republican running for re-election.

The Rev. Terrence Davis, who applied for the permit, said the groups plan an "organized and orderly" demonstration. In its parade application, the Louisville Peace Council said it would supply marshals as a safeguard against violence.

Agnew Talks to Wall Street Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew made an unannounced trip from Washington Thursday to lunch with Wall Street executives at the Bankers Club.

There was no official report on what he told the bankers and brokers present, but one listener said later Agnew talked on "Vietnam, Cambodia, and young liberals and radicals."

Legislation Piling Up

Training Crews to Cope With Hijackers Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — While security procedures attempt to weed out potential airplane hijackers before they get aboard, government and airlines officials are working on the tougher problem of foiling a hijacker and bringing him to trial.

Antihijacking legislation is piling up in Congress, and international extradition measures and airfield boycotts are being discussed at the United Nations and among intergovernmental organizations.

But one U.S. government official suggests the primary responsibility for solving the problem lies with the commercial airlines.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, told the International Aviation Club in Washington Thursday more is needed than armed guards aboard aircraft, and hijacker behavioral profiles in terminals.

"Every effort should be made to control the hijack while it is in progress," he said. "This should be a plan of attack in addition to armed guards, and development of such a plan lies squarely in the hands of the individual managements of the carriers themselves."

He said airplane crews should be trained to cope with a hijacker and take advantage of his confusion in the jungle of a modern jet.

The international problem of bringing a hijacker home to trial was being discussed today at the International Civil Aviation Organization council meeting in Montreal.

President Nixon sent a team headed by Secretary of Transportation John Volpe to urge all countries to suspend airline services with nations which detain passengers, crews or aircraft, or fail to extradite or prosecute hijackers.

Demands in U.N.

The U.N. General Assembly heard demands Thursday for international activity to stop aerial hijackings and kidnaping of diplomats.

In a related appeal, the president of the Air Line Pilots Association appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee to urge stern measures including an air boycott of uncooperative nations' to halt hijacking.

Charles Ruby, the pilots' spokesman, endorsed Nixon's decision to post armed guards on commercial flights, and advocated compulsory extradition of hijackers and even greater security measures than in wartime.

The committee will review a host of deterrent proposals, including Nixon's request for an additional $28 million to recruit and train 2,500 security guards to ride shotgun on commercial airliners. Another proposal would have United States airlines boycott nations that harbor or encourage aircraft hijackers.

Browne, the CAB chief, said even if an international agreement is worked out to prosecute hijackers or extradite them for trial, past experience shows there's a good chance they won't stand trial for hijacking.

39 Apprehended

Since 1961 there have been 160 hijackings and 63 unsuccessful attempts involving U.S. planes. Of the 39 individuals apprehended, he said, two were acquitted, nine are awaiting trial and 28 were convicted. But of the 28, many were not even tried for hijacking with its minimum penalty of 20 years and maximum sentence of death, and only eight received sentences of more than 20 years.

"That means the odds are at least 8 to 1 against landing in jail if you do decide to try to hijack an airliner, and even higher against your being tried under the hijacking law," Browne said.

Browne chided airlines for not putting into use a $600-a-unit weapons-detection system at their terminal facilities. He said Eastern Air Lines, which had been the victim of 16 hijackings and four attempts before the installation, has been victimized only once since.

"Perhaps the equipment isn't the best or most effective," he said, "but it is certainly better than doing nothing."

Anti-Hijack Web Nabs Gun-Toter at Airport

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — A tough antihijack security web has snared its first gun-toter at the Freeport International Airport.

All air travelers leaving Freeport, a sun-splashed tourist city of casinos in the blue Gulf Stream off Florida, face searches of their baggage and often themselves before boarding flights.

British Overseas Airway Corp. initiated on Sept. 8 the searches now conducted on passengers of every airline. BOAC passengers also face frisking and search of their baggage at Miami.

The first pistol packer caught by the search program was a young American convicted Thursday of trying to board a Pan American jet the day before with a gun in his pocket.

Paul Stephen, 24, of Port Chester, N.Y., was sentenced to three months hard labor by Magistrate John Cronin, who said from the bench that carrying of weapons onto planes "will not be tolerated." Stephan told the court he had made no effort to hid the .25—caliber pistol and that it was not loaded.

Salathial Thompson, deputy commissioner of police in Freeport said Stephan's pistol was found by an airline examiner after he had cleared customs at the airport.

Two or more inspectors, supplied by the participating airlines, are stationed "at every gate in the airport," Thompson said. "Baggage or hand luggage, anything being carried out, is searched." Inspectors are supplied by Air Canada, Pan American BOA C and a BOAC subsidiary, Bahamas Airways.

Male passengers, especially those wearing coats, are frisked by uniformed airlines workers.

Thompson said there had been no hijackings involving planes departing from Freeport, but added, "I don't think they should wait for one before they act."

Dismissal Sought

My Lai GI's Motion Heard

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has taken under advisement defense motions to dismiss charges of murder and indecent assault against Pvt. Gerald A. Smith, 22, of Chicago, one of the 10 soldiers charged in the alleged massacre at My Lai in South Vietnam.

Col. Richard L. Jones, presiding over Smith's pretrial hearing, said Thursday he felt dismissal on grounds of command influence or pretrial publicity would be "an extreme remedy."

The hearing was recessed until early October.

Smith's military attorneys, Capt. Robert K. Raulerson and Capt. Delmer C. Gowing, presented the motions for dismissal after showing more than seven hours of filmed television newscasts concerning the alleged massacre.

Jones said there was no question that the My Lai case has "had more publicity than any case in the history of the world."

He said, however, that he cannot rule on the motion to dismiss charges until he can question prospective court-martial board members and gauge the impact of pretrial publicity upon them.

Much of the newsfilm shown had been presented as vidence earlier this year at a pretrial hearing for Lt. William L. Calley, 27, of Miami, Fla., another of the soldiers charged in the alleged massacre.

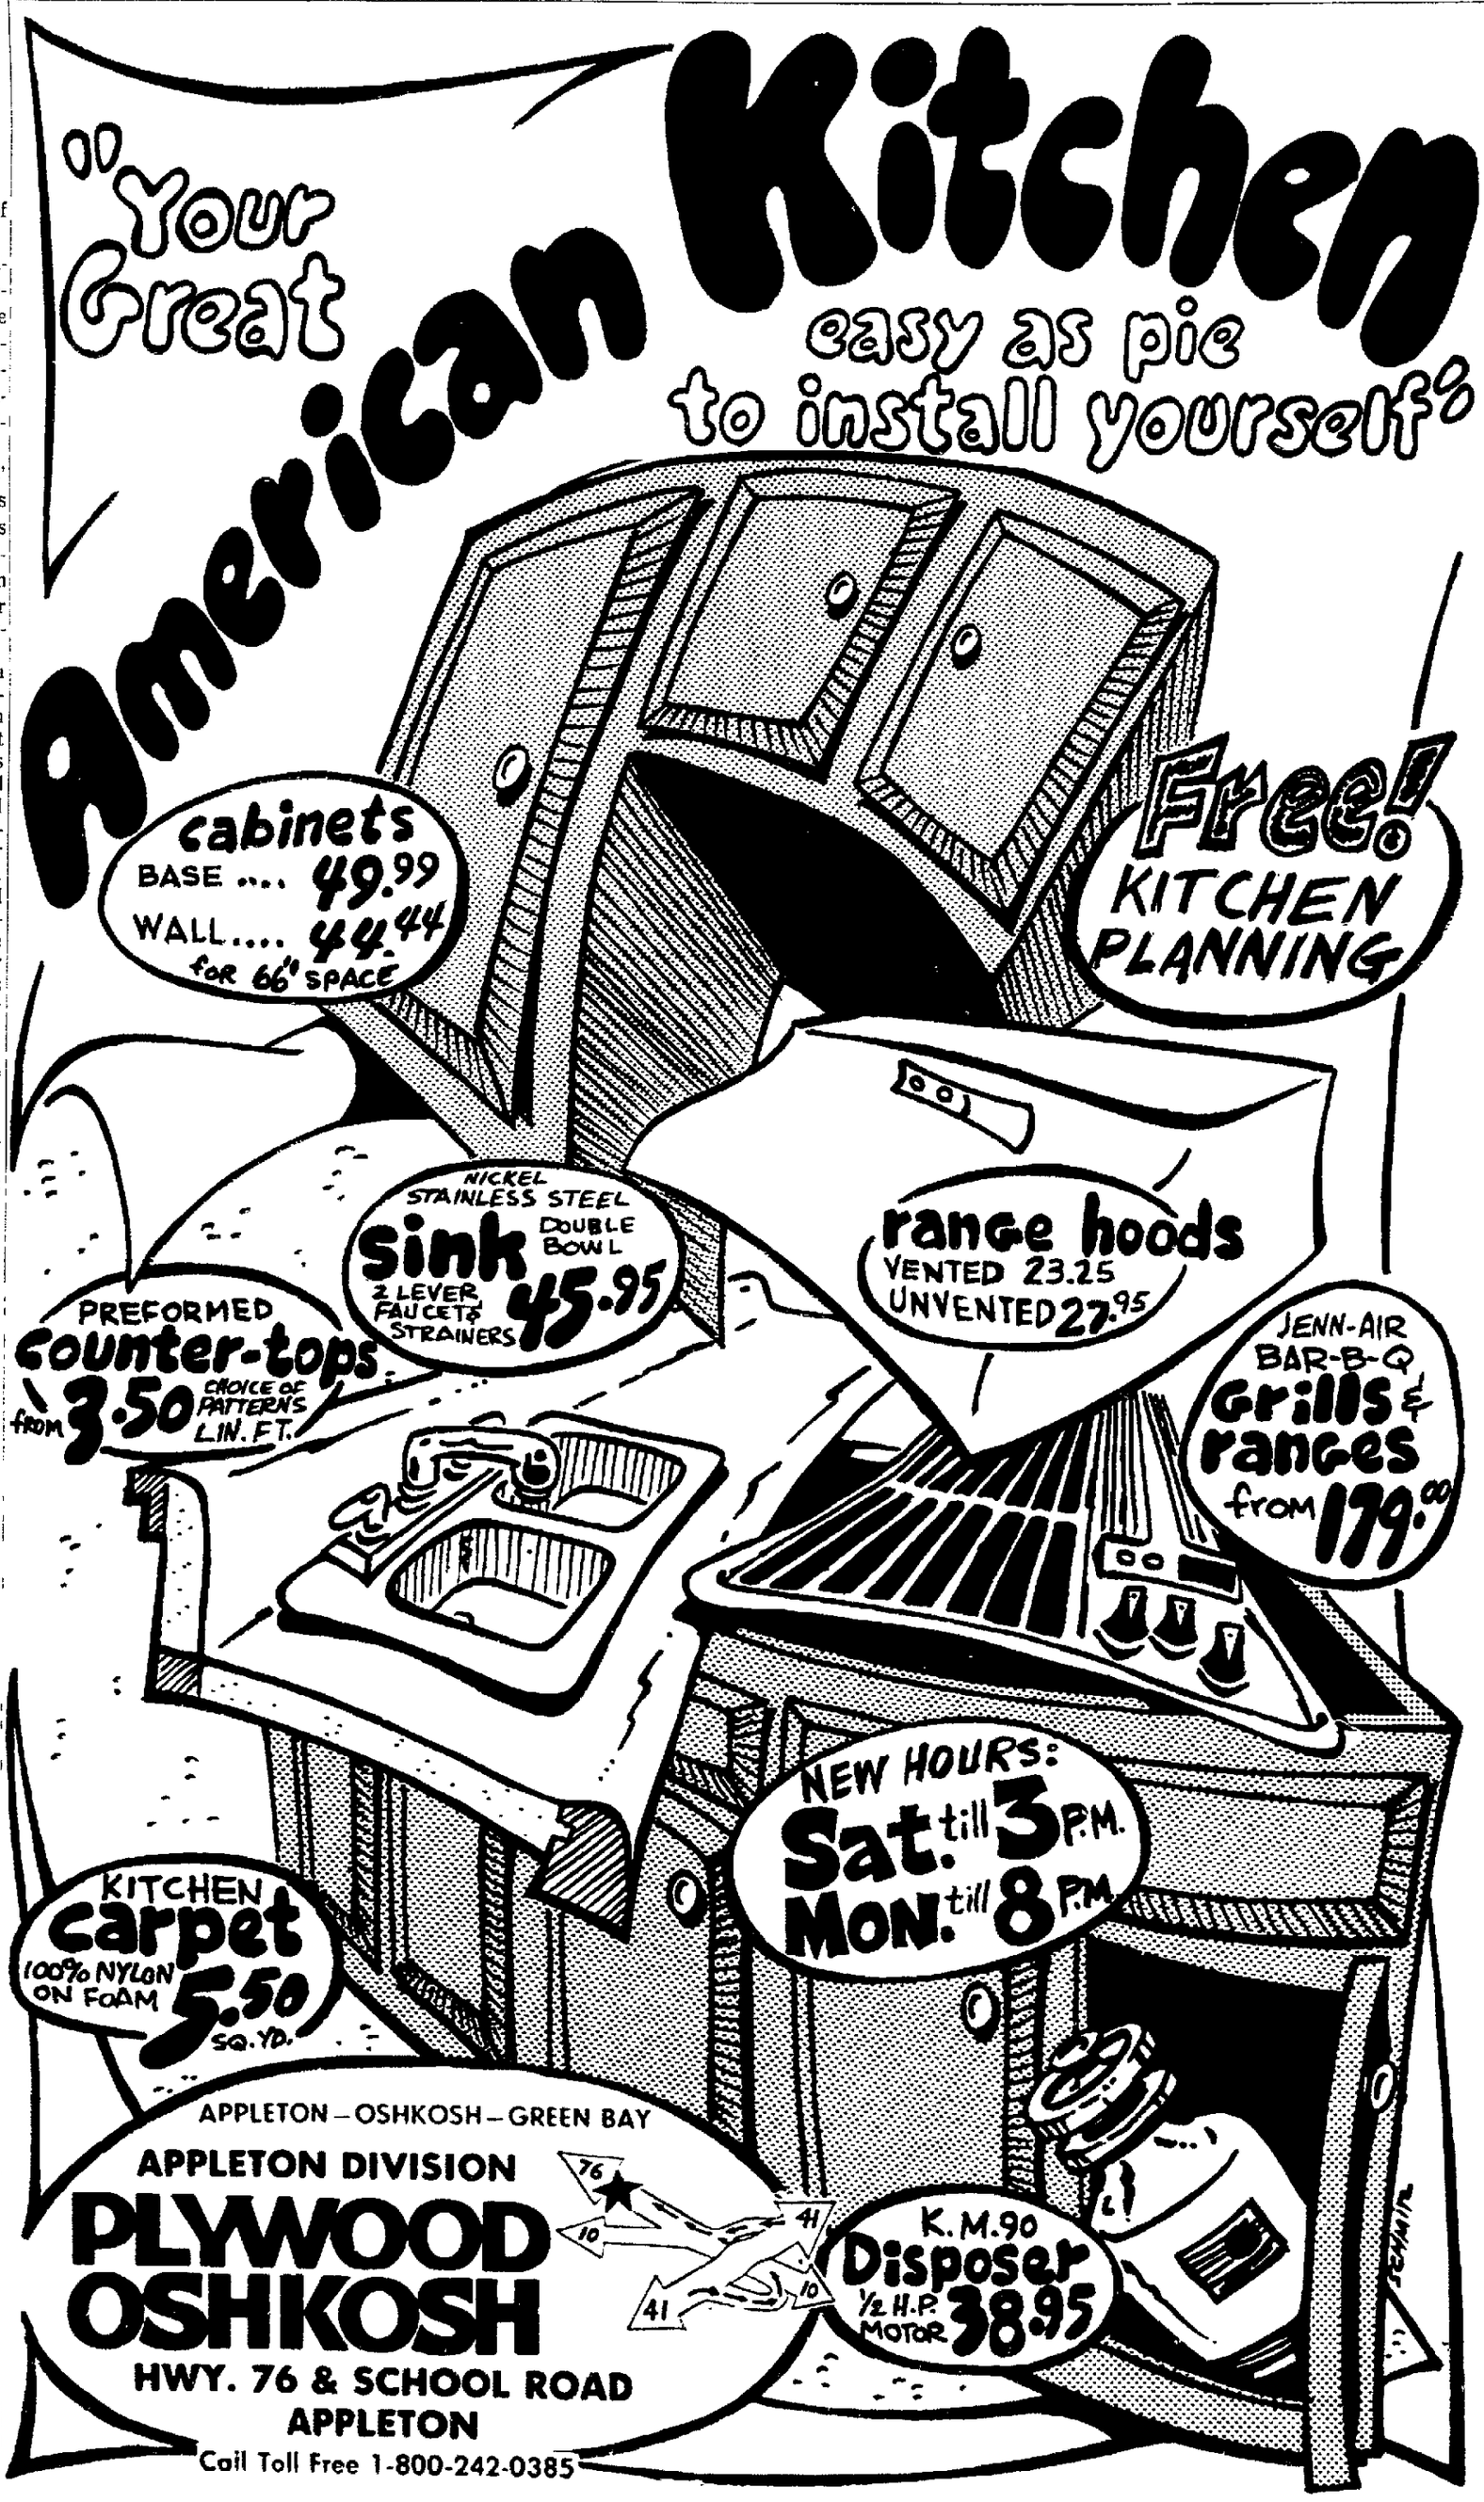

Calley's appeal for dismissal of charges, also based on the prejudicial publicity contention, was rejected.

The "command influence" motion refers to statements by President Nixon and high Army officials.

At Ft. Hood, Tex., a hearing was held Thursday on a similar motion on behalf of S. Sgt. David Mitchell, 30, charged with assault with intent to murder at My Lai.

The military judge, Col. George R. Robinson, viewed 84 television network newscasts involving the alleged massacre.
